energy metals and mining space exploration transport finance retail manufacturing and even the response of governments to wars famines and epidemics Together case studies give an insight into why people hesitate to report risks and even when they do why their superiors often prefer to ignore the news The book reviews existing research on the challenges of voice and silence in organizations This helps to explain more generally why people dread passing on bad news to others and why in the workplace they prefer to keep quiet about unpleasant facts or potential risks when they are talking to superiors and colleagues The discussion section of the book includes important examples of concealment within the Chinese state hierarchy as well as by leading epidemiologists and governments in the West during the novel coronavirus outbreak in Wuhan in 2019 2020 The full picture of the very early stage of the COVID 19 pandemic remains unclear and further research is obviously needed to better understand what motivated some municipal provincial and national officials in China as well as Western counterparts to obfuscate facts in their internal communications about many issues associated with the outbreak
