

A close-up, slightly angled view of a person's hands on the handlebars of a black exercise bike. The bike has a large, bright blue digital display screen mounted on the frame, showing various workout metrics in white text. The person's left hand is on the left handlebar, and their right hand is on the right handlebar. The bike's frame is black, and there are some orange accents on the handlebars. The background is dark and out of focus.
