Remembering Africa Dirk Göttsche, 2013 This is the first comprehensive study of contemporary German literature's intense engagement with German colonialism and with Germany's wider involvement in European colonialism Building on the author's decade of research and publication in the field the book discusses some fifty novels by German Swiss and Austrian writers among them Hans Christoph Buch Alex Capus Christof Hamann Lukas Hartmann Ilona Maria Hilliges Giseler W Hoffmann Dieter K hn Hermann Schulz Gerhard Seyfried Thomas von Steinaecker Uwe Timm Ilija Trojanow and Stephan Wackwitz Drawing on international postcolonial theory the German tradition of cross cultural literary studies and on memory studies the book brings the hitherto neglected German case to the international debate in postcolonial literary studies Publisher website July 5 2013

Unsettling Education Anna-Leah King, Kathleen O'Reilly, Patrick J. Lewis, 2024-07-19 This edited collection tackles unsettling as an emerging field of study that calls for settlers to follow Indigenous leadership and relationality and work toward disrupting the colonial reality through their everyday lives Bringing together Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars and activists Unsettling Education considers how we can reconcile and transcend ongoing settler colonialism The contributors reflect on how the three concepts of unsettling Indigenization and decolonization overlap and intersect in practical and theoretical ways Questions are raised such as how can we recognize and address historical and current injustices that have been imposed upon Indigenous Peoples and their lands How can we respect the fundamental and inherent sovereignty and rights of Indigenous Peoples as we work toward reconciliation And how do we work collectively to build more equitable and just communities for all who call Canada home Unsettling Education is well suited for college and university courses in Indigenous studies or education that focus on decolonization land based learning Indigenization unsettling and reconciliation

Science Fiction and the Historical Novel Ian P. MacDonald, Kate Polak, 2024-09-16 If you woke to realize that you could rewrite your yesterday without knowing the kind of tomorrow it would grant you would you do it Are the authors of our destiny working with an outline or spit balling confusing plotlines Since the past changes possible futures to what alighting butterfly should we pay the most heed This book explores the liminal space between speculative fiction and the historical novel Staged as a transnational multicultural conversation it takes up a call originally made by Fredric Jameson in Archaeologies of the Future wherein he describes that flashpoint between speculative and historical genres as the symptom of a mutation in our relationship to historical time itself Drawing together postcolonial feminist cultural Indigenous and cognitive approaches Science Fiction and the Historical Novel asks what the past can offer a future oriented world and how the future can be imagined in relation to a past that seeks narratives of inevitability rather than possibility Engaged with the idea of the past as a model for the future authors in this volume probe the extent to which historical scripts delimit possibilities and how authors engaged with the practice of alternative pasts rewrite potentialities in the present The

Settler's Plot Alex Calder,2013-10-01 Europeans arrive on a beach make markets and push inland They take the land and transform it They make themselves at home they dream of other places And the stories they write take shape in settings the beach the farm the bush the suburb that become imaginary versions of actual places Those settings sometimes host stories that are too simple too flattering too blaming but in the work of our best writers a richer history of settlement comes into focus Taking a new approach to the cultural history of this country The Settler s Plot is a study of the relationship between literature and place in New Zealand Through fascinating and unpredictable readings of some of our greatest literature from Maning and Guthrie Smith to Mansfield Sargeson Curnow and Frame Calder investigates the often contradictory meanings that Pakeha have found in our most familiar settings Lewisham public libraries.
