Roland Barthes Par Roland Barthes:

Roland Barthes by Roland Barthes Roland Barthes, 2020-03-05 The only autobiography by the great Roland Barthes philosopher literary theorist and semiotician This is the autobiography of one of the greatest minds of the twentieth century As idiosyncratic as its author Barthes plays both commentator and subject to reveal his tastes habits passions and regrets No event relationship or thought is given priority over any other no attempt to construct a narrative is made And yet via a series of vignettes Barthes's life and views on a multitude of subjects emerge from money and love to language and truth WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY ADAM PHILLIPS

Roland Barthes Roland Barthes, 1977 Roland Barthes was one of France's leading literary critics and cultural commentators who died in 1980 This work is a kind of autobiography both personal and theoretical giving an account of his tastes his childhood his education his passions and regrets which have gone into his work

Roland Barthes Philip Thody, 1977-06-17 Roland Barthes, 1982 Subject Matters Paul Gifford, Johnnie Gratton, 2000 What can we currently make of the subject Under the sway of structuralism and poststructuralism critical thinking took a distinctly negative turn effectively disqualifying any form of subjectivity as a reference point in discussions of textual or literary meaning Since the mid 1970s however throughout the human sciences human agency has been restored as both a methodological principle and an ethical value a phenomenon broadly designated as the return of the subject Yet the returning subject bears the traces of its problematization The present collection of essays explores the ways in which the subject now matters both in principle and in the variety of critical approaches in authorizes Essays which are both literary and theoretical in character cover authors texts and issues in French literature from Descartes to the present A wide range of types of writing is examined from established forms such as the novel to relatively marginal and generically unsystematized discursive practices such as automatic writing and the roman expérimental Though it shuns closure in a matter which remains ultimately elusive this book offers some account of the types of answer which remain open and of those we have learned to leave behind

Pierre Michon Patrick Crowley, 2007 Pierre Michon is one of France's most significant contemporary writers Since the publication in 1984 of his first book Vies minuscules Michon's work has never ceased to evade generic classifications His work ingests books lives and thought and probes their complex interrelationship and those moments of convergence that transform an ordinary name into that of an Author or of an Artist The contents of Michon's work are well documented they are drawn from canonical novels chronicles archives and the biographies of artists lives and are worked into cross generic forms that revive names and make us rethink the uncertainty of literature Less has been written of his engagement with avant garde thought The legacy of French avant garde thinkers of the 1960s and 1970s in particular the work of Roland Barthes informs Michon's work Barthes's notions of the referent of intertextuality and of authorship for example are transposed reconfigured and sometimes contested within Michon's work In this way Barthes's name the afterlife of his thought remains encrypted within Michon's prose This book situates and reads Michon's texts through the complex inscription and transformation of names drawn from the Creuse literature art and avant garde thought And it is within this matrix that Michon puts in play his own name and its uncertain relation to literature Poststructuralism and Postcoloniality Jane Hiddleston,2010-01-01 This book explores the relation between poststructuralist thought and postcoloniality and identifies in that interaction the expression of a particular anxiety concerning the form of theoretical writing Many so called poststructuralist thinkers such as Derrida Cixous Lyotard Barthes Kristeva and Spivak have turned their attention at some point in their career towards questions either of postcolonialism or of cultural domination and difference For all these thinkers however a reflection on such questions has generated a sense of unease concerning the assumed neutrality of theoretical discourse and the inevitable subjective or autobiographical investments of the writing self The book argues that this anxiety betrays an unprecedented lucidity concerning the particular challenges of writing about ourselves and others at a time of postcolonial upheaval Encyclopedia of Contemporary French Culture Alex Hughes,Keith Reader,1998 More than 700 alphabetically organized entries by an international team of contributors provide a fascinating survey of French culture post 1945 Entries include advertising Beur cinema Coco Chanel decolonization critique feminine football francophone press gay activism Seuil youth culture Entries range from short factual biographical pieces to longer overview articles All are extensively cross referenced and longer entries are facts fronted so important information is clear at a glance It includes a thematic contents list extensive index and suggestions for further reading The Encyclopedia will provide hours of enjoyable browsing for all francophiles and essential cultural context for students of French Modern History Comparative European Studies and Cultural Studies Francis Bacon and the Loss of Self Ernst van Alphen,1992 According to most of the critical commentary on Francis Bacon the paintings by this crucially important artist are about violence torment fragmentation and loss However Ernst van Alphen argues that it is the violence done to the viewer that needs to be addressed if we are to understand how these works function In this provocative and highly original interpretation of Bacon's art the author offers close readings of significant works discussing them in relationship to theories of schizophrenia masculinity and contemporary literature as well as issues of representation and visuality By looking at the paintings in intricate detail and exploring their connections within cultural theory van Alphen brings Bacon into the context of the contemporary critical debate This examination of critical reactions to Bacon is very welcome The Art Newspaper

Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier,2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies Diaries Real and Fictional in

