Paraliterary Merve Emre,2017-11-16 Literature departments are staffed by and tend to be focused on turning out good readers attentive to nuance aware of history interested in literary texts as self contained works But the vast majority of readers are to use the author s tongue in cheek term bad readers They read fiction and poetry to be moved distracted instructed improved engaged as citizens The author of this book argues that we should think of such readers not as non literary but as paraliterary thriving outside the institutions we take as central to the literary world She traces this phenomenon to the postwar period when literature played a key role in the rise of American power At the same time as American universities were producing good readers by the hundreds many more thousands of bad readers were learning elsewhere to be disciplined public communicators whether in diplomatic and ambassadorial missions private and public cultural exchange programs multinational corporations or global activist groups As we grapple with literature s diminished role in the public sphere she suggests a new way to think about literature its audience and its potential one that looks at the civic institutions that have long engaged readers ignored by the academy

Eight Ways of Loving God Jeanette Flood, 2019-05-14 There is growing awareness that different people have different love languages What about God Does He have a love language Jeanette Flood answers this question by looking at the life and teachings of Jesus With a conversational style and a dose of good humor she describes eight love languages with fresh spiritual analogies and lessons from her own life This work reveals that being a Christian means being in a relationship of love with Love Himself Drawing on Scripture Church teachings and insights of the saints it inspires readers to follow Saint Paul s advice to the Ephesians to learn what is pleasing to the Lord Eph 5 10

Contested Records Michael Leong, 2020-05-13 Why have so many contemporary poets turned to source material from newspapers to governmental records as inspiration for their poetry How can citational poems offer a means of social engagement Contested Records analyzes how some of the most well known twenty first century North American poets work with fraught documents Whether it s the legal paperwork detailing the murder of 132 African captives state transcriptions of the last words of death row inmates or testimony from miners and rescue workers about a fatal mine disaster author Michael Leong reveals that much of the power of contemporary poetry rests in its potential to select adapt evaluate and extend public documentation Examining the use of documents in the works of Kenneth Goldsmith Vanessa Place

Amiri Baraka Claudia Rankine M NourbeSe Philip and others Leong reveals how official records can evoke a wide range of emotions from hatred to veneration from indifference to empathy from desire to disgust He looks at techniques such as collage plagiarism re reporting and textual outsourcing and evaluates some of the most loved and reviled contemporary North American poems Ultimately Leong finds that if bureaucracy and documentation have the power to police and traumatize through the exercise of state power then so too can document based poetry function as an unofficial counterhegemonic and popular practice that authenticates marginalized experiences at the fringes of our cultural memory
