The Story Of Forgetting A Novel:

The Story Of Forgetting Stefan Merrill Block, 2008-07-01 Fifteen year old Seth Waller is devastated when his mother is diagnosed with a rare early onset form of Alzheimer's. When he was growing up his mother always brushed aside questions about her past and family and Seth realises that soon he will lose his chance to find out any more. He decides to uncover the truth about her life, their family history and the condition and what he discovers is more surprising than he ever could have imagined. Inspired partly by Stefan Merrill Block's own family history, The Story of Forgetting is a moving and inspiring novel of love, loss, hope and genetic destiny.

Fictions of Dementia Susanne Katharina Christ, 2022-09-20 Taking its cues from both classical and post-classical narratologies, this study explores both forms and functions of the representation of dementia in Anglophone fictions. Initially, dementia is conceptualised as a narrative epistemological paradox: The more those affected know what it is like to have dementia, the less they can tell about it. Narrative fiction is the only discourse that provides an imaginative glimpse at the subjective experience of dementia in language. The narratological modelling of four narrative modes elaborates how the paradox becomes productive in fiction. Depending on the narrative perspective taken but also on the type of narration, the technique for representing consciousness and the epistemic strategy of narrating dementia, the respective narrative modes come with different prerequisites and possibilities for narrating dementia. The analysis of four contemporary Anglophone dementia fictions based on the developed model reveals their potential functions. Fiction allows readers to learn about the challenges of dementia, grants them perspective, taking it trains cognitive flexibility and explores the meaning of memory, knowledge, narrative and imagination and thus also offers trajectories of a cultural coping with dementia.

