Leningrad Poetry 1953-1975 Emily Lygo, 2010 Based on author's Ph D thesis from University of Oxford 2005 Major Poems of the Hebrew Bible Jan Fokkelman, 2018-07-17 This book presents a comprehensive discussion of three famous poems which are studied as works of art A full description of their prosodic regularity as well as the variations on it is given and goes hand in hand with a detailed structural analysis of the lower and higher textual units Great care is taken to find the correct delimitation of cola half verses verses strophes and stanzas and in the case of Deut 32 of its four big sections after which all things fall into place The articulation of the higher units underpins the discursive or argumentative structure of Deut 32 and Job 3 and is a solid basis for an interpretation that tries to honour the thematic developments in these songs In the case of Ex 15 of which the stanzaic division is already known the attention shifts to the lower levels The contours and rhythms of its short cola and its verses and strophes are studied and accounted for The chapter on Job 3 has a special feature The count of premasoretic syllables is shown to be an essential part of the numerical perfection of this poem A major point of departure for this book which is corroborated by its results is that these poems are so complex read of such many layered significance that they cannot be given their due by a simple set of techniques or fixed canon of interpretive procedures This poetry requires a flexible approach which tries to cover the full range of its brilliant usage of language style and structure

Prose Poetry and the City Donna Stonecipher, 2017-11-20 In this fascinating book Donna Stonecipher doubles down on the development of prose poetry and the city Tactically her sweeping complex yet meticulous essay engages Baudelaire s sudden or is it sudden incursion from the constraints of verse into the roominess of prose paragraphs of place while linking civic horizontality and corporate verticality Tracking possibilities m using everything from architecture to landscape to cookbooks fl neur like her essay exuberantly and expertly gathers together rhizomatic threads of thinkers and poets of the last two centuries Reads like a song Norma Cole This fascinating exploration of the prose poem begins with a question that most other studies have overlooked or taken for granted What if anything do cities and prose poetry have to do with each other Donna Stonecipher s touchstone for this question is Charles Baudelaire s prose poems in Le Spleen de Paris but her excavation of the relationship between the built environment of prose poem and city moves backwards to ancient Greece and forwards to the new sentence As Stonecipher unpacks the dialogic space of the prose poem her essay moves vertically and horizontally providing histories of the skyscraper and the aesthetics and ethics of vertical ascension and much else As she moves nimbly through large swaths of intellectual architectural urban and aesthetic history Stonecipher engages debates central to poetics and to modernity itself taking seriously the challenge of considering how aesthetic forms register respond to and transform their built social and historical environments An indispensable and enlightening guide that is also a pleasure to read Susan Rosenbaum
