Revisiting Peace Journalism in the Kenyan News Landscape Cecilia Arregui Olivera, 2025-02-25 This book revisits the concept of peace journalism a framework that emerged to question and redefine the professional ethos of conflict reporting by challenging traditional news values such as the focus on negativity violence and the elites to emphasise reconciliation and dialogue contextualisation of conflicts and giving voice to all involved parties The author argues that in a globalised and diverse world the notion of peace journalism continues to mutate and evolve every time it enters specific contexts and for that matter it cannot be regarded as a one size fits all approach The book reviews and challenges the dominant ways in which peace journalism has been studied and understood to date before exploring the multiple tensions and relationships between notions of peace journalism and journalistic roles and practices in the reporting of electoral conflict and terrorism by legacy newspapers in Kenya After deconstructing this complex concept and tracing its motions mutations and evolutions in a specific setting peace journalism is redefined as a dynamic concept that is continuously negotiated between the particulars of context and a shared essence that circles around the values of peace non violence and reconciliation This book will interest journalism and media studies scholars educators and graduate students in particular those interested in or specialising in peace journalism or conflict reporting or the East African or Kenyan news media scene
