The Number Sense of Nineteenth-Century British Literature

Stefanie Markovits, 2025-01-12 The Number Sense of Nineteenth Century British Literature considers how the avalanche of printed numbers characterizing the period affected its literature It looks at the influence of a variety of cultural and historical movements such as the rise of statistics and of democratic Liberalism and concurrent developments in mathematics This book takes as its starting point and focus the presence of actual numbers ordinal and cardinal Arabic Roman and spelled out in words within the century's literary texts It is through the deployment of such figures that texts display their number sense similarly readers develop the faculty of number sense by paying careful attention to their presence And contemplation of a text's use of numbers while frequently pointing to specific historical contexts also enables more fundamental recognitions about how literature makes meaning The Number Sense asks what kinds of work intellectual and ethical literature's numerical figures perform Why are some writers especially prone to include numbers What affordances do they wield in various literary environments and against the backdrop of the numbery nineteenth century When do textual numbers really count and when do they ask us to keep count How do they stage contests between the one and the many individuals and collectives How do they relate to formal aspects of works like plot and character narrative and lyric Lingering over literary measures illuminates the way numbers help shape texts into the recognizable forms we call genres To that end the book considers the works of poets like Tennyson Wordsworth and Byron and of novelists working in a broad range of genres including Jane Austen George Gissing Charles Dickens Anthony Trollope Lewis Carroll Bram Stoker Wilkie Collins and Thomas Hardy The numbers embedded in their fictions and verse can serve both as valves releasing cultural pressures and as fulcrums places where pressures coincide to create new forms of literary agency

Translation and Literary Studies

Marella Feltrin-Morris, Deborah Folaron, Maria Constanza Guzmán, 2014-04-08 By nature a transdisciplinary area of inquiry translation lends itself to being investigated at its intersection with other fields of study Translation and Literary Studies seeks to highlight the manifold connections between translation and notions of gender dialectics agency philosophy and power The volume also offers a timely homage to renowned translation theorist Marilyn Gaddis Rose who was at the forefront of the group of scholars who initiated and helped to institutionalize translation studies Inspired by Gaddis Rose s work and particularly by her concept of stereoscopic reading the volume is dynamically complementary to the burgeoning contemporary field of global comparative literature underscoring the diversity of critical literary thought and theory worldwide Arranged thematically around questions of translation as literary and cultural criticism as epistemology and as poetics and politics and dealing with works within and beyond the Western tradition the essays in the volume illustrate the multi voiced spectrum of literary translation studies today

British Romanticism and the Science of the Mind Alan Richardson, 2001-07-26 In this provocative and original study Alan Richardson examines an entire range of intellectual cultural and ideological points of contact between British Romantic literary writing and the pioneering brain science of the time Richardson breaks new ground in two fields revealing a significant and undervalued facet of British Romanticism while demonstrating the Romantic character of early neuroscience Crucial notions like the active mind organicism the unconscious the fragmented subject instinct and intuition arising simultaneously within the literature and psychology of the era take on unsuspected valences that transform conventional accounts of Romantic cultural history Neglected issues like the corporeality of mind the role of non linguistic communication and the peculiarly Romantic understanding of cultural universals are reopened in discussions that bring new light to bear on long standing critical puzzles from Coleridge s suppression of Kubla Khan to Wordsworth s perplexing theory of poetic language to Austen s interest in head injury

Ambiguous Discourse Kathy Mezei, 2000-11-09 Carefully melding theory with close readings of texts the contributors to Ambiguous Discourse explore the role of gender in the struggle for narrative control of specific works by British writers Jane Austen Virginia Woolf Anita Brookner Angela Carter Jeanette Winterson and Mina Loy This collection of twelve essays is the first book devoted to feminist narratology the combination of feminist theory with the study of the structures that underpin all narratives Until recently narratology has resisted the advances of feminism in part as some contributors argue because theory has replicated past assumptions of male authority and point of view in narrative Feminist narratology however contextualizes the cultural constructions of gender within its study of narrative strategies Nine of these essays are original and three have been revised for publication in this volume The contributors are Melba Cuddy Keane Denise Delorey Rachel Blau DuPlessis Susan Stanford Friedman Janet Giltrow Linda Hutcheon Susan S Lanser Alison Lee Patricia Matson Kathy Mezei Christine Roulston and Robyn Warhol Library of Choice Literature and Encyclopaedia of Universal Authorship Ainsworth Rand Spofford, Charles Gibbon, 1895 Notes and Queries: a Medium of Inter-communication for Literary Men, Artists, Antiquaries, Genealogists, Etc , 1891 English reformation to the fall of Poland , 1897
