Books in Series, 1985 Vols for 1980 issued in three parts Series Authors and Titles

Medieval Birds in the Sherborne Missal Janet Backhouse, British Library, 2001-01-01 The majority are accompanied by their names written out in middle English offering an almost unparalleled source of vernacular bird names in common use during the generation after Chaucer wrote his Canterbury Tales. This is the first time that all birds from the Sherborne Missal have been reproduced together in sequence and this beautifully illustrated book provides an insight into a fascinating aspect of England's natural history in the middle ages. BOOK JACKET     The Archaeology of Medicine in the Greco-Roman World Patricia A. Baker, 2013-09-30 This book teaches students and scholars of Greco-Roman medical history how to use and critically assess archaeological materials. Ancient medicine is a subject dominated by textual sources yet there is a wealth of archaeological remains that can be used to broaden our understanding of medicine in the past. In order to use the information properly this book explains how to ask questions of an archaeological nature how to access different types of archaeological materials and how to overcome problems the researcher might face. It also acts as an introduction to the archaeology of medicine for archaeologists interested in this aspect of their subject. Although the focus is on the Greco-Roman period the methods and theories explained within the text can be applied to other periods in history. The areas covered include text as material culture images artifacts spaces of medicine and science and archaeology.     A World of Beasts: A Thirteenth-Century Illustrated Arabic Book on Animals (the Kitāb Naʿt al-ʿayawān) in the Ibn Bakhtīshāʿ Tradition Anna Contadini, 2011-11-11 A study of the Kitāb Naʿt al-ʿayawān Book on the Characteristics of Animals this book considers together text and image in this unique thirteenth-century manuscript thereby contributing to the wider scholarship on Middle Eastern painting and art of the pre-modern period.     The Routledge Companion to Ecstatic Experience in the Ancient World Diana Stein, Sarah Kiehl Costello, Karen Polinger Foster, 2021-12-31 For millennia people have universally engaged in ecstatic experience as an essential element in ritual practice spiritual belief and cultural identification. This volume offers the first systematic investigation of its myriad roles and manifestations in the ancient Mediterranean and Near East. The twenty-nine contributors represent a broad range of scholarly disciplines seeking answers to fundamental questions regarding the patterns and commonalities of this vital aspect of the past. How was the experience construed and by what means was it achieved? Who was involved? Where and when were rites carried out? How was it reflected in pictorial arts and written records? What was its relation to other components of the sociocultural compact? In proposing responses the authors draw upon a wealth of original research in many fields generating new perspectives and thought provoking often surprising conclusions. With their abundant cross-cultural and cross-temporal references the chapters mutually enrich each other and collectively deepen our understanding of ecstatic phenomena thousands of years ago. Another noteworthy feature of the book is its illustrative content including commissioned reconstructions of ecstatic scenarios and pairings of works of Bronze Age and modern psychedelic art. Scholars students and other readers interested in antiquity comparative religion and the social and cognitive sciences will find much to explore in the fascinating realm of ecstatic experience in the ancient world.     The Routledge Companion to Medieval English Literature Raluca Radulescu, Sif Rikhardsdottir, 2022-12-30 The Routledge

Companion to Medieval English Literature offers a new inclusive and comprehensive context to the study of medieval literature written in the English language from the Norman Conquest to the end of the Middle Ages Utilising a Trans European context this volume includes essays from leading academics in the field across linguistic and geographic divides Extending beyond the traditional scholarly discussions of insularity in relation to Middle English literature and isolationism this volume Oversees a variety of genres and topics including cultural identity insular borders linguistic interactions literary gateways Middle English texts and traditions and modern interpretations such as race gender studies ecocriticism and postcolonialism Draws on the combined extensive experience of teaching and research in medieval English and comparative literature within and outside of anglophone higher education and looks to the future of this fast paced area of literary culture Contains an indispensable section on theoretical approaches to the study of literary texts This Companion provides the reader with practical insights into the methods and approaches that can be applied to medieval literature and serves as an important reference work for upper level students and researchers working on English literature

Literary Gazette and Journal of Archaeology, Science, and Art ,1857 The Beast Between Matthew G. Looper,2019-04-22 The white tailed deer had a prominent status in Maya civilization it was the most important wild animal food source at many inland Maya sites and also functioned as a major ceremonial symbol Offering an in depth semantic analysis of this imagery The Beast Between considers iconography hieroglyphic texts mythological discourses and ritual narratives to translate the significance and meaning of the vibrant metaphors expressed in a variety of artifacts depicting deer and hunting Charting the progression of deer as a key component of the Maya diet especially for elites to the coupling of deer and maize in the Maya worldview The

