1990s has become a core development method in certain high profile fields including military and space communications. High cost and problems with hardware availability however prevented this technology from being widely disseminated. The advent of low cost hardware beginning in the 2010s however has made GNU Radio the leading open source software toolkit for developing SDR systems an increasingly viable and even critical tool for a new generation of radiofrequency communication engineers. Communication Systems Engineering with GNU Radio provides an accessible overview of this toolkit and its applications. Beginning with the fundamentals of using GNU radio for digital signal processing the volume then moves to the practicalities of decoding data and the advantages of accessing raw data normally unavailable in hardware defined radiofrequency receivers. The result is a potentially crucial tool for engineers looking to adopt this cost effective and flexible standard for transmitting and processing radiofrequency signals. Readers will also find a careful balance of radio communications theory with GNU Radio practicalities. Practical implementation examples employing well developed open source GNU Radio platforms. Extensive accompanying documentation and explanation. Communication Systems Engineering with GNU Radio is ideal for graduate and undergraduate students in communications systems courses as well as professionals working in SDR.

Combines the latest trends in spectrum sharing both from a research and a standards regulation experimental standpoint. Written by noted professionals from academia industry and research labs this unique book provides a comprehensive treatment of the principles and architectures for spectrum sharing in order to help with the existing and future spectrum crunch issues. It presents readers with the most current standardization trends including CEPT CEE eLSA CBRS MulteFire LTE Unlicensed LTE U LTE WLAN integration with Internet Protocol security tunnel LWIP and LTE Wi Fi aggregation LWA and offers substantial trials and experimental results as well as system level performance evaluation results. The book also includes a chapter focusing on spectrum policy reinforcement and another on the economics of spectrum sharing. Beginning with the historic form of cognitive radio Spectrum Sharing The Next Frontier in Wireless Networks continues with current standardized forms of spectrum sharing and reviews all of the technical ingredients that may arise in spectrum sharing approaches. It also looks at policy and implementation aspects and ponders the future of the field. White spaces and data base assisted spectrum sharing are discussed as well as the licensed shared access approach and cooperative communication techniques. The book also covers reciprocity based beam forming techniques for spectrum sharing in MIMO networks resource allocation for shared spectrum networks large scale wireless spectrum monitoring and much more. Contains all the latest standardization trends.

such as CEPT ECC eLSA CBRS MulteFire LTE Unlicensed LTE U LTE WLAN integration with Internet Protocol security tunnel LWIP and LTE Wi Fi aggregation LWA Presents a number of emerging technologies for future spectrum sharing collaborative sensing cooperative communication reciprocity based beamforming etc as well as novel spectrum sharing paradigms e g in full duplex and radar systems Includes substantial trials and experimental results as well as system level performance evaluation results Contains a dedicated chapter on spectrum policy reinforcement and one on the economics of spectrum sharing Edited by experts in the field and featuring contributions by respected professionals in the field world wide Spectrum Sharing The Next Frontier in Wireless Networks is highly recommended for graduate students and researchers working in the areas of wireless communications and signal processing engineering It would also benefit radio communications engineers and practitioners
