Marshall,2011 The Henry Moore Institute is a world recognised centre for the study of sculpture in the heart of Leeds An award winning exhibitions venue research centre library and sculpture archive the Institute hosts a year round programme of exhibitions conferences lectures research and publications that aim to expand the understanding and scholarship of historical and contemporary sculpture It is a part of The Henry Moore Foundation which was set up by Moore in 1977 to encourage appreciation of the visual arts especially sculpture Sculpture and the Museum is the first in depth examination of the varying roles and meanings assigned to sculpture in museums and galleries during the modern period from neo classical to contemporary art practice It considers a rich array of curatorial strategies and settings in order to examine the many reasons why sculpture has enjoyed a position of such considerable importance and complexity within the institutional framework of the museum and how changes to the museum have altered in turn the ways that we perceive the sculpture within it In particular the contributors consider the complex issue of how best to display sculpture across different periods and according to varying curatorial philosophies Sculptors discussed include Canova Rodin Henry Moore Flaxman and contemporary artists such as Rebecca Horn Rachel Whiteread Mark Dion and Olafur Eliasson with a variety of museums in America Canada the UK and Europe presented as case studies Underlying all of these discussions is a concern to chart the critical importance of the acquisition placement and display of sculpture in museums and to explore the importance of sculptures as a forum for the expression of programmatic statements of power prestige and the museum's own sense of itself in relation to its audience and its broader institutional aspirations We have become familiar with the notion that sculpture has moved into the expanded field but this field has remained remarkably faithful to defining sculpture on its own terms Sculpture can be distinct but it is rarely autonomous For too long studied apart within a monographic or survey format sculpture demands to be reintegrated with the other histories of which it is a part In the interests of representing recent moves in this direction this series will provide a forum for the publication and stimulation of new research examining sculpture's relationship with the world around it with other disciplines and with other material contexts
