Believing Again Daniel Taylor, 2025-02-24 The numbers are alarming at least to people of faith Many especially the young are leaving the church and abandoning faith in God Social scientists have for decades been documenting with numbers what church leaders and families have experienced directly What is much less noted and evaluated is the substantial number of those who leave faith and the church and eventually come back to both Why people leave is an important question but so is why people return a question much less often addressed Once people have made a clear and conscious break with their religious convictions and practice what leads many to return This book explores this important question primarily through listening to the stories these people tell It relies on stories not numbers allowing people to tell their own stories in their own words both why they left and why they returned One discovers from listening to their stories that there are recurring patterns People leave faith for common reasons and they also return for common reasons In fact many return for the flip side of why they left The shared factor in all returns is God's relentless love for each of them

Does God Make the Man? Stewart M. Hoover, Curtis D. Coats, 2015-10-02 Many believe that religion plays a positive role in men's identity development with religion promoting good behavior and morality In contrast we often assume that the media is a negative influence for men teaching them to be rough and violent and to ignore their emotions In Does God Make the Man Stewart M Hoover and Curtis D Coats draw on extensive interviews and participant observation with both Evangelical and non Evangelical men including Catholics as well as Protestants to argue that neither of these assumptions is correct Dismissing the easy notion that media encourages toxic masculinity and religion is always a positive influence Hoover and Coats argue that not only are the linkages between religion media and masculinity not as strong and substantive as has been assumed but the ways in which these relations actually play out may contradict received views Over the course of this fascinating book they examine crises contradictions and contestations crises about the meaning of masculinity and about the lack of direction men experience from their faith communities contradictions between men s religious lives and media lives and contestations among men s ideas about what it means to be a man The book counters common discussions about a crisis of masculinity showing that actual men do not see the world the way the crisis talk has portrayed it and interestingly even Evangelical men often do not see religion as part of the solution