Beast Between reveals a close and long term interdependence Not only are deer depicted naturalistically in hunting and ritual scenes but they are also ascribed with human attributes This rich imagery reflects the many ways in which deer hunting was linked to status sexuality and war as part of a deeper process to ensure the regeneration of both agriculture and ancestry Drawing on methodologies of art history archaeology and ethnology this illuminating work is poised to become a key resource for multiple fields

Archaeology of Logic Andrew Schumann, 2023-04-27 The question arises whether logic was given to us by God or whether it is the result of human evolution I believe that at least the modus ponens rule A and if A then B implies B is inherent in humans but probably many other modern systems e g resource logic non monotonic logic etc are the result of humans adapting to the environment It is therefore of interest to study and compare the way logic is used in ancient cultures as well as the way logic is going to be used in our 21st century This welcome book studies and compares the way formation of logic in three cultures Ancient Greek 4th century B C Judaic 1st century B C 1st century A D and Indo Buddhist 2nd century A D The book notes that logic became especially popular during the period of late antiquity in countries covered by the international trade of the Silk Road This study makes a valuable contribution to the history of logic and to the very understanding of the origins and nature of logical thinking Prof Dov Gabbay King s College London UK Andrew Schumann in his book demonstrates that logic step by step arose in different places and cultural circles He argues that if we apply a structural genealogical method as well as turn to various sources particularly religious philosophical linguistic etc then we can obtain a more general and more adequate picture of emergence and development of logic This book is a new and very valuable contribution to the history of logic as a manifestation of the human mind Prof Jan Wolenski Jagiellonian University Poland The author of the Archaeology of Logic defends the claim calling it logic is after all which sees logical competence as a practical skill that people began to learn in antiquity as soon as they realized that avoiding cognitive biases in their reasoning would make their daily activities more successful The in depth reading of the book with its diving into the comparative quotations in the long dead or hardly known to most of us languages like Sumerian Akkadian Aramaic Hebrew and etc will be rewarded by the response that the logical competence is diverse and it can be trained despite the inevitability of the reasoning fallacies and that critical discussions and agonial character of the social life are the necessary tools for that Prof Elena Lisanyuk

Life-writing in the History of Archaeology Gabriel Moshenska, Clare Lewis, 2023-07-10 Life writing is a vital part of the history of archaeology and a growing field of scholarship within the discipline The lives of archaeologists are entangled with histories of museums and collections developments in science and scholarship and narratives of nationalism and colonialism into the present In recent years life writing has played an important role in the surge of new research in the history of archaeology including ground breaking studies of discipline formation institutionalisation and social and intellectual networks Sources such as diaries wills film and the growing body of digital records are powerful tools for highlighting the contributions of hitherto marginalised archaeological lives including many pioneering women hired labourers and other hidden hands This book brings together critical perspectives on life writing in the history of archaeology from leading figures in the field These include studies of archive formation and use the concept of dig writing as a distinctive genre of archaeological creativity and reviews of new sources for already well known lives Several chapters reflect on the experience of life writing review the historiography of the field and assess the intellectual value and significance of life writing as a genre Together they work to problematise underlying assumptions about this genre foregrounding methodology social theory ethics and other practice focused frameworks in conscious tension with previous practices

Wooden Images Juanita Ballew Wood,1999 Using 163 photographs of images carved on the underside of medieval choir stalls in the churches and cathedrals of England in the thirteenth through sixteenth centuries this work provides a spirited examination of the social history of ordinary men and women during the late medieval period This examination is particularly useful in that the choir stalls have become less accessible to the public in recent years Misericords have received some scholarly attention but this work is the first to interpret the carvings as social commentary They are not examined as decorative embellishments or pieces of church furniture but rather read as intimate glimpses into the thoughts actions and beliefs of a segment of the English medieval population Whatever amused angered frightened or elated the common person is recorded here in these extraordinary records

Exploring Ancient Skies David H. Kelley,Eugene F. Milone,2011-02-16 Exploring Ancient Skies brings together the methods of archaeology and the insights of modern astronomy to explore the science of astronomy as it was practiced in various cultures prior to the invention of the telescope The book reviews an enormous and growing body of literature on the cultures of the ancient Mediterranean the Far East and the New World particularly Mesoamerica putting the ancient astronomical materials into their archaeological and cultural contexts The authors begin with an overview of the field and proceed to essential aspects of naked eye astronomy followed by an examination of specific cultures The book concludes by taking into account the purposes of ancient astronomy astrology navigation calendar regulation and not least the understanding of our place and role in the universe Skies are recreated to display critical events as they would have appeared to ancient observers events such as the supernova of 1054 A D the lion horoscope and the Star of Bethlehem Exploring Ancient Skies provides a comprehensive overview of the relationships between astronomy and other areas of human investigation It will be useful as a reference for scholars and as a text for students in both astronomy and archaeology and will be of compelling interest to readers who seek a broad understanding of our collective intellectual history
