Magic in the Literature of the Neronian Period Konstantinos Arampapaslis,2024-04-22 Neronian representations of magic a practice prevalent in the everyday life of the period and a central topic in its literary production are characterized by unprecedented accuracy and detail The similarities of witchcraft depictions in Seneca s Medea Lucan s book 6 and Petronius Satyrca with spells of the PGM the defixiones as well as with Pliny s quasi magical recipes underscore realism as the distinctive trait of Neronian magic scenes which has often been considered the authors means to differentiate themselves from their Augustan predecessors However such high degree realism is not merely an ornamental feature but transforms into a tool that influences the reader s response toward magic according to each author s worldview and aims The cross generic examination of the motif of magic in the major Neronian authors shows how realism forms a link between reader contemporary experience and text that encourages more active participation on the part of the reader At the same time images of destruction the horrific and the ridiculous further enhance the negative view of magic as an ineffective Lucan Petronius or destructive force Seneca simultaneously eliciting the reader s critical response
