Robo Sapiens English Edition:

Robo Sapiens Japanicus Jennifer Robertson, 2018 Japan is arguably the first postindustrial society to embrace the prospect of human robot coexistence Over the past decade Japanese humanoid robots designed for use in homes hospitals offices and schools have become celebrated in mass and social media throughout the world In Robo sapiens japanicus Jennifer Robertson casts a critical eye on press releases and public relations videos that misrepresent robots as being as versatile and agile as their science fiction counterparts An ethnography and sociocultural history of governmental and academic discourse of human robot relations in Japan this book explores how actual robots humanoids androids and animaloids are imagineered in ways that reinforce the conventional sex gender system and political economic status quo In addition Robertson interrogates the notion of human exceptionalism as she considers whether civil rights should be granted to robots Similarly she juxtaposes how robots and robotic exoskeletons reinforce a conception of the normal body with a deconstruction of the much invoked Theory of the Uncanny Valley

Robo Sapiens Peter Menzel, Faith D'Aluisio, 2000 Information about intelligent robots and their makers including photographs interviews behind the scenes information and technical data about machines that is easy to understand

 Editors Ethics and Trauma in Contemporary British Fiction Robot Control 1991 (SYROCO'91) I. Troch, 2014-05-23 This volume contains 92 papers on the state of the art in robotics research In this volume topics on modelling and identification are treated first as they build the basis for practically all control aspects Then the most basic control tasks are discussed i e problems of inverse kinematics Groups of papers follow which deal with various advanced control aspects They range from rather general methods to more specialized topics such as force control and control of hydraulic robots The problem of path planning is addressed and strategies for robots with one arm for mobile robots and for multiple arm robots are presented Also covered are computational improvements and software tools for simulation and control the integration of sensors and sensor signals in robot control The Coming Robot Revolution Yoseph Bar-Cohen, David Hanson, 2009-04-20 Making a robot that looks and behaves like a human being has been the subject of many popular science fiction movies and books
 Although the development of such a robot faces many challenges the making of a virtual human has long been potentially possible With recent advances in various key technologies related to hardware and software the making of humanlike robots is increasingly becoming an engineering reality Development of the required hardware that can perform humanlike functions in a lifelike manner has benefitted greatly from development in such technologies as biologically inspired materials artificial intelligence artificial vision and many others Producing a humanlike robot that makes body and facial expressions communicates verbally using extensive vocabulary and interprets speech with high accuracy is extremely complicated to engineer Advances in voice recognition and speech synthesis are increasingly improving communication capabilities In our daily life we encounter such innovations when we call the telephone operators of most companies today As robotics technology continues to improve we are approaching the point where on seeing such a robot we will respond with Wow this robot looks unbelievably real just like the reaction to an artificial flower The accelerating pace of advances in related fields suggests that the emergence of humanlike robots that become part of our daily life seems to be imminent These robots are expected to raise ethical concerns and may also raise many complex questions related to their interaction with humans

The Sower of Question Marks ??? Mark Eyskens, 2022-06-22 This book was born out of a long standing frustration due to the observation that a societal silence prevails on existential questions which we dare not talk about even in our highly interconnected world As if an embarrassment has seized our interlocutors struck by a certain metaphysical prudishness as soon as conversation turned to talking about life and death the meaning of our existence or fundamental values and their divine or human origin Is there life after death and Is there life before death are questions that I have never heard raised at the Parliament bar or in a waiting room of the university faculties This book is the result of a reaction to the deficit of essential questioning at a time when digital and other forms of media inundate society This writing is not a philosophical essay nor is it a theological treatise a sociological manual a novel a collection of poems The truth is that it is all of these at the same time Hence the reader must browse the pages of this book with caution and prepare to encounter divergent intellectual landscapes planted with many question marks Furthermore since I will thoroughly discuss transcendence and what is hidden behind the visible and in the heart of the homo sapiens I had to appeal to allegories metaphors images and poetry Three allegories emerge most forcefully that of the homo interrogans the blind monk and that of the palimpsest three symbolic stories that try to unravel some signals of the mystery of being The first concerns the discovery made by an expedition of paleontologists in Africa of an anthropoid skeleton that thanks to the arrangement of the bones was buried in prehistoric times in the shape of a large question mark The second allegory is about a blind monk who knows the contents of all the books in the library and is apparently a visionary The third one is the story of the discovery of an old parchment in Jerusalem an enigmatic palimpsest the decoding of which could upset the understanding of our human condition Moreover a certain professor J C Mortal appears who can be considered as the spiritual twin of the author Life is a mystery to be lived and not a problem to be solved the sage Mahatma Gandhi taught us Yet in order to grasp the mystery it is necessary to ask the right questions

