The Song Of Everlasting Sorrow A Novel Of Shanghai:

The Song of Everlasting Sorrow Anyi Wang, 2008 The Song of Everlasting Sorrow follows the adventures of Wang Qiyao a girl born of the crowded labyrinthine alleys of Shanghai's working class neighborhoods Infatuated with the glitz and glamour of 1940s Hollywood Wang Qiyao seeks fame in the Miss Shanghai beauty pageant and this fleeting moment of stardom becomes the pinnacle of her life After the Communist victory Wang Qiyao continues to indulge in the decadent pleasures of the Shanghai bourgeoisie secretly playing mahjong during the antirightist campaign and exchanging lovers on the eve of the Cultural Revolution She reemerges in the 1980s as a purveyor of old Shanghai only to become embroiled in a tragedy that echoes the Hollywood noirs of her youth Wang Anyi's The Song of Everlasting Sorrow Catherine A. Saint Jean, 2017 This study is a close reading through selected passages of Wang Anyi's novel chang hen ge The Song of Everlasting Sorrow A Novel of Shanghai It uses the English translation of Michael Berry and Susan Chan Egan and Wang Anyi's original Chinese text This study is informed by other works of fiction set in Shanghai and by various works of literary analysis Reading The Song of Everlasting Sorrow A Novel of Shanghai chang hen ge as a shishi poet historian novel of the 1990s posits that as a writer of the Cultural Revolution's Lost Generation Wang creates a poetic allusion to convey the pain experienced in contemplating the imposed historiographies of her lifetime historiographies that forestall a close examination of the Cultural Revolution and erase the 1989 Tian Anmen events The elegiac reference to the past and allusion to the present are achieved in the novel through the author's appropriation of the poetic genre of huaigu a meditation on the past The creation of the narrator as a poet storyteller persona allows for a metatext on the moral implication of historical amnesia The metatext on historiography and the elegiac evocation of sorrow through huaigu are key features that confer a shishi poet historian quality to Wang Anyi's novel

Contemporary Chinese Novels in Translation since 1978 Yun Wu, 2024-10-14 This book aims to complement the traditional focus of translation studies which has primarily centered on translating English into other languages It presents a comprehensive analysis of the reverse translation trajectory exploring the movement of Chinese literature into the core English literary domain The book aims to explore the ideological and sociological dynamics that underlie the translation of contemporary Chinese novels This is achieved through an examination of the translation selection process translation paratexts and the roles of translation agents Case studies are employed to illustrate specific linguistic literary and cultural challenges within translation It dissects the cultural and literary implications of translating genres such as women's writing science fiction and Internet literature The argument presented is that the translation of peripheral literature is indispensable in shaping global literature Beyond its literary implications the book identifies the political significance inherent in such reverse translation endeavors It suggests that the translation of Chinese literature holds notable political interest for the Chinese government which aims to reshape China's image and bolster the nation's soft power through literary translation This work will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies

comparative literature and Chinese studies Subjectivity and Sexuality in Contemporary Chinese Feminist Writing
Ruttapond Swanpitak, 2025-02-17 This book explores representations of female sexuality and subjectivity in contemporary Chinese fiction by three women writers published from 1986 to 2000 from the perspective of poststructuralist feminism It discusses the representative works of authors Wang Anyi Tie Ning and Chi Li who are well known in the Chinese literary field However their works have not to date been analysed through the poststructuralist feminism s notions of subjectivity femininity and transgression This book then provides detailed analysis of each writer and draws comparisons between their works to provide an extended consideration of female sexuality and subjectivity within post Mao Chinese fiction In this respect this book not only offers fresh insights into the three authors fiction but also contributes to the feminist study of Chinese women s writing Additionally the research contributes to a better understanding of contemporary Chinese culture in relation to patriarchy misogyny feminism differences and resistance It is relevant to scholars in the fields of China studies Chinese literature feminist literature and gender studies Semiotics of Exile in Contemporary Chinese Film H. fiction By placing sinologists cum translators in the same discourse space the study transcends the limitations of previous case studies and offers a comprehensive cognitive panorama of how Chinese novels are rendered The author explores the challenges and difficulties of translating Chinese fiction from the insider perspectives of British and American sinologists and cross validates their multiple voices by aligning them with cross cultural communication scenarios Based on the cognitive construction model of translation the book provides a systematic review of the translation thoughts and ideas of the community of sinologists in terms of linguistic conventions narrative styles contextual and cultural frames readership categories and metaphorical models of translation It envisions a new research path to enhance empirical research on translators cognition in a dynamic translation ecosystem The title will be an essential read for students and scholars of translation studies and Chinese studies It will also appeal to translators and researchers interested in cognitive stylistics literary studies and intercultural communication studies

