Naremore,2008-01-14 Film noir evokes memories of stylish cynical black and white movies from the 1940s and 50s melodramas about private eyes femmes fatales criminal gangs and lovers on the run James Naremore s prize winning book discusses these pictures but also shows that the central term is more complex and paradoxical than we realize It treats noir as a term in criticism as an expression of artistic modernism as a symptom of Hollywood censorship and politics as a market strategy as an evolving style and as an idea that circulates through all the media This new and expanded edition of More Than Night contains an additional chapter on film noir in the twenty first century It Didn't Mean Anything Alexander N.

Howe,2008-03-17 This critical study of American detective fiction examines the history and development of the detective genre through the lens of psychoanalysis Applying the ideas of French psychoanalyst Jacques Lacan the author identifies and categorizes popular works according to the fictional protagonist s hysteria obsessive neurosis perversion or psychosis The first chapter identifies several instances of hysteria within the fiction of two of the genre s pioneers Edgar Allan Poe and Arthur Conan Doyle Chapter Two traces the development of the hard boiled detective s code of honor through the works of Dashiell Hammett Raymond Chandler and Mickey Spillane identifying the often paradoxical nature of this code and its origins in obsessive neurosis Chapter Three analyzes the anti detective fiction of Philip K Dick in terms of paranoid psychosis and the final chapter returns to the question of hysteria taking up the female hard boiled detectives of author Marcia Muller

Thrillers, Chillers, and Killers Frank Krutnik,2025 Thrillers Chillers and Killers is the first book to explore in detail noir storytelling in cinema and on radio Arguing that radio s noir dramas were a counterpart to influence on or a spin off from the noir films this scrupulously researched yet accessible study challenges conventional understandings of noir as well as shedding new light on a medium that was cinema s major rival The Classic Collection of Raymond Chandler.

Thornton,2022-08-10 Farewell My Lovely is an engrossing story of private detective Philip Marlowe who s ready to give up on a dead end missing person case He is looking for a woman s missing husband when he encounters Moose Malloy a felon just out of prison looking for his former lover Velma Moose kills a man and Marlowe gets involved in the search for the missing Velma In the meantime Marlowe gets another job as a bodyguard and soon ends up with a corpse for a client Will Marlowe be able to handle this series of unexpected events and find Velma The Raymond Chandler omnibus : The big sleep ; Farewell, my lovely ; The high window ; The lady in the lake Raymond Chandler,1964 In a Lonely Street Frank

Krutnik,2006-10-19 Taking issue with many orthodox views of Film Noir Frank Krutnik argues for a reorientation of this compulsively engaging area of Hollywood cultural production Krutnik recasts the films within a generic framework and draws on recent historical and theoretical research to examine both the diversity of film noir and its significance within American popular culture of the 1940s He considers classical Hollywood cinema debates on genre and the history of the emergence of character in film noir focusing on the hard boiled crime fiction of Dashiell Hammett Raymond Chandler and James M Cain as well as the popularisation of Freudian psychoanalysis and the social and cultural upheavals of the 1940s The core of this book however concerns the complex representation of masculinity in the noir tough thriller and where and how gender interlocks with questions of genre Analysing in detail major thrillers like The Maltese Falcon Double Indemnity Out of the Past and The Killers alongside lesser known but nonetheless crucial films as Stranger on the Third Floor Pitfall and Dead Reckoning Krutnik has produced a provocative and highly readable study of one of Hollywood most perennially fascinating groups of films

Power and the Pursuit of Peace: Theory and Practice in the History of Relations Between States

F. H. Hinsley, Francis Harry Hinsley, 1967-10 In the last years of the nineteenth century peace proposals were first stimulated by fear of the danger of war rather than in consequence of its outbreak In this study of the nature and history of international relations Mr Hinsley presents his conclusions about the causes of war and the development of men's efforts to avoid it In the first part he examines international theories from the end of the middle ages to the establishment of the League of Nations in their historical setting This enables him to show how far modern peace proposals are merely copies or elaborations of earlier schemes He believes there has been a marked reluctance to test these theories not only against the formidable criticisms of men like Rousseau Kant and Bentham but also against what we have learned about the nature of international relations and the history of the practice of states This leads him to the second part of his study an analysis of the origins of the modern states system and of its evolution between the eighteenth century and the First World War

H.C. Bailey's Reggie

Fortune and the Golden Age of Detective Fiction Laird R. Blackwell, 2017-07-14 H C Bailey's detective Reggie Fortune was one of the most popular protagonists of the Golden Age of detective fiction Fortune appeared in nine novels yet it was in a series of 84 short stories that were published from 1920 to 1940 where he truly shone combining elements of several popular archetypes the eccentric logician the forensic investigator the hard boiled interrogator the psychological profiler the defender of justice This critical study examines the Fortune stories in the context of other popular detective fiction of the era Bailey's classics are distinguished by well clued puzzles brilliant sleuthing vivid description and social critique with Fortune evoking images of Don Quixote and the Arthurian Knights in his pursuit of truth and justice in an uncaring world

The Recursive Frontier Michael Docherty, 2024-05-01 The Recursive Frontier is an innovative spatial history of both the literature of Los Angeles and the city itself in the mid twentieth century Setting canonical texts alongside underexamined works and sources such as census bulletins and regional planning documents Michael Docherty identifies the American frontier as the defining dynamic of Los Angeles fiction from the 1930s to the 1950s Contrary to the received wisdom that Depression era narratives mourn the frontier s demise Docherty argues that the frontier lives on as a cruel set of rules for survival in urban modernity governing how texts figure race space mobility and masculinity Moving from dancehalls to offices to oil fields and beyond the book provides a richer more diverse picture of LA s literary production during this period as well as a vivid account of LA s cultural and social development as it transformed into the multiethnic megalopolis we know today Marcia Muller and the Female Private Eye Alexander N. Howe,Christine A. Jackson,2014-11-01 In 1977 Marcia Muller invaded the all male domain of detective literature and within a decade was established as the mother of the female hardboiled private eye She is now the author of four detective series including the critically acclaimed Sharon McCone series of more than two dozen novels This collection critically assesses Marcia Muller s writing and reevaluates current critical views on women s detective fiction in general In the first two of the book s three sections essays explore Muller s engagement with modern and postmodern feminism ethnicity and the socially underprivileged The third section focuses on one of Muller s major themes the trauma of history Drawing from the feminist historicist mythic psychoanalytic and cultural approaches found in all three sections the conclusion offers a panoramic perspective on Muller s accomplishments Hollywood's Melodramatic Imagination Geoff Mayer,2021-12-22 Melodrama is the foundation of American cinema It is however a poorly understood term While it is a pervasive and persuasive dramatic mode it is not tied to any specific moral or ideological system It is not a singular genre rather it operates as a genre generating machine capable of determining the aesthetics and structure of the drama within many genres Melodrama centers the conflict around the clash between good and evil and provides a sense of poetic justice but the specific values embedded in notions of good and evil are determined by the culture and they shift from nation to nation region to region and period to period This book explores the populist westerns of the 1930s the propaganda films that followed the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and the popularity of Sax Rohmer s master villain Fu Manchu Melodramas of passion and film noir also offer a challenge to melodrama with its seemingly alienated protagonists and downbeat endings Yet with few exceptions Hollywood was able to assimilate these genres within its melodramatic imagination
