Reading Network Fiction:

Reading Network Fiction David Ciccoricco, 2007-11-25 Ciccoricco analyzes innovative developments in network fiction from first generation writers Michael Joyce Twilight a symphony 1997 and Stuart Moulthrop Victory Garden 1991 through Judd Morrissey's The Jew's Daughter 2000 an acclaimed example of digital literature in its latter instantiations on the Web Each investigation demonstrates not only what the digital environment might mean for narrative theory but also the ability of network fictions to sustain a mode of reading that might arguably be called literary BOOK JACKET Reading Digital Fiction Alice Bell, Astrid Ensslin, 2024-04-18 Reading Digital Fiction offers the first comprehensive and systematic theoretical methodological and analytical examination of digital fiction from a cognitive and empirical perspective Proposing the new concept of medial reading it argues for the centrality of an audience's interest in awareness of and/or attention to the medium in which a text is produced and received and which we argue should be applied to reader data across media The book analyses and theorises five generations of digital fiction and their reading including hypertext fiction hypermedia fiction narrative video games app fiction and virtual reality It showcases medium and platform specific methods of qualitative reader response research across a variety of contexts and settings from screen based and embodied interaction to gallery installation and from reading group and individual interview to think aloud methodologies The book thus addresses the unique affordances of digital fiction reading by designing and reporting on new empirical studies focusing on hypertextuality interactivity immersion as well as medium specific forms of textual ontological ambiguity reader orientation and empathy In so doing the book refines critiques and expands cognitive transmedial and empirical narratology and stylistics by placing the reader of these new narratives front and centre The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Analyzing Digital Fiction Alice Bell, Astrid Ensslin, Hans Rustad, 2013-12-17 Written for and read on a computer screen digital fiction pursues its verbal discursive and conceptual complexity through the digital medium It is fiction whose structure form and meaning are dictated by the digital context in which it is produced and requires analytical approaches that are sensitive to its status as a digital artifact Analyzing Digital Fiction offers a collection of pioneering analyses based on replicable methodological frameworks Chapters include analyses of hypertext fiction Flash fiction Twitter fiction and videogames with approaches taken from narratology stylistics semiotics and ludology Essays propose ways in which digital environments can expand challenge and test the limits of literary theories which have until recently predominantly been based on models and analyses of print texts Reading Circles, Novels and Adult Reading Development Sam Duncan, 2012-02-23 Adult literacy teachers are constantly searching for effective engaging and distinctly adult ways to develop adult emergent reading and for at least the past two hundred years adults have formed themselves into reading circles to read and discuss novels on a weekly or monthly basis Why then are reading circles rarely used or studied in formal adult literacy provision This book explores adult reading development novel reading and reading circles in the context of a wider examination of reading pedagogies and practices in the English speaking world It discusses reading as both an individual and a communal act and investigates the relationship between literature and literacy development practice and pedagogy including a reassessment of the controversial approaches of reading aloud and phonics for adults Sam Duncan reviews a case study of an adult reading circle in a large London further education college and identifies the wider implications for the teaching and learning of adult emergent reading for the use and understanding of reading circles and for how we understand the novel reading experience more broadly Frank O'Hara Now Robert Hampson, Will