An Infinite History Emma Rothschild, 2022-08-30 An innovative history of deep social and economic changes in France told through the story of a single extended family across five generations Marie Aymard was an illiterate widow who lived in the provincial town of Angoulême in southwestern France a place where seemingly nothing ever happened Yet in 1764 she made her fleeting mark on the historical record through two documents a power of attorney in connection with the property of her late husband a carpenter on the island of Grenada and a prenuptial contract for her daughter signed by eighty three people in Angoulême Who was Marie Aymard Who were all these people And why were they together on a dark afternoon in December 1764 Beginning with these questions An Infinite History offers a panoramic look at an extended family over five generations Through ninety eight connected stories about inquisitive sociable individuals ending with Marie Aymard's great great granddaughter in 1906 Emma Rothschild unfurls an innovative modern history of social and family networks emigration immobility the French Revolution and the transformation of nineteenth century economic life Rothschild spins a vast narrative resembling a period novel one that looks at a large obscure family of whom almost no private letters survive whose members traveled to Syria Mexico and Tahiti and whose destinies were profoundly unequal from a seamstress living in poverty in Paris to her third cousin the cardinal of Algiers Rothschild not only draws on discoveries in local archives but also uses new technologies including the visualization of social networks large scale searches and groundbreaking methods of genealogical research An Infinite History demonstrates how the ordinary lives of one family over three centuries can constitute a remarkable record of deep social and economic changes

Lost Souls Sun-wŏn Hwang, 2010 These captivating short stories portray three major periods in modern Korean history the forces of colonial modernity during the late 1930s the postcolonial struggle to rebuild society after four decades of oppression emasculation and cultural exile 1945 to 1950 and the attempt to reconstruct a shattered land and a traumatized nation after the Korean War Lost Souls echoes the exceptional work of China's Shen Congwen and Japan's Kawabata Yasunari Modernist narratives set in the metropolises of Tokyo and Pyongyang alternate with starkly realistic portraits of rural life Surrealist tales suggest the unsettling sensation of colonial domination while stories of the outcast embody the thrill and terror of independence and survival in a land dominated by tradition and devastated by war Written during the chaos of 1945 Booze recounts a fight between Koreans for control of a former Japanese owned distillery Toad relates the suffering created by hundreds of thousands of returning refugees and stories from the 1950s confront the catastrophes of the Korean War and the problematic desire for autonomy Visceral and versatile Lost Souls is a classic work on the possibilities of transition that showcases the innovation and craftsmanship of a consummate and widely celebrated storyteller River of Fire and Other Stories Chōnghŭi O,2012 These nine stories range from O Chonghui s first published work in 1968 to one of her last publications in 1994 Her early stories are compact often chilling accounts of family dysfunction reflecting the decline of traditional agrarian economics and the rise of urban industrial living Later stories are more expansive weaving eloquent occasionally wistful reflections on lost love and tradition together with provocative explorations of sexuality and gender

