The Religious History of American

Women Catherine A. Brekus, 2009-11-13 More than a generation after the rise of women's history alongside the feminist movement it is still difficult, observes Catherine Brekus, to locate women in histories of American religion. Mary Dyer, a Quaker who was hanged for heresy; Lizzie Robinson, a former slave and laundress who sold Bibles door to door; Sally Priesand, a Reform rabbi; Estela Ruiz, who saw a vision of the Virgin Mary: how do these women's stories change our understanding of American religious history and American women's history? In this provocative collection of twelve essays, contributors explore how considering the religious history of American women can transform our dominant historical narratives. Covering a variety of topics including Mormonism, the women's rights movement, Judaism, witchcraft, trials, the civil rights movement, Catholicism, everyday religious life, Puritanism, African American women's activism, and the Enlightenment, the volume enhances our understanding of both religious history and women's history. Taken together, these essays sound the call for a new, more inclusive history. Contributors: Ann Braude, Harvard Divinity School; Catherine A. Brekus, University of Chicago Divinity School; Anthea D. Butler, University of Rochester; Emily Clark, Tulane University; Kathleen Sprows Cummings, University of Notre Dame; Amy Koehlinger, Florida State University; Janet Moore Lindman, Rowan University; Susanna Morrill, Lewis and Clark College; Kristy Nabhan-Warren, Augustana College; Pamela S. Nadell, American University; Elizabeth Reis, University of Oregon; Marilyn J. Westerkamp, University of California, Santa Cruz.

Deely,2012-12-06 This volume differs from the volume Semiotics 1980 in that it is no longer an experimental product but the result of a permanent commitment of the Semiotic Society of America to publish each year henceforward those papers presented at its Annual Meeting which are submitted to the Secretariat in timely and proper form Thus Semiotics 1981 marks the beginning following upon the experimental Semiotics 1980 volume of an indefinite series of volumes presenting the cross fertilization of styles topics methodologies and traditions in which new ideas vie for survival and experiment is at a premium It is this cross fertilization which is at the heart of the vitality and integration and redistribution of the world of knowledge The historical value of such a record is obvious But the more immediate objective of these volumes of annual proceedings is to promote participation in the work of semiotizing traditional perspectives and disciplines by providing a forum in which young scholars can meet regularly and find an outlet for their efforts at interdisciplinary thinking which are not always welcome in the journals and proceedings devoted to the promotion only of traditionally specialized perspectives
