Inferring With Poetry

I am a _____.

I swim in the sea,
Flipping and shining.
Can you see me?
Now you do,
And now you don't.
Try and catch me-
You won't, you won't!

I jump in the air
And feel so free,
Twisting and turning.
Can you see me?
Now you do,
And now you don't.
Try and catch me-
You won't, you won't!

Savage Landor ranked her Summer Evening's Meditation among the finest poems in the English language. Barbauld's poems have retained their capacity to delight readers; they are witty, learned, imaginative, and unpredictable in both choice and treatment of subject. Read as a whole, this collection reveals a striking variety of style and voice and provides the basis for a major and long overdue reevaluation of Barbauld's poetry. McCarthy and Kraft present unmodernized texts of the poems that reflect as nearly as possible the author's final intention and give variant readings in textual notes. A lengthy introduction includes a discussion of the poems, a history of their composition and publication, and an outline of Barbauld's life and writing career.