There's Nothing I Can Do When I Think of You Late at Night Naiqian Cao,2009-05-20 Set among a remote cluster of cave dwellings in Shanxi province There s Nothing I Can Do When I Think of You Late at Night is a genre defying expos of rural communism In a series of vivid interlocking vignettes several narrators speak of adultery bestiality incest and vice revealing the consequences of desire in a world of necessity The Wen Clan Caves are based on an isolated village where the author Cao Naiqian lived during the Cultural Revolution The land is hard and unforgiving and the people suffer in poverty and ignorance Through the individual perspectives of the Wen Clan denizens a complete portrait of village life takes shape Dark yet lyrical Cao s snapshots range from pastoral stories of childhood innocence to shocking accounts of brutality and terror His work echoes William Faulkner s Go Down Moses and Sherwood Anderson s Winesburg Ohio yet the author s depictions of elemental passions and regional mores make the book entirely his own Celebrated for its economy of expression flashes of humor and an emphasis on understatement rarely found in Chinese fiction There s Nothing I Can Do When I Think of You Late at Night is an excellent introduction to the power and craft of Cao Naiqian His vivid personalities and unflinching realism herald the haunting work of an original literary force Meeting with My Brother Mun-yol Yi,2017-04-04 Yi Mun yol s Meeting with My Brother is narrated by a middle aged South Korean professor also named Yi whose father abandoned his family and defected to the North at the outbreak of the Korean War Many years later despite having spent most of his life under a cloud of suspicion as the son of a traitor Yi is prepared to reunite with his father Yet before a rendezvous on the Chinese border can be arranged his father dies Yi then learns for the first time that he has a half brother whom he chooses to meet instead As the two confront their shared legacy their encounter takes a surprising turn Meeting with My Brother represents the political and psychological complexity of Koreans on both sides of the border offering a complex yet poignant perspective on the divisions between the two countries Through a series of charged conversations Yi explores the nuances of reunification both political and personal This semiautobiographical account draws on Yi s own experience of growing up with an absent father who defected to the North and the stigma of family disloyalty First published in Korea in 1994 Meeting with My Brother is a moving and illuminating portrait of the relationships sundered by one of the world's starkest barriers

Theory of Literature and Other Critical Writings Sōseki Natsume, 2009 The Theory of Literature foreshadows the ideas and concepts that would later form the critical foundations of formalism structuralism reader response theory cognitive science and postcolonialism It remains an unprecedented work of literary theory unmistakably modern yet also clearly and self-consciously non-Western In a later series of lectures and essays Soseki continued to develop his ideas This material some of it never before translated into English is also included in the volume The editors offer a critical introduction that contextualizes Soseki's theoretical project historically and explores its contemporary legacy

BOOK JACKET The Curious Tale of Mandogi's Ghost Sekihan Kin, 2010 The Curious Tale of Mandogi's Ghost incorporates Korean folk tales ghost stories and myth into a phenomenal depiction of epic tragedy Written by a zainichi a permanent resident of Japan who is not of Japanese ancestry the novel tells the story of Mandogi a young priest living on the island of Cheju do Mandogi becomes unwittingly involved in the Four Three Incident of 1948 in which the South Korean government brutally suppressed an armed peasant uprising and purged Cheju do of communist sympathizers Although Mandogi is sentenced to death for his part in the riot he survives in a sense to take revenge on his enemies and fully commit himself to the resistance Mandogi's indeterminate shapeshifting character is emblematic of Japanese colonialism's outsized impact on both ruler and ruled A central work of postwar Japanese fiction The Curious Tale of Mandogi's Ghost relates the trauma of a long forgotten history and its indelible imprint on Japanese and Korean memory

There a Petal Silently Falls Yun Ch'oe, 2008 At once experimental polyvocal and politically engaged the stories collected in There a Petal Silently Falls offer a rich evocative exploration of violence trauma and loss in divided Korea Ch'oe's stories take us well beyond previous literary representations of national division and the 1980 Kwangju Massacre by probing the relationship among desire fantasy and memory all the while locating gender at the center of the making of history

Humans, Beasts, and Ghosts Zhongshu Qian, 2011 This book brings together the essay collection Written in the margins of life Xie zai ren sheng bian shang and the short story collection Human beast ghost Ren shou gui

Remnants of Refusal Erin Shevaugn Schlumpf, 2025-05-01 Analyzes how French and Chinese literary and filmic texts enact a series of feminist affective responses to the erasure of historical trauma Remnants of Refusal traces an affective discourse of feminist refusal across a series of French and Chinese works of film and literature Developing an inventive comparative approach Erin Shevaugn Schlumpf argues that this discourse takes shape in response to two national traumas and their aftermath the German Occupation and the Tiananmen Square Massacre respectively In both contexts events associated with the trauma were effectively erased from the official historical record and replaced by an unwritten code of public secrecy And in both contexts three affects melancholy ambivalence and exhaustion provide means of expressing mourning without breaking the taboo of direct representation In films and literary texts by Wang Anyi Chen Ran Jia Zhangke

Nathalie Sarraute Marguerite Duras Jean Luc Godard and others mourning is most frequently borne by and through the bodies of women generating a broader feminist counternarrative to historical forgetting and burgeoning neoliberalism
