Polar Express Pictures Book:

Children's Literature Barbara Stoodt, 1996 The Final Four of Everything Mark Reiter, Richard Sandomir, 2009-12-15
Edited by Mark Reiter and Richard Sandomir and featuring contributions from experts on everything from breakfast cereal and movie gunfights to First Ladies and bald guys The Final Four of Everything celebrates everything that's great, surprising or silly in America using the foolproof method of bracketology to determine what we love or hate and why. As certain to make you laugh as it will start friendly arguments The Final Four of Everything is the perfect book for know-it-all's, know-a-littles and anyone with an opinion on celebrity mugshots, literary heroes, sports nicknames or bacon. Bracketology is a unique way of organizing information that dates back to the rise of the knockout or single elimination tournament, perhaps in medieval times. Its origins are not precisely known, but there was genius in the first bracket design that hasn't changed much over the years. You of course may be familiar with the bracket format via the NCAA basketball tournament pairings each March. If you've ever watched ESPN or participated in a March Madness office pool, you know what a bracket looks like. The Final Four of Everything takes the idea one step further and applies the knockout format to every category BUT basketball. In areas where taste, judgment and hard-earned wisdom really matter, we've set out to determine truly the Final Four of Everything.

Teaching Visual Literacy Nancy Frey, Douglas Fisher, 2008-01-09 This book puts into practice what we've long known but often ignored: one picture is indeed worth a thousand words. The chapters offer a practical look at how images in all their many forms can be used to motivate reluctant readers. Donna E. Alvermann, Distinguished Research Professor, University of Georgia. Just as vision entails more than seeing, being visually literate means that students can interpret and reflect upon images as well as words. These strategies will help your students develop the literacy they need for this brave new century. Carol Jago, Director, California Reading and Literature Project, University of California, Los Angeles. Spark students' interest in reading and help them become critical consumers of visual information. Today's students live in an increasingly visual world where they are engaged not only by words but also by images. This collection of innovative articles shows classroom teachers and literacy specialists how to use students' interest in picture books, comics, graphic novels, film, anime and other visual media to motivate and engage readers in Grades K-12. Teaching Visual Literacy offers background information, research, practical ideas and sample lessons to help educators capture the attention of learners and boost their critical thinking skills. Support and strengthen multiple competencies in literacy. Help students comprehend and assess visual information. Reach students with disabilities and extend their understanding. Visual literacy is an integral part of literacy development and this much-needed classroom companion helps teachers engage students as critical readers and prepare them for living in the twenty-first century. Let's Learn and Play!, Ages 2 - 5 Gunzenhauser, 2010-06-11 Prepare opportunities for purposeful play with students in grades PK-K using Let's Learn and Play. This 160-page book is a comprehensive resource for creating purposeful play centers that help students solve problems, experiment, navigate social situations and prepare for learning. These well designed modifiable center ideas allow teachers to put a personal stamp on the classroom The book supports NAEYC standards After the Story's Over Linda K. Garrity,1991 Educational resource for teachers parents and kids
