The Spiritual Roots Of Restorative Justice:

The Spiritual Roots of Restorative Justice Michael L. Hadley, 2001-02-08 This interdisciplinary study explores what major spiritual traditions say in text tradition and current practice about criminal justice in general and Restorative Justice in particular. It reflects the close collaboration of scholars and professionals engaged in multifaith reflection on the theory and practice of criminal law. A variety of traditions are explored: Aboriginal spirituality, Buddhism, Chinese religions, Christianity, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, and Sikhism. Drawing on a wide range of literature and experience in the field of Restorative Justice and recognizing the ongoing interdisciplinary research into the complex relationships between religion and violence, the contributors clarify how faith-based principles of reconciliation, restoration, and healing might be implemented in pluralistic, multicultural societies.

The Spiritual Roots of Restorative Justice Michael L. Hadley, 2001-02-08 Explores the concept of Restorative Justice in diverse spiritual traditions.

Restorative Justice Dialogue Mark Umbreit, Marilyn Peterson Armour, 2010-06-22 Although Restorative Justice Dialogue is not a long text, it is an impressive achievement. Each chapter is rich in content as Umbreit and Armour blend theory, practice, empirical research, and case studies to discuss a range of topics from specific models of restorative justice to the role of facilitators in restorative justice dialogue.

PsycCRITIQUES Restorative Justice Dialogue presents a thorough and comprehensive explanation and assessment of the current state of restorative justice in the world. Journal of Social Work Values and Ethics: An evidence-based description of the history, practices, and future of restorative dialogue that is informed by the values and principles of law, social work, and spirituality. This is an impressive achievement. Daniel W. Van Ness, Prison Fellowship International, Washington, DC. I know of no other book that provides such a complete review of the various and emerging restorative practices and the phenomenal growth of this movement worldwide. David Karp, PhD, Skidmore College. The combination of two outstanding and widely recognized restorative justice researchers, practitioners, and authors has produced a text that is destined to be a major resource. Katherine Van Wormer, PhD, University of Northern Iowa. This book provides a comprehensive foundation for understanding restorative justice and its application worldwide to numerous social issues. Backed by reviews of empirical research and case examples, the authors describe the core restorative justice practices, including victim-offender mediation, family group conferencing, and peacemaking circles, as well as cultural considerations, emerging variations in a wide variety of settings, and the crucial role of the facilitator. Together, authors Umbreit and Armour bring the latest empirical research and clinical wisdom to those invested in the research and practice of restorative justice. Key topics: Spiritual components of restorative justice; Victim-offender mediation; Family group conferencing; Peacemaking circles; Victim-offender dialogue in crimes of severe violence; Dimensions of culture in restorative justice; Humanistic mediation; Application to domestic violence, higher education, and incarceration.