The Experimental Turn in the Moroccan Novel, 1976-1989 Anouar El YOUNSSI, 2024-12-03 The Experimental Turn in the Moroccan Novel, 1976-1989 examines the trajectory of the Moroccan experimental novel and makes a link between its emergence in the early mid 1970s and the Arab defeat in the six-day war with Israel in 1967. Drawing on works by Mu'ammad Barr dah, Abdull h al Arw, A mad al Mad n and others, the book contends that the Moroccan experimental novel reflects an historic turning point and transitional cultural landscape. It further shows that the experimental novel laid the ground for a different vision of literature, an important feature of which was the intent to surpass the traditional realist model as executed by Moroccan novelist Abdulkar m Ghall b (1919-2017) and Egyptian Nobel laureate Naj b Ma f (1911-2006). This new vision of literature seeks to create new discursive spheres for the treatment of the social and the political. This book will be an important contribution to debates around Moroccan Arabic Maghrebi literature as well as to the field of literary experimentalism more broadly The Language of Fiction in a World of Pain Barbara J. Eckstein, 1990-10 This book offers new and provocative readings of Milan Kundera's Book of Laughter and Forgetting J M Coetzee's Waiting for the Barbarians and Life and Times of Michael K selected short fiction of Nadine Gordimer and Grace Paley Ibuse Masuji's Black Rain John Hawkes's Travesty and others Proust, Beckett, and Narration James H. Reid, 2003-10-13 This is a comprehensive comparison of the narrative techniques of two of the twentieth century's most important writers of prose Using a combination of theoretical analysis and close readings of Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu and Beckett's trilogy of novels Molloy Malone Dies and The Unnamable James H Reid compares the two novelists' use of first person narration in constructing and demystifying fictions of consciousness Reid focuses on the narrator's search to represent the voice that speaks the novel a search he argues that structures first person narration in the works of both novelists He examines in detail the significant impact of Proust's writing on Beckett's own work as well as Beckett's subtle reworkings of Proust's themes and strategies This study is an important contribution to critical literature and offers fresh perspectives on the crucial importance of the Recherche and the trilogy in the context of the twentieth century novel The Madwoman Can't Speak Marta Caminero-Santangelo, 1998 In this work the subversive madwoman first appropriated by feminist theorists and critics is re-evaluated How the author asks can such a figure be subversive if she's effectively imprisoned silent and unseen Taking issue with a prominent strand of current feminist literary criticism Caminero Santangelo identifies a counternarrative in writing by women in the last half of the 20th century one which rejects madness even as a symbolic resolution Kundera and Modernity Liisa Steinby, 2013-02-28 While a large amount of scholarship about Milan Kundera's work exists in Liisa Steinby's opinion his work has not been studied within the context of European modernity as a sociohistorical and a cultural concept Of course he is considered to be a modernist writer some call him even a postmodernist but what the broader concept of modernity intellectually historically socially and culturally means for him and how this is expressed in his texts has not been thoroughly examined Steinby's book fills this vacuum by analyzing Kundera's novels from the viewpoint of his understanding of the existential problems in the culture of modernity In addition his relation to those modernist novelists from the first half of the twentieth century who are most important for him is scrutinized in detail Steinby's Kundera and Modernity is intended for students of modernism in literary and comparative cultural studies as well as those interested in European and Central European studies Alzheimer's Disease in Contemporary U.S. Fiction Cristina Garrigós, 2021-07-28 This volume seeks to bring readers to a deeper understanding of contemporary cultural and social configurations of Alzheimer's disease by analyzing 21st century U S novels in which the disease plays a key narrative role Via analysis of selected works Garrigós considers how the erasure of memory in a person with Alzheimer's affects our idea of the identity of that person and their sense of belonging to a group Starting out from three different types of memory individual social and cultural the study focuses on the narrative strategies that authors use to configure how the disease is perceived and represented This study is significant not only because of what the texts reveal about those with Alzheimer s but also for what they say about us about the authors and readers who are producing and consuming these texts about how we see this disease and what our attitudes to it say about contemporary U S society Bakhtin and his Others Liisa Steinby,Tintti Klapuri,2013-03-01 Bakhtin and his Others aims to develop an understanding of Mikhail Bakhtin s ideas through a contextual approach particularly with a focus on Bakhtin studies from the 1990s onward The volume offers fresh theoretical insights into Bakhtin s ideas on inter subjectivity and temporality including his concepts of chronotope and literary polyphony by reconsidering his ideas in relation to the sources he employs and taking into account later research on similar topics The case studies show how Bakhtin s ideas when seen in light of this approach can be constructively employed in contemporary literary research Translating Milan Kundera Michelle Woods,2006-01-01 Michelle Woods uses new archival research to view the wider cultural scope of the translation issue involving the controversies surrounding Milan Kundera s novels She focuses on the language of the novels his lost works writing as translation interpretation and censorship Female Gothic Histories Diana Wallace,2013-03-15 Female Gothic Histories Gender History and the Gothic is an innovative new study of the ways in which women writers have used Gothic historical fiction to symbolise and counter their exclusion from traditional historical narratives Ageing, Gender, and Illness in Anglophone Literature Heike Hartung,2015-12-07 This study establishes age as a category of literary history delineating age in its interaction with gender and narrative genre Based on the historical premise that the view of ageing as a burden emerges as a specific narrative in the late eighteenth century the study highlights how the changing experience of ageing is shaped by that of gender By reading the Bildungsroman as a coming of age novel the book asks how the telling of a life in time affects individual age narratives Bringing together the different perspectives of age and disability studies the book argues that illness is already an important issue in the Bildungsroman s narratives of ageing This theoretical stance provides new interpretations of canonical novels visiting authors such as Johann Wolfgang Goethe Frances Burney Maria Edgeworth Jane Austen Charles Dickens George Eliot Samuel Beckett and Jonathan Franzen Drawing on the link between age and illness in the Bildungsroman s age narratives the genre of dementia narrative is presented as one of the directions which the Bildungsroman takes after its classical period Applying these theoretical perspectives to canonical novels of the nineteenth century and to the new genre of dementia narrative the volume also provides new insights into literary and genre history This book introduces a new theoretical approach to cultural age studies and offers a comprehensive analysis of the connection between narratology literary theory gender and age studies Global Matters Paul Jay,2014-02-15 As the pace of cultural globalization accelerates the discipline of literary studies is undergoing dramatic transformation Scholars and critics focus increasingly on theorizing difference and complicating the geographical framework defining their approaches At the same time Anglophone literature is being created by a remarkably transnational multicultural group of writers exploring many of the same concerns including the intersecting effects of colonialism decolonization migration and globalization Paul Jay surveys these developments highlighting key debates within literary and cultural studies about the impact of globalization over the past two decades Global Matters provides a concise informative overview of theoretical critical and curricular issues driving the transnational turn in literary studies and how these issues have come to dominate contemporary global fiction as well Through close imaginative readings Jay analyzes the intersecting histories of colonialism decolonization and globalization engaged by an array of texts from Africa Europe South Asia and the Americas including Zadie Smith's White Teeth Junot Diaz's The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao Kiran Desai's The Inheritance of Loss Arundhati Roy's The God of Small Things Vikram Chandra's Red Earth and Pouring Rain Mohsin Hamid's Moth Smoke and Zakes Mda's The Heart of Redness A timely intervention in the most exciting debates within literary studies Global Matters is a comprehensive guide to the transnational nature of Anglophone literature today and its relationship to the globalization of Western culture The Forgotten Massacre Andrea

Singers, Heroes, and Gods in the Odyssey Charles Segal,2001 One of the special charms of the Odyssey according to Charles Segal is the way it transports readers to fascinating places Yet despite the appeal of its narrative the Odyssey is fully understood only when its style design and mythical patterns are taken into account as well Bringing a new richness to interpretation of this epic Segal looks closely at key forms of social and personal organization which Odysseus encounters in his voyages Segal also considers such topics as the relationship between bard and audience the implications of the Odyssey's self consciousness about its own poetics and Homer's treatment of the nature of poetry
