1. Which lab process cannot not be a part of a process that is represented in the diagram below?

- ☐ Inspiration ☐ photosynthesis
☐ digestion ☐ replication

2. In order for bacterial cells to grow, oxygen is not always used. Which of the following is not a way that bacteria can grow without oxygen from cells?

- ☐ release water through ATP
☐ build up the cell membrane
☐ make the more enzymes
☐ have the more water

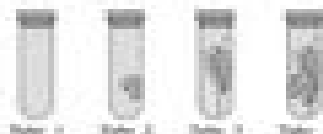

3. A student prepared 4 test tubes containing yeast, glucose, and water. After 24 hours, the test tubes were analyzed for the presence of several substances.

What substance would the student expect to find if respiration occurred in the test tubes?

- ☐ H_2 because ☐ water
☐ oxygen ☐ carbon dioxide

4. How does yeast use the following equation in the fermentation and alcoholic fermentation and its knowledge of biology?

The yeast below shows that one tube, Tube 1 contains water only. Tube 2 contains a first yeast. Tube 3 contains a first yeast and glucose. Tube 4 contains both a first yeast and glucose and a first yeast.

5. In this setup, which tube contains at least the ingredients necessary for cellular respiration?

- ☐ tubes 1 and 2 only
☐ tubes 2 and 4 only

CELLULAR RESPIRATION #2

1. The diagram below shows part of the human body. Which organ system is the lung in contact with the external air?

The organ system in contact with the external air is the:

- ☐ exchange of H_2O and the living organism
☐ blood flowing through the lungs
☐ CO_2 molecules produced during cellular respiration
☐ tissue that is connected to the lungs

2. How does yeast use the following equation in the fermentation and alcoholic fermentation and its knowledge of biology?

A student is preparing and checking cell cultures in part of a lab activity. The student begins to experience muscle fatigue, and the rate at which the student is breathing and clearing the cell cultures.

In order for the student to begin to work the muscle cells need to be provided with:

- ☐ oxygen ☐ glucose
☐ carbon dioxide ☐ water only

3. In the human body, which organ system is the source of oxygen that can be transported to cells throughout the body? Which organ system will most likely result in the production of:

- ☐ less ATP ☐ less glucose
☐ more ATP ☐ more glucose

4. A student (labeled "liver") after school and found that the student's heart rate was 100 beats per minute. The student's heart rate was 100 beats per minute. The student's heart rate was 100 beats per minute.

- ☐ the heart beating too fast and being out
☐ the lungs accumulating oxygen
☐ body of oxygen and build up of oxygen in the muscles
☐ body of carbon dioxide in the muscles

5. How does yeast use the following equation in the fermentation and alcoholic fermentation and its knowledge of biology?

A student is preparing and checking cell cultures in part of a lab activity. The student begins to experience muscle fatigue, and the rate at which the student is breathing and clearing the cell cultures.

In order for the student to begin to work the muscle cells need to be provided with:

- ☐ oxygen ☐ glucose
☐ carbon dioxide ☐ water only

6. A student was jumping rope and found that her heart was beating faster. The student's heart rate was probably increased as a result of:

- ☐ a decrease in the need to provide more nutrients to muscle cells
☐ an increase in the number of red blood cells circulating through the body
☐ an increase in the need to provide more nutrients to muscle cells

Cell Functions Michael Carter, Lifelique, 2019 This 105 minute lesson plan explains how cellular respiration works and how it relates to photosynthesis Cellular Respiration Lifelique, 2019 This 70 minute lesson plan covers cellular respiration with a focus glycolysis Cellular Respiration A. Malcolm Campbell, Christopher J. Paradise, 2016-03-28 What happens to a meal after it is eaten Food consists primarily of lipids proteins and carbohydrates sugars How do cells in the body process food once it is eaten and turned it into a form of energy that other cells can use This book examines some of the classic experimental data that revealed how cells break down food to extract the energy Metabolism of food is regulated so that energy extraction increases when needed and slows down when not needed This type of self regulation is all part of the complex web of enzymes that convert food into energy Adding to this complexity is that all food eventually winds up as two carbon bits that are all processed the same way This book will also reveal why animals breathe oxygen and how that relates to the end of the energy extraction process and oxygen's only role in the body Rather than look at all the details this book takes a wider view and shows how cellular respiration is self regulating The Effect of Laboratory Experimentation Along with Graphical and Data Analysis on the Learning of Photosynthesis and Cellular Respiration in a High School Biology Classroom Marie Lynn Jasper, 2007 A Unit on Photosynthesis and Cellular Respiration for Secondary Biology Students Kathy R.