Queer Kinship and Comparative Literature Anchit Sathi, Alice Ferrebe, 2024-08-31 This edited collection provides a critical forum for scholars to examine the evolution of queer kinship encompassing the wide range of relationships both biological and nonbiological that queer individuals choose or are compelled to establish through its representation in literature over time and across cultural contexts In particular the ten essays in this collection utilize close readings philosophy and theory to address the following question How can we conceptualize the nature of queer kinship based on its textual representations To this end the essays engage with a diverse array of texts from Buddhist writing to contemporary song lyrics French literature from the 17th and 18th centuries to contemporary drama and novels from Sweden Israel and the Anglosphere This broad temporal and geographic scope yields new critical insights into the varied ontologies of queer kinship and highlights the inherent paradoxes and fundamental messiness in queer kinship formations across different times spaces and contexts In doing so the collection makes a significant and timely contribution to the fields of kinship studies queer studies and comparative literature

The Technocene Hermínio Martins, 2018-12-15 Herm nio

Martins was one of the key pioneers of the sociology of science and technology. He published extensively in Portuguese and was recognized for his academic contributions with an honorary doctorate at Lisbon 2006 and two Portuguese Medals of Honour. Following his retirement from the University of Oxford, he wrote prolifically in English on a wide range of topics that examined the ethical and societal consequences of the commoditization of the human body and mind. These essays are deep philosophical reflections on our contemporary world and draw extensively and eclectically upon a wide range of theoretical influences including continental philosophy, history and psychology to name but a few disciplines. The Technocene is a selection of some of these insightful essays made available to a global audience for the first time. The Oxford Handbook of Affective Computing Rafael A. Calvo, Sidney D'Mello, Jonathan Matthew Gratch, Arvid Kappas, 2015. The Oxford Handbook of Affective Computing is the definitive reference for research in Affective Computing (AC), a growing multidisciplinary field encompassing computer science, engineering, psychology, education, neuroscience and many other disciplines. The handbook explores how affective factors influence interactions between humans and technology, how affect sensing and affect generation techniques can inform our understanding of human affect and on the design, implementation and evaluation of systems that intricately involve affect at their core. Suitable for use as a textbook in undergraduate or graduate courses in AC, the volume is a valuable resource for students, researchers and practitioners worldwide.

Latin American Digital Poetics Scott Weintraub, Luis Correa-Díaz, 2023-09-23. Latin American Digital Poetics seeks to take the pulse of emergent poetic forms whose history is entangled with the computational and its AI dreams and achievements. This study carefully and thoroughly probes the intersection between the literary, the cultural and the scientific/technological in order to reflect on the ways that digital technology has radically reshaped and reconfigured nearly all aspects of contemporary culture. The main idea of this book then is simple: by way of panoramic approaches to digital poetry as well as select case studies, we seek to account for the multi-directional exchange between poetry, technology and culture via a primarily pedagogical approach.

