

All That Was Her

Where's she gone, the one we knew,
The one we knew and loved,
Who knew us all and loved us all –
Where now is all that love?

Where now her smile? Where now her frown?
Her bright, resounding laugh?
Ah, all are gone, by time undone;
All that was her is past.

Down the stream we drifted,
And saw her on the shore;
Around a bend we drifted,
And saw her then no more.

And yet still she stands there
Still stands beside the shore.

Poems For Female Funeral:

English Women's Poetry, 1649-1714 Carol Barash, 1996 This is the first study to reconstruct the political origins of English women's poetry between the execution of Charles I and the death of Queen Anne Carol Barash's book shows that between Katherine Philips 1632-64 and Anne Finch Countess of Winchelsea 1661-1720 an English women's poetic tradition developed as part of the larger political shifts in these years and particularly in women writers' fascination with the figure of the female monarch Writers discussed include Aphra Behn Katherine Philips Anne Killigrew Jane Barker and Anne Finch Based on extensive archival research in England and the United States English Women's Poetry 1649-1714 argues that ideas about women's voices and women's communities were crucial to the shaping of an English national literature after the civil wars Women enter print culture as poets and as women by situating their writing in defence of embattled monarchy Women poets are especially fascinated with the figure of the female monarch both real and mythic Their sense of poetic legitimacy derives from the communities they generate around figures of female authority particularly James II's second wife Mary of Modena and later Queen Anne

SPECIAL OFFER 30% discount for a complete set order 5 vols The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series total contents Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross-cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age Transforming Loss into Beauty Marlé Hammond, Dana Sajdi, 2008-05-01 The contributors to this wide ranging work of scholarship and analysis include mentors colleagues friends and students of the late Magda al Nowaihi an outstanding scholar of Middle East studies whose diverse interests and energy inspired numerous colleagues The book's first part is devoted to Arabic elegy the subject of an unfinished work by al Nowaihi from which this volume takes its title Included here is a previously unpublished lecture on elegy delivered by al Nowaihi herself Other contributors examine this poetic form in both classical and modern contexts from a number of angles including the partial feminization of the genre making this volume perhaps the most comprehensive resource on the Arabic elegy available in English The book's second half features essays relating to al Nowaihi's other research interests especially the modern Arabic novel and its transgressive and marginalized status as literature It deals with authors as varied as Tawfiq al Hakim Latifa al Zayyat Bensalem Himmich and Sonallah Ibrahim Broad in its scope and rigorous in its scholarship this volume makes a fitting tribute to an inspiring scholar Contributors Roger Allen Dina Amin Michael Beard Jonathan P Decter Alexander E Elinson Marl Hammond Andr's H mori Mervat Hatem Wolfhart Heinrichs Richard Jacquemond Lital Levy Mara Naaman Magda al Nowaihi Dana Sajdi and Christopher Stone

Hull, Akasha Gloria Hull, 1987-06-22 Focusing on the lives and writings of Alice Dunbar Nelson Angelina Weld Grimke and Georgia Douglas Johnson the author examines the overall place of women in the Harlem Renaissance and the intersection of gender and race in their poetry Hull chose these women not only because of their unique individualities but because they represent black women writers struggling against unfavorable odds to create their personal and artistic selves She demonstrates the linkages among the three writers and how each one in turn interacted with other leading black women fiction writers such as Nella Larson and Jessie Fanset She also examines the significance of these three women poets as literary ancestors to Gwendolyn Brooks Mari Evans Nikki Giovanni Audre Lourde and Sonia Sanchez ISBN 0 253 34974 5 29 95 ISBN 0 253 20430 5 pbk 10 95

Singing the Dead Reyes Bertolín Cebrián, 2006 This book outlines the evolution of Greek heroic epic from funeral laments and creates a model for epic evolution using Greek other Indo European and non Indo European materials Singing the Dead conceives the epic as a post Mycenaean phenomenon associated with the first migrations away from the ancestors tombs to the Ionian coast Physical separation from the tombs impelled the development of narration concerning the ancestors and the rite at the tomb was substituted by stories that eventually became epic

Medieval Woman's Song Anne L. Klinck, Ann Marie Rasmussen, 2015-08-06 The number of surviving medieval secular poems attributed to named female authors is small some of the best known being those of the trobairitz the female troubadours of southern France However there is a large body of poetry that constructs a particular textual femininity through the use of the female voice Some of these poems are by men and a few by women including the trobairitz many are anonymous and often the gender of the poet is unresolvable A woman's song in this sense can be defined as a female voice poem on the subject of love typically characterized by simple language sexual candor and apparent artlessness The chapters in Medieval Woman's Song bring together scholars in a range of disciplines to examine how both men and women contributed to this art form Without eschewing consideration of authorship the collection deliberately overturns the long standing scholarly practice of treating as separate and distinct entities female voice lyrics composed by men and those composed by women What is at stake here is less the voice of women themselves than its cultural and generic construction

offers a comprehensive review of six hundred and fifty women writers from over fifty national traditions spanning Europe and the Americas during the transformative years of 1776 to 1848 Framed by revolutionary upheavals the book explores how women writers shaped and reflected Romanticism's global currents It fills a critical scholarly gap connecting disparate traditions and uncovering voices often overlooked in male dominated literary histories Through concise entries the book names every woman writer identified in its vast research from celebrated figures like Phillis Wheatley to lesser known authors whose manuscripts lay buried in archives Each entry provides essential biographical details while select excerpts in seventeen languages bring these voices to life revealing how women navigated the era's revolutionary ideals and patriarchal barriers Structured democratically the volume treats all writers equally whether anonymous pseudonymous or celebrated in their time It highlights their diverse experiences poets and novelists abolitionists and suffragists mothers and mill workers From memoirs to political tracts their works testify to the rich tapestry of women's contributions to Romanticism By illuminating these stories this book challenges national silos offering a panoramic view of Romanticism as a truly transnational female inclusive phenomenon It represents a go to resource for students and interested readers while setting the ground for future scholars to expand this vital field of study

Japan Gary L. Ebersole, 2020-09-01 This examination of death rituals in early Japan finds in the practice of double burial a key to understanding the Taika Era 645-710 A.D.
