Radiation Dosimetry Gerald J. Hine, Gordon L.

Brownell, 2013-09-12 Radiation Dosimetry focuses on the advancements, processes, technologies, techniques, and principles involved in radiation dosimetry, including counters and calibration and standardization techniques. The selection first offers information on radiation units and the theory of ionization dosimetry and interaction of radiation with matter. Topics include quantities derivable from roentgens, determination of dose in roentgens, ionization dosimetry of high energy photons and corpuscular radiations, and heavy charged particles. The text then examines the biological and medical effects of radiation as well as radiation effects in malignant tissues, levels of radiation, and mechanism of radiation effects on living cells. The publication takes a look at ionization chambers, Geiger-Mueller counters, and proportional counters, scintillation detectors, and photographic film dosimetry. Discussions focus on calibration and standardization techniques, scintillating materials, and their light yield, scintillation detector dosimetry of neutrons, and the physics of counters. The text also ponders on chemical and colorimetric indicators and survey instruments and pocket dosimeters. The selection is a dependable reference for readers interested in radiation dosimetry.

Evidence-Based Neurological Disorders Sushil Kumar Upadhyay, Siddhartha

Dan, Sheikh Abid Ali, 2024-06-07 Neurology is one of the most fascinating areas of medical science and general biology, but it has traditionally been limited to some dedicated aspects only. However, modern neuroscience has embarked on exciting and diverse frontiers related to the causes, diagnosis, and treatment of neurological disease, and nowadays neurology has become multidisciplinary. There are many books available that deal with only one key concept of neurology, but a book with a multidisciplinary approach is lacking so far. This book emphasizes all the conventional and applied divisions associated with neurology in reference to medical physiology and general biology and covers all aspects to integrate the topics of interrelated approaches. It provides complete information on each aspect of neurodegenerative disorders and brain injury, including autonomic nervous system, neuro-oncology, cerebellar ataxias, spinal cord disorders, neuro-ophthalmic disorders, and neuro-otological disorders such as dizziness, vertigo, imbalance, and hearing impairments in a concise and informative way. It highlights the challenges related to neurological disorders along with their ongoing molecular mechanisms and treatments.

The book provides simple and reader friendly representations and artwork that will help in understanding the concepts
