Do You Feel it Too? Nicoline Timmer, 2010 Do You Feel It Too explores a new sense of self that is becoming manifest in experimental fiction written by a generation of authors who can be considered the heirs of the postmodern tradition It offers a precise in depth analysis of a new post postmodern direction in fiction writing and highlights which aspects are most acute in the post postmodern novel Most notable is the emphatic expression of feelings and sentiments and a drive toward inter subjective connection and communication The self that is presented in these post postmodern works of fiction can best be characterized as relational To analyze this new sense of self a new interpretational method is introduced that offers a sophisticated approach to fictional selves combining the insights of post classical narratology and what is called narrative psychology Close analyses of three contemporary experimental texts Infinite Jest 1996 by David Foster Wallace A Heartbreaking Work of Staggering Genius 2000 by Dave Eggers and House of Leaves 2000 by Mark Danielewski provide insight into the typical problems that the self experiences in postmodern cultural contexts Three such problems or symptoms are singled out and analyzed in depth an inability to choose because of a lack of decision making tools a difficulty to situate or appropriate feelings and a structural need for a we a desire for connectivity and sociality The critique that can be distilled from these texts especially on the perceived solipsistic quality of postmodern experience worlds runs parallel to developments in recent critical theory These developments in fiction and theory both signal in the wake of poststructural conceptions of subjectivity a perhaps much awaited turn to the human in our culture at large today notions are reflected in Faulkner's prose Faulkner's fiction contains frequent questions about the ways in which white Americans view themselves with regard to race along with challenges to the racial codes and standards of the region and complex portrayals of the interactions between blacks and whites Throughout his work Faulkner contests white identity its performance by whites and those passing for white its role in shaping the South and its assumption of normative identity in opposition to non white Others This is true even in novels without a strong visible African American presence such as As I Lay Dying The Hamlet The Town and The Mansion Faulkner and Whiteness explores the ways in which Faulkner's fiction addresses and destabilizes the concept of whiteness in American culture Collectively the essays argue that whiteness as part of the Nobel Laureate's consistent querying of racial dynamics is a central element This anthology places Faulkner's oeuvre and scholarly views of it in the contexts of its contemporary literature and academic trends exploring race and texts
