The Seventh Bride:

The Seventh Bride T. Kingfisher, 2015 Young Rhea is a miller's daughter of low birth so she is understandably surprised when a mysterious nobleman Lord Crevan shows up on her doorstep and proposes marriage. Since commoners don't turn down lords no matter how sinister they may seem Rhea is forced to agree to the engagement. Lord Crevan demands that Rhea visit his remote manor before their wedding. Upon arrival she discovers that not only was her betrothed married six times before but his previous wives are all imprisoned in his enchanted castle. Determined not to share their same fate Rhea asserts her desire for freedom. In answer Lord Crevan gives Rhea a series of magical tasks to complete with the threat 'Come back before dawn or else I'll marry you'. With time running out and each task more dangerous and bizarre than the last Rhea must use her resourcefulness, compassion and bravery to rally the other wives and defeat the sorcerer before he binds her to him forever.

The Eight Brides Tharun Sekhar, 2021-01-22 Hi I am Santhosh Varma the CEO of Varma Group of Industries. My friend once said 'Imagine the worst possible character that you think will never exist. That human character always existed, exists and will always exist. Without realizing the fact that he could never possibly satisfy everyone, my brother committed suicide because of a woman.' I formed a team of eight members to kidnap eight women who were responsible for the suicides of innocent people in Mumbai. Abducting the fourth woman was the point where my mission turned upside down despite choosing a haunted building in the city.

Postcolonial Film Rebecca Weaver-Hightower, Peter Hulme, 2014-02-24
Postcolonial Film History: Empire Resistance examines films of the later twentieth and early twenty-first centuries from postcolonial countries around the globe. In the mid-twentieth century the political reality of resistance and decolonization led to the creation of dozens of new states, forming a backdrop to films of that period. Towards the century's end and at the dawn of the new millennium film continues to form a site for interrogating colonization and decolonization, though against a backdrop that is now more neo-colonial than colonial and more culturally imperial than imperial. This volume explores how individual films emerged from and commented on postcolonial spaces and the building and breaking down of the European empire. Each chapter is a case study examining how a particular film from a postcolonial nation emerges from and reflects that nation's unique postcolonial situation. This analysis of one nation's struggle with its coloniality allows each essay to investigate just what it means to be postcolonial.

The Strange Tools of Human Communication Ruth Finnegan, 2025-05-27
The Strange Tools of Human Communication: The Voice, the Pen and the Lyre is a thought-provoking exploration of the everyday tools of communication that weaves together history, art and science to reveal how the voice, hand and mind shape our shared experiences. Through a blend of scholarly research, personal insights and field experiences from the oral tales of Sierra Leone's Limba storytellers to ancient cave art and modern iconography, this book offers fresh perspectives on how we connect across time and cultures. Challenging the idea that spoken language alone defines humanity, it emphasises the crucial role of hands, gestures and artistic forms as the foundation of human communication. Readers are invited to consider the possibility of an ancestral shared consciousness and the mysterious similarities in ancient art worldwide Through vivid examples and personal insights the book redefines communication as a blend of conscious expression and subconscious influence inviting readers to consider the hidden connections that unite us across cultures and time and to contemplate the future of communication The Strange Tools of Human Communication is an ideal supplement to upper level undergraduate and graduate courses in cultural anthropology sociocultural linguistics and cultural studies

The Kraton Stuart Robson, 2021-11-15 This volume contains English translations of a number of Dutch language articles selected for their relevance to the institution of the Kraton the Javanese palace complex as it was towards the end of the colonial period in the 1930s The majority of the articles originally published in the period from 1921 to 1941 relate especially to the Sultanate of Yogyakarta rather than the Kraton of Surakarta The reason for this is probably that they are taken mostly from the journal Dj w published by the Java Instituut Java Institute which was located in Yogyakarta The aim of republishing these articles in translation is to make them accessible to a wider audience of scholars interested in Indonesia in the belief that they contain information of lasting value for the study of the history in particular the social and cultural history of Java

Bewaji, Kenneth W. Harrow, Eunice E. Omonzejie, 2017-05-11 That Africa is at a crossroads in an increasingly globalised world is indisputable Equally unassailable is the fact that the humanities as a broad field of intellection research and learning in Africa appears to have been pigeonholed in debates of relevance in the development aspirations of many African nations Historical experiences and contemporary research outputs indicate however that the humanities in its various shades is critical to Africa s capacity to respond effectively to such problems as security corruption political ineptitude poverty superstition and HIV AIDS among many other mounting challenges which confront the people of Africa The vibrancy and resilience of Africa s cultures against these and other odds of globalisation episodes in the course of our history demand the focused attention of academia to exploit their relevance to contemporary issues This collection provides a comprehensive overview of issues in the humanities at the turn of the 21st century which create a veritable platform for the global redefinition and understanding of Africa s rich cultures and traditions Such areas covered include ruminations in metaphysics and psychology pathos and ethos cinematic and literary connections and historical conceptualisations