Montgomery, 2022-04-02 Frank O Hara s writing is central to any consideration of 20th century American poetry This collection of essays the first to be dedicated to O Hara in nearly two decades asks why O Hara remains so important to 21st century readers and writers of poetry The book is transatlantic in tone combining American scholarship with a wide sampling of British writers For many O Hara s distinctive appeal depends on his witty depictions of urban experience his relationship to the painters of Abstract Expressionism and the exhilarating immediacy of his poetic voice Yet these chatty and approachable qualities coexist with a testing engagement with currents in European and American modernism Frank O Hara Now offers a comprehensive picture of the poet presenting the conversational insouciance of the writing alongside its more intransigent features Networks of Modernism Wesley Beal, 2015-10-15 Networks of Modernism offers a new understanding of American modernist aesthetics and introduces the idea that networks were central to how American moderns thought about their culture in their dramatically changing milieu While conventional wisdom holds that the network rose to prominence in the 1980s and 1990s in the context of information technologies digitization is only the most recent manifestation of networks in intellectual history Crucial developments in modern America provide another archive of network discourses well before the advent of the digital age The rise of the railroad recast the American landscape as an assortment of interconnected hubs The advent of broadcast radio created a decentralized audience that was at once the medium s strength and its weakness The steady and intertwined advances of urbanization and immigration demanded the reconceptualization of community and ethnic identity to replace the failing melting pot metaphor for the nation Indeed the signal developments of the modern era eroded social stratification and reorganized American society in a nodal decentralized and interpenetrating form what today we would label a distributed network that is fully flattened and holds no clustered centers of power In this ferment of social upheaval and technological change the moderns found what we would today term the network though they did not have the vocabulary for it that we do now to be a versatile model for their aesthetic experiments in representing social space and social relations Whether they used the figuration of the network as a kind of formal experiment to negotiate the tensions between dispersal and unity fragment and totality or took the network as a subject in itself as seen when dealing with crowds or public spaces the network was a way for writers and artists to conceptualize and explore their rapidly changing society Through readings of the works of Randolph Bourne Jean Toomer Anita Loos John Dos Passos and Nathanael West Networks of Modernism positions the network as the defining figure of American modernist aesthetics and explores its use as a conceptual tool used to think through the rapid changes in American society Approaches to World Literature Joachim Küpper,2013-12-20 The present volume introduces new considerations on the topic of World Literature penned by leading representatives of the discipline from the United States India Japan the Middle East England France and Germany The essays revolve around the question of what specifically in today s rapidly globalizing world may be the productive implications of the concept of World Literature which was first developed in the 18th century and then elaborated on by Goethe The discussions include problems such as different script systems with varying literary functions as well as questions addressing the relationship between ethnic self description and cultural belonging The contributions result from a conference that took place at the Dahlem Humanities Center Freie Universit t Berlin in 2012 The Routledge Companion to Experimental Literature Joe Bray,Alison Gibbons,Brian McHale,2012-07-26 What is experimental literature How has experimentation affected the course of literary history and how is it shaping literary expression today Literary experiment has always been diverse and challenging but never more so than in our age of digital media and social networking when the very category of the literary is coming under intense pressure How will literature reconfigure itself in the future The Routledge Companion to Experimental Literature maps this expansive and multifaceted field with essays on the history of literary experiment from the beginning of the twentieth century to the present the impact of new media on literature including multimodal literature digital fiction and code poetry the development of experimental genres from graphic narratives and found poetry through to gaming and interactive fiction experimental movements from Futurism and Surrealism to Postmodernism Avant Pop and Flarf Shedding new light on often critically neglected terrain the contributors introduce this vibrant area define its current state and offer exciting new perspectives on its future This volume is the ideal introduction for those approaching the study of experimental literature for the first time or looking to further their knowledge The New Fiction Technologies Shawn Edrei,2021-10-28 The Internet has fundamentally altered our perceptions of narrative and its core components including authorship setting characterization reader reception and more With new trends tropes and conventions emerging at the speed of cyberspace digital media like web comics video games and fan fiction have become laboratories for experimentation on the boundaries of contemporary storytelling While web comics video games and fan fiction have received much scholarly study this book focuses on the common ground they share and how their processes motivations and evolution may be more similar than we think These media are all regarded as unique genres of digital fiction and this book aims to bridge the gap between them Understanding these phenomena as expressions of the same principles could be crucial to understanding the future of narrative storytelling

Modern Character Julian Murphet,2024-03-05 In this groundbreaking and comprehensive study Julian Murphet examines how dramatists and prose writers at the turn of the twentieth century experimented with new forms of modern character Old truisms of character such as consistency depth and verisimilitude are eschewed in favour of inconsistency bad faith and fragmentation

Contemporary Stylistics Marina Lambrou, Peter Stockwell, 2010-04-21 Spider Web, Labyrinth, Tightrope Walk Regina Schober, 2023-08-07 Spider Web Labyrinth Tightrope Walk explores the shifting functions of the network as a metaphor model and as an epistemological framework in US American literature and culture from the 19th century until today The book critically inquires into the literary cultural philosophical and scientific rhetoric values and ideological underpinnings that have given rise to the network concept Literature and culture play a major role in the ways in which networks have been imagined and how they have evolved as conceptual models This study regards networks as historically emergent and culturally constructed formations closely tied with the development of knowledge technologies in the process of modernization as well as with an increasingly critical awareness of network technologies and infrastructures While the rise of the network in scientific philosophical political and sociological discourses has received wide attention this book contributes an important cultural and historical perspective to network theory by demonstrating how US American literature and culture have been key sites for thinking in and about networks in the past two centuries New Narratives Ruth E. Page, Bronwen Thomas, 2011-12-01 Just as the explosive growth of digital media has led to ever expanding narrative possibilities and practices so these new electronic modes of storytelling have in their own turn demanded a rapid and radical rethinking of narrative theory This timely volume takes up the challenge deeply and broadly considering the relationship between digital technology and narrative theory in the face of the changing landscape of computer mediated communication New Narratives reflects the diversity of its subject by bringing together some of the foremost practitioners and theorists of digital narratives It extends the range of digital subgenres examined by narrative theorists to include forms that have become increasingly prominent new examples of experimental hypertext and contemporary video games The collection also explicitly draws connections between the development of narrative theory technological innovation and the use of narratives in particular social and cultural contexts Finally New Narratives focuses on how the tools provided by new technologies may be harnessed to provide new ways of both producing and theorizing narrative Truly interdisciplinary the book offers broad coverage of contemporary narrative theory including frameworks that draw from classical and postclassical narratology linguistics and media studies Cy-Borges Stefan Herbrechter, Ivan Callus, 2009 Cy Borges provides radically new posthumanist readings of such established Borgesian fictions as The Aleph The Library of Babel Funes the Memorious The Garden of Forking Paths and The Circular Ruins They will be equally illuminating to readers of Hispanic and world literature as to students of critical and cultural theory and anybody who is fascinated with the idea of the posthuman and posthumanism BOOK JACKET Edinburgh Companion to Twentieth-Century Literatures in English Brian McHale, 2006-06-28 An imaginatively constructed new literary history of the twentieth century This companion with a difference sets a controversial new agenda for literary historical analysis Far from the usual forced march through the decades genres and national literatures this reference work for the new century cuts across familiar categories focusing instead on literary hot spots Freud's Vienna and Conrad's Congo in 1899 Chicago and London in 1912 the Somme in July 1916 Dublin London and Harlem in 1922 and so on down to Bradford and Berlin in 1989 the fatwa against Salman Rushdie the new digital media Stockholm in 1993 Toni Morrison's Nobel Prize and September 11 2001

