Stuart Amélie Claire Leroy,1892 Octavia E. Butler Chi-ming Yang,2024-12-04 An homage to the childhood genius of Black science fiction writer Octavia E Butler Bringing to view a selection of Butler s unpublished writings and drawings this book traces her fascination with human alien symbiosis to her early empathy with horses and other marginalized creatures The figure of the horse at once earthly and transcendent represented the contradictions of freedom and captivity that enabled young Octavia to develop her nuanced sense of voice and place Drawing on previously unknown archival research this volume illustrates how Butler s development as a writer was tied to her extraordinary resourcefulness and self awareness growing up as an awkward bookish Black girl in segregated Cold War Pasadena She persistently re visited and revised her early writings on teenage angst Martians Westerns and racial politics In one way or another her supernatural characters defied the constraints of gender race and class with equine inflected resilience In the spirit of Butler s passion for library research this book is comprised of twenty six short A Z chapters on vocabulary images and themes central to her authorial formation It is part childhood biography art and literary analysis and memoir It interweaves the author s personal recollections with scholarly musings on poetry film and literature inspired by Butler s encyclopedic reading habits and experiments with genre Just as cross species kinships are at the heart of her Afro futurist eco feminist storytelling Butler demonstrates that coming of age is an ongoing process and key to healing our damaged planet How to Revise a True War Story John K. Young,2017-01-15 You can tell a true war story if you just keep on telling it Tim O Brien writes in The Things They Carried Widely regarded as the most important novelist to come out of the American war in Viet Nam O Brien has kept on telling true war stories not only in narratives that cycle through multiple fictional and non fictional versions of the war s defining experiences but also by rewriting those stories again and again Key moments of revision extend from early drafts to the initial appearance of selected chapters in magazines across typescripts and page proofs for first editions and through continuing post publication variants in reprints How to Revise a True War Story is the first book length study of O Brien s archival papers at the University of Texas s Harry Ransom Center Drawing on extensive study of drafts and other prepublication materials as well as the multiple published versions of O Brien s works John K Young tells the untold stories behind the production of such key texts as Going After Cacciato The Things They Carried and In the Lake of the Woods By reading not just the texts that have been published but also the versions they could have been Young demonstrates the important choices O Brien and his editors have made about how to represent the traumas of the war in Viet Nam The result is a series of texts that refuse to settle into a finished or stable form just as the stories they present insist on being told and retold in new and changing ways In their lack of textual stability these variants across different versions enact for O Brien s readers the kinds of narrative volatility that is key to the American literature emerging from the war in Viet Nam Perhaps in this case you can tell a true war story if you just keep on revising it      "Reading the Wind" Timothy J. Lomperis, John Clark Pratt, 1987 The decade following the American defeat in Vietnam has been filled with doubts about American politics and values confusion over the lessons of the war and anger about the physical and psychological suffering that occurred during the war as well as thereafter In the years since the U S withdrawal our need to make sense of Vietnam has prompted an outpouring of thinking and writing from scholarly reappraisals of American foreign policy to highly personal accounts of participants On the tenth anniversary of the final U S withdrawal the Asia Society sponsored a conference on the Vietnam experience in American literature at which leading writers critics publishers commentators and academics wrestled with this phenomenon Drawing on the synergy of this conference Timothy J Lomperis has produced an original work that focuses on the growing body of literature including novels personal accounts and oral histories which describes the experiences of American soldiers in Vietnam as well as the experience of veterans upon their return home      Sir Nigel: A Novel of the Hundred Years' War Arthur Conan Doyle, 2023-09-03 Reproduction of the original The publishing house Megali specialises in reproducing historical works in large print to make reading easier for people with impaired vision      A Bright Tomorrow (American Century Book #1) Gilbert Morris, 2005-08-01 Meet the Stuart family eight children raised in the hills of Arkansas by their godly and determined mother Marian who does her best to lead her children to Christ But as her three oldest Lylah Amos and Owen each decide to go their own ways none seem to follow the path Marian has laid out for them Set at the turn of the twentieth century this first of the American Century series tells the story of a time of growth and opportunity Filled with historical figures such as Theodore Roosevelt and James Randolph Hearst this fascinating book will draw readers into the exciting events of the time and the lives of the family it follows As the Stuarts mature so does a young nation racked with uncertainty and growing pains of its own Previously published as A Time to Be Born      General Knowledge Today (Updated Edition) Book 7 S.K. Gupta & Anubhuti Gangal, The General Knowledge Update section enumerating important events during the current year forms a special feature of these books The information on diverse subject is provided through Informative as well as Interactive approach Perforated Answer Key at the end of the book facilitates both students and teachers 3 The information on diverse subject is provided through Informative as well as Interactive approach 4 Perforated Answer Key at the end of the book facilitates both students and teachers      Dictionary of Real People and Places in Fiction M.C. Rintoul, 2014-03-05 Fascinating and comprehensive in scope the Dictionary of Real People and Places in Fiction is a valuable source for both students and teachers of literature and for those interested in locating the facts behind the fiction they read In a single scholarly volume it provides intriguing insight into the real identity of people and places in the novels of over 300 American and British authors published in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries      A Distant Melody (Wings of Glory Book #1) Sarah Sundin, 2010-03-01 Never pretty enough to please her gorgeous mother Allie will do anything to gain her approval even marry a man she doesn't love Lt Walter Novak fearless in the cockpit but hopeless with women takes his last furlough at home in California before being shipped overseas Walt and Allie meet at a wedding and their love of music draws them together prompting them to begin a correspondence that will change their lives As letters fly between Walt s muddy bomber base in England and Allie s mansion in an orange grove their friendship binds them together But can they untangle the secrets commitments and expectations that keep them apart A Distant Melody is the first book in the WINGS OF GLORY series which follows the three Novak brothers B 17 bomber pilots with the US Eighth Air Force stationed in England during World War II     St. Dunstan's fair, by M. and C.
