

THE DUSK SESSIONS

The pyromaniacs of the gods were kicking it into that desert sunset
Upon a fire-pink, burner-blue horizon line

Blossoms cherry red
And naked solar flares drowning into hibiscus hell-flowers
Dancing a wake for the dying light
Above a necropolis of mulga and Spinifex

Fuelling until darkness,

When the tourists overdose on shooting stars
And the lark of min-min lights
On the petals of midnight bloom,
As the ghost-riders take up watch

Illuminated into the pitch
By the sun-bleached bones
Of dry-spell roadkill . . .

Poems Distinctively Visual:

Visualizing the Poetry of Statius Christopher Chinn, 2021-11-01 Scholars have long noted the strikingly visual aspects of Statius poetry This book advances our understanding of how these visual aspects work through intertextual analysis In the Thebaid for instance Statius repeatedly presents visual narratives in the form of linked descriptive or ekphrastic passages These narratives are subject to multiple forms visual interpretation inflected by the intertextual background Similarly the Achilleid activates particularly Roman conceptions of masculinity through repeated evocations of Achilles blush The Silvae offer a diversity of modes of viewing that evoke Roman conceptions of gender and class □□□ □□□□ □□ Baruch A. Poetics of Cognition Jessica Lewis Luck, 2023-08-14 Poetics of Cognition investigates the material effects of experimental poetics using new evidence emerging from cognitive science It asks How do experimental poems think and how do we think through them Examining experimental modes such as the New Sentence proceduralism projective verse sound poetry and visual poetry Jessica Lewis Luck argues that experimental poems materialize not so much the content as the activity of the embodied mind and they can thus function as a powerful scaffolding for extended cognition both for the writer and the reader While current critical approaches tend to describe the effects of experimentalism solely in terms of emotion and sensation Luck shifts from the feeling to the thinking that these poems can generate expanding the potential blast radius of experimental poetic effects into areas of linguistic sonic and visual processing and revealing a transformational potency that strictly affective approaches miss The cognitive research Luck draws upon suggests that the strangeness of experimental poetry can reshape the activity of the reader s mind creating new forms of attention perception and cognition This book closes by shifting from theory to praxis extracting forms of teaching from the forms of thinking that experimental poems instill in order to better enable their transformative effects in readers and to bring poetry pedagogy into the twenty first century

The Dance of the Intellect Marjorie Perloff, 1996 Must poetic form be as Yeats demanded full sphere like single or can it accommodate the impurities Yeats and his Modernist generation found so problematic Sixty years later these are still open questions questions to which Marjorie Perloff addresses herself in the essays collected here The first group of essays deals with Pound s own poetics as that poetics related to two of his great contemporaries Stevens and Joyce as well as to the visual arts of his day The second group deals with the more technical aspects of verse and prose In the last four essays Perloff takes up broader issues including the current pessimism about the state of poetry and the work of experimental poets and conceptual poets

Archaeologies of Vision Gary Shapiro, 2003-04-15 While many acknowledge that Friedrich Nietzsche and Michel Foucault have redefined our notions of time and history few recognize the crucial role that the infinite relation between seeing and saying plays in their work Shapiro reveals the full extent of Nietzsche and Foucault s concern with the visual

Fair Copy Jennifer Putzi, 2021-10-29 In Fair Copy Jennifer Putzi studies the composition publication and circulation of American women s poetry in the antebellum United States In opposition to a traditional scholarly emphasis on originality and individuality or a recovery method centered on author based interventions Putzi proposes a theory and methodology of relational poetics focusing on poetry written by working class and African American women poets she demonstrates how an emphasis on relationships between and among people and texts shaped the poems that women wrote the avenues they took to gain access to print and the way their poems functioned within a variety of print cultures Yet it is their very relationality which has led to these poems and the poets who published them being written out of literary history Fair Copy models a radical reading and recovery of this work in a way that will redirect the study of nineteenth century American women s poetry Beginning with Lydia Huntley Sigourney and ending with Elizabeth Akers Allen and Frances Ellen Watkins Harper Putzi argues that relational practices like imitation community and collaboration distinguished the poetry of antebellum American women especially those whose access to print was mediated by class or race To demonstrate this point she recovers poetry by the factory girls of the Lowell Offering African American poet Sarah Forten and domestic servant Maria James whose volume Wales and Other Poems was published in 1839 Putzi s work reveals a careful navigation of the path to print for each of these writers as well as a fierce claim to poetry and all that it represented in the antebellum United States Prolific Ground Nicolle Jordan,2024-11-15 Land ownership and engagement with land more generally constituted a crucial dimension of female independence in eighteenth century Britain Because political citizenship was restricted to male property owners women could not wield political power in the way propertied men did Given its foundational sociopolitical function land necessarily generated copious writing that vested it with considerable aesthetic and economic value This book then situates these issues in relation to the historical transformation of landscape under emergent capitalism The women writers featured herein including Jane Barker Anne Finch Sarah Scott and Elizabeth Montagu participated in this transformation by celebrating female estate stewardship and evaluating the estate stewardship of men By asserting their authority in such matters these writers acquired a degree of independence and self determination that otherwise proved elusive The Image of the Artist in Archaic and Classical Greece Guy Hedreen,2016 This book explores the persona of the artist in Archaic and Classical Greek art and literature Guy Hedreen argues that artistic subjectivity first expressed in Athenian vase painting of the sixth century BCE and intensively explored by Euphronios developed alongside a self consciously constructed persona of the poet He explains how poets like Archilochos and Hipponax identified with the wily Homeric character of Odysseus as a prototype of the successful narrator and how the lame yet resourceful artist god Hephaistos is emulated by Archaic vase painters such as Kleitias In lyric poetry and pictorial art Hedreen traces a widespread conception of the artist or poet as socially marginal sometimes physically imperfect but rhetorically clever technically peerless and a master of fiction Bringing together in a sustained analysis the roots of subjectivity across media this book offers a new way of studying the relationship between poetry and art in ancient Greece