The Palgrave Handbook of the Anthropology of Technology Maja Hojer Bruun, Ayo Wahlberg, Rachel Douglas-Jones, Cathrine Hasse, Klaus Hoeyer, Dorthe Brogård Kristensen, Brit Ross Winthereik, 2022-03-23. This Handbook offers an overview of the thriving and diverse field of anthropological studies of technology. It features 39 original chapters, each reviewing the state of the art of current research and enlivening the field of study through ethnographic analysis of human-technology interfaces, forms of social organisation, technological practices and/or systems of belief and meaning in different parts of the world. The Handbook is organised around some of the most important characteristics of anthropological studies of technology today: the diverse knowledge practices that technologies involve and on which they depend; the communities, collectives and categories that emerge around technologies; anthropology's contribution to proliferating debates on ethics, values and morality in relation to technology and infrastructures that highlight how all technologies are embedded in broader political economies and socio-historical processes that shape and often reinforce inequality and discrimination.

while also generating diversity All chapters share a commitment to human experiences embodiments practices and materialities in the daily lives of those people and institutions involved in the development manufacturing deployment and or use of particular technologies Chapters 11 and 31 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer com

Elemental Philosophy David Macauley, 2010-09-29 Bachelard called them the hormones of the imagination Hegel observed that through the four elements we have the elevation of sensuous ideas into thought Earth air fire and water are explored as both philosophical ideas and environmental issues associated with their classical and perennial conceptions David Macauley embarks upon a wide ranging discussion of their initial appearance in ancient Greek thought as mythic forces or scientific principles to their recent reemergence within contemporary continental philosophy as a means for understanding landscape and language poetry and place the body and the body politic In so doing he shows the importance of elemental thinking for comprehending and responding to ecological problems In tracing changing views of the four elements through the history of ideas Macauley generates a new vocabulary for and a fresh vision of the environment while engaging the elemental world directly with reflections on their various manifestations

Situating Scandinavian Poetry in the Computational Network Environment Hans Kristian Strandstuen Rustad, 2023-09-05 How to grasp poetry in its contemporary digital situation a situation wherein poetry travels across digital and analogue media platforms and intended or not collaborates with computers Situating Scandinavian Poetry in the Computational Network environment investigates how heterogeneous forms of poetry in Scandinavia interact with and work in a digital media environment how digital programmable and network media intervene with and shape new poetic forms or remediate older forms of poetry and how digital and digitalized poetry through its self reflexivity sheds light on digital media technology and its role for poetry and potentially for literature and aesthetics more in general In doing so it also argues for the importance of close reading poetry in digital media It includes an historical and theoretical approach to poetry in digital media and analysis of poetic works in Scandinavia The book is written within the framework of posthumanism and what N Katherine Hayles calls technogenesis and makes up the argument that contemporary poetry constitutes and is constituted by a computational network environment of human and non human subjects wherein poems travels in an egalitarian media ecology The book is relevant for researchers and students in the field of poetry students and researchers in the field of literary studies media studies and digital culture studies and teachers interested in presenting newer forms of poetry for their students

Sacred Sites and Sacred Stories Across Cultures David W. Kim, 2021-01-18 This book offers global perspectives from Mediterranean Asian Australian and American cultures on sacred sites and their related stories in regional history Contemporary society witnesses many travelers visiting sacred sites temples mountains castles churches houses throughout the world These visits often involve discovery of new historical facts through the origin stories of the associated tribe region or nation The transmission of oral tradition and myth carries on the significant meaning of those religious sites This volume unveils multi angle perspectives of symbolic and mystical places The contributors describe the religio political experiences of each regional case and analyze the religiosity of local people as a lens through which readers can re examine the concept of iconography syncretism and materialism In addition contributors interpret the growth of new religions as the alternative perspectives of anti traditional religions This new approach offers significant insight into comprehending the practical agony and sorrow of regional people in the context of contemporary history

Death-Facing Ecology in Contemporary British and North American Environmental Crisis Fiction Louise Squire, 2019-12-05 Recent years have seen a burgeoning of novels that respond to the environmental issues we currently face Among these Louise Squire defines environmental crisis fiction as concerned with a range of environmental issues and with the human subject as a catalyst for these issues She argues that this fiction is characterized by a thematic use of death through which it explores a crisis of both environment and self Squire refers to this emergent thematic device as death facing ecology This device enables this fiction to engage with a range of theoretical ideas and with popular notions of death and the human condition as cultural phenomena of the modern West In doing so this fiction invites its readers to consider how humanity might begin to respond to the crisis