Twentieth-century French Writing Sam Ferguson, 2018 This volume is the first study of the diary in French writing across the twentieth century as a genre which includes both fictional and non fictional works From the 1880s it became apparent to writers in France that their diaries a supposedly private form of writing would probably come to be published strongly affecting the way their readers viewed their other published works and their very persona as an author More than any other Andre Gide embraced the literary potential of the diary the first part of this book follows his experimentation with the diary in the fictional works Les Cahiers d Andre Walter 1891 and Paludes 1895 in his diary of the composition of his great novel Le Journal des faux monnayeurs 1926 and in his monumental Journal 1889 1939 1939 The second part follows developments in diary writing after the Second World War inflected by radical changes in attitudes towards the writing subject Raymond Queneau's works published under the pseudonym of Sally Mara 1947 1962 used the diary playfully at a time when the writing subject was condemned by the literary avant garde Roland Barthes's experiments with the diary 1977 1979 took it to the extremes of its formal possibilities at the point of a return of the writing subject Annie Ernaux's published diaries 1993 2011 demonstrate the role of the diary in the modern field of life writing Throughout the century the diary has repeatedly been used to construct an oeuvre and author but also to call these fundamental literary concepts into question

From Split to Screened Selves Rachel Gabara, 2006 This book is a study of recent autobiographies by French and Francophone African writers and filmmakers all of whom reject simple first person narration and experiment with narrative voice and form to represent fragmented subjectivity Gabara investigates autobiography across media from print to photography and film as well as across the colonial encounter from France to Francophone North and West Africa Reading works by Roland Barthes Nathalie Sarraute Assia Djebar Cyril Collard David Achkar and Raoul Peck she argues that autobiographical film and African autobiography subgenres that have until now been overlooked or dismissed by critics offer new and important possibilities for self representation in the twenty first century Not only do these new forms of autobiography deserve our attention but any study of contemporary autobiography is incomplete without them

Biography in Theory Wilhelm Hemecker, Edward Saunders, 2017-08-07 This textbook is an anthology of significant theoretical discussions of biography as a genre and as a literary historical practice Covering the 18th to the 21st centuries the reader includes programmatic texts by authors such as Herder Carlyle Dilthey Proust Freud Kracauer Woolf and Bourdieu Each text is accompanied by a commentary placing its contribution in critical context Ideal for use in undergraduate seminars this reader may also be of interest for academic researchers in the areas of literary studies and history aiming to get an overview of historical questions in biographical theory This revised and updated English language edition also includes new translations of texts by J G Herder and Stefan Zweig as well as an introductory discussion on the possibility of a theory of biography Note Due to copyright reasons the chapter Sade Fourier Loyola Extract 1971 pp 175 177 by Roland Barthes could not be included in the ebook and on a whole generation of English Literature scholars Reading Notes, 2021-11-01 Reading notes constitute a vast resource for an understanding of literary history and culture They indicate what writers read as well as how they read and what they used in their own work As such they play an important role in both the reception and the production of texts The essays in this volume representing the newest trends in European and international textual scholarship examine literary creation and the relationship between reading and writing To study how readers respond to writing and how reading engenders new writing the contributing scholars no longer take for granted that authors write in splendid isolation but turn to a more broadly sociological investigation of authorship assigning new roles to the writer as reader notetaker annotator book collector and so on Notes and annotations may be fragmentary private undigested and embryonic but as witnesses to the reading process they tell unique stories about writers and readers ranging from great marginalists like Coleridge to women annotators of cookbooks This subject of research is a junction of several fields of research and tries to bridge gaps between separate disciplines with a common ground such as the history of the book the history of reading and the history of writing scholarly editing and textual genetics the analysis commentary and critical interpretation of the way in which works of art come into being bridging the gap between literary and textual criticism Life/Lines Bella Brodzki, Celeste Schenck, 2019-05-15 Autobiography raises a vital issue in feminist critical theory today the imperative need to situate the female subject Life Lines a collection of essays on women's autobiography attempts to meet this need Exploring Postmodernism Matei Calinescu, Douwe Wessel Fokkema, 1987 The great diversity of contexts in which the term Postmodernism is currently encountered reflects the remarkable success of a coinage that has been in circulation for only about forty years It has been used by philosophers sociologists art critics and literary historians to become finally a household word in the language of advertising and politics Before letting it fade to a derelict cliché an attempt is made in this volume of essays to use its potential as a cultural concept for the analysis and understanding of contemporary literature and thought Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture

Characters and Authors in Luigi Pirandello Ann Caesar, 1998 Luigi Pirandello is best known in the English speaking world for his radical challenge to traditional Western theatre with plays such as Six Characters in Search of an Author But theatre is just one manifestation of his experiments with language which led to a remarkable collection of novels short stories and essays as well as his work for a film industry then in its infancy This study which is based on the view that Pirandello's writings are most fruitfully discussed in a European context takes as its starting point the author's belief in the primacy of the literary character in a creative process which is necessarily conflictual The book argues that all Pirandello's characters are engaged in a continual performance which transcends the genre distinction between narrative and dramatic forms In this performance it is the spoken word in which the characters invest most heavily as they struggle to sustain an identity of their own tell their life stories and assert themselves before their most prominent antagonist the author himself