Narrative Complexity
Marina Grishakova, Maria Poulaki, 2019-08 The variety in contemporary philosophical and aesthetic thinking as well as in scientific and experimental research on complexity has not yet been fully adopted by narratology By integrating cutting edge approaches this volume takes a step toward filling this gap and establishing interdisciplinary narrative research on complexity Narrative Complexity provides a framework for a more complex and nuanced study of narrative and explores the experience of narrative complexity in terms of cognitive processing affect and mind and body engagement Bringing together leading international scholars from a range of disciplines this volume combines analytical effort and conceptual insight in order to relate more effectively our theories of narrative representation and complexities of intelligent behavior This collection engages important questions on how narrative complexity functions as an agent of cultural evolution how our understanding of narrative complexity can be extended in light of new research in the social sciences and humanities how interactive media produce new types of narrative complexity and how the role of embodiment as a factor of narrative complexity acquires prominence in cognitive science and media studies The contributors explore narrative complexity transmitted through various semiotic channels embedded in multiple contexts and experienced across different media including film comics music interactive apps audiowalks and ambient literature

Refiguring Minds in Narrative Media
David Ciccoricco, 2015-12 How do writers represent cognition and what can these representations tell us about how our own minds work Refiguring Minds in Narrative Media is the first single author book to explore these questions across media moving from analyses of literary narratives in print to those found where so much cultural and artistic production occurs today computer screens Expanding the domain of literary studies from a focus on representations to the kind of simulations that characterize narratives in digital media such as those found in interactive web based digital fictions and story driven video games David Ciccoricco draws on new research in the cognitive sciences to illustrate how the cybernetic and ludic qualities characterizing narratives in new literary media have significant implications for how we understand the workings of actual minds in an increasingly media saturated culture Amid continued concern about the impact of digital media on the minds of readers and players today and the alarming philosophical questions generated by the communion of minds and machines Ciccoricco provides detailed examples illustrating how stories in virtually any medium can still nourish creative imagination and cultivate critical and ethical reflection Contributing new insights on attention perception memory and emotion Refiguring Minds in Narrative Media is a book at the forefront of a new wave of media conscious cognitive literary studies The Authoring Problem Charlie Hargood, David E. Millard, Alex Mitchell, Ulrike Spierling, 2023-01-01 Authoring its tools processes and design challenges are key issues for the Interactive Digital Narrative IDN research community The complexity of IDN authoring often involving stories co created by procedures and user interaction creates confusion for tool developers and raises barriers for new authors This book examines these issues from both the tool designer and the author's perspective discusses the poetics of IDN and how that can be used to design authoring tools explores diverse forms of IDN and their demands and investigates the challenges around conducting research on IDN authoring To address these challenges the chapter authors incorporate a range of interdisciplinary perspectives on The Authoring Problem in IDN While existing texts provide how to guidance for authors this book is a primer for research and practice based investigations into the authoring problem collecting the latest thoughts about this area from key researchers and practitioners The Cambridge Introduction to Postmodernism Brian McHale, 2015-06-26 This Introduction surveys the full spectrum of postmodern culture from architecture and visual art to fiction poetry and drama Multimodal Poetics in Contemporary Fiction Thomas Mantzaris, 2024-10-24 This book explores the growing body of multimodal literary texts books that creatively experiment with the potential of design to represent narrative content Examining five North and Central American novels from the first two decades of the twenty first century this study draws attention to texts that combine verbal text writing with non verbal elements photographic images varied typography maps color etc as integral parts of their narratives Their experimentation both reconfigures the potential for print based and born digital fiction in the future and holds a mirror to past practices of design and typography that were rendered invisible or which received limited attention by authors publishers and readers By placing the five case studies and related texts within a broader history of experimentation in literature this book demonstrates how multimodal novels have changed the conceptualization of narrative content in literary texts and ushered in a new era for fiction
