The Shadow Of Imana:

The Shadow of Imana Véronique Tadjo, 2002 Along with nine other African Writers Veronique Tadjo was invited to visit Rwanda to bear witness to the genocide that took place in 1994 wiping out one million Tutsis and moderate Hutus during a hundred days of barbaric violence Evil in Contemporary French and Francophone Literature Scott M.

Powers, 2010-10-12 Evil remains a primary source of inquiry in contemporary literature of French expression even among its most secular writers In considering French speaking authors from France Belgium the United States the Maghreb and Sub Saharan Africa this collection delineates a rich international perspective on some of the most disturbing events of our time Each essay testifies to the urgency expressed in works of fiction to give an account of human catastrophes from the Shoah and the Rwandan genocide to the terrorist attacks of September 11 and the ongoing oppression of women in Islamic nations Themes underlying this volume include an investigation into the origins of evil its representations in writing and the ethical responsibilities of authors who write on human suffering Contemporary fiction on evil confronts us with fundamental questions Can evil be attributed to intentionality is evil subconscious or is it the result of impersonal forces Which styles of writing are ethically appropriate or effective for depicting evil Can we speak of a veritable poetics of evil shared by contemporary authors When does a literary text on evil become evil In providing informed and nuanced answers to these important questions the scholars engage in crucial theories of psychoanalysis post structuralism and post modernism address a number of issues raised by trauma and genocide studies and draw from critical frameworks in literary theory on testimony the limits of representing the extreme and transgressive writing Über(w)unden Lien Heidenreich-Seleme, Sean

O'Toole, 2012 This book follows on from her w unden art in troubled times a multi disciplinary conference and series of performances organised by the Goethe Institut South Africa and held in Johannesburg 7 11 September 2011 War in African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2008 This issue of African Literature Today is devoted to studies of how African writers as historical witnesses have handled the recreation of war as a cataclysmic phenomenon in various locations on the continent The theoretical question is whether the fictionalized representation demonstrated equitable balance between socio political messages lessons of war and the sanctity of art aesthetics Contributors have explore the subject from a variety of perspectives panoramic regional national and through comparative studies Was has enriched contemporary African literature but at what price to human lives peace and the environment Publisher s description Sharing the Burden of Stories from the Tutsi Genocide Anna-Marie de Beer, 2020-04-23 This book deals with literary representations of the genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda The focus is a transnational polyphonic writing project entitled Rwanda crire par devoir de m moire Rwanda Writing by Duty of Memory undertaken in 1998 by a group of nine African authors This work emphasizes the Afropolitan cultural frame in which the texts were conceived and written Instead of using Western and Eurocentric tropes this volume looks at a so called minority trauma an African conflict situated in a collectivist society and written about by writers from

African origin This approach enables a more situated study in which it becomes possible to draw out the local notions of ubuntu oral testimonies mourning traditions healing and storytelling strategies and the presence of the invisible As these texts are written in French and to date not all of them have been translated into English most academic research has been done in French This book thus assists in connecting English speaking readers not only to a set of texts written in French with significant literary and cultural value but also to francophone trauma studies research The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth-century French Literature Alison Siân James, 2020 Studying works by authors including Gide Breton Aragon Yourcenar Duras and Modiano this volume re thinks twentieth century French literature and engages with the question of distinctions between the factual and the fictional The Art and Science of Trauma and the Autobiographical Meg Jensen, 2019-01-04 This book examines posttraumatic autobiographical projects elucidating the complex relationship between the science of trauma and how that idea is understood across various scientific disciplines and the rhetorical strategies of fragmentation dissociation reticence and repetitive troping widely used the representation of traumatic experience From autobiographical fictions to prison poems from witness testimony to autography and from testimonio to war memorials otherwise dissimilar projects speak of past suffering through a limited and even predictable discourse in search of healing Drawing on approaches from literary human rights and cultural studies that highlight relations between trauma language meaning and self hood and the latest research on the science of trauma from the fields of clinical behavioral and evolutionary psychology and neuroscience I read such autobiographical projects not as symptoms but as complex interrogative negotiations of trauma and its aftermath commemorative and performative narratives navigating aesthetic biological cultural linguistic and emotional pressure and inspiration Holistic Bioethics Jude Thaddaeus Buyondo, 2024-10-31 In pursuing a holistic bioethics while dialoguing with different sciences appreciation of moral affinities between human and nonhuman entities Dr Buyondo argues for a minimum moral status for nonhuman entities The minimum normative basics of approaches to biomedical ethics are at the very least not distinctive to either human animals or nonhuman animals only The investigation builds further on the African understanding of life where no creation is lifeless In establishing a more inclusive functional bioethics the African approach goes further than biocentrism ecocentrism and holism to ground an inclusive African holistic moral egalitarianism suggesting that all forces and all created things have life We are not emphasizing how every system and creature command equal respect rather everything has life commands respect and moral concern as a minimum imperative within a Black African holistic approach to bioethics However holistic bioethics can neither be Western nor an African invention that people of other cultures only admire from a distance Moreover holistic bioethics doesn't offer the last word on the ethics of nonhuman animals holistic anamnestic solidarity the relational Other and intercultural theological bioethics

ecocriticism history and cultural studies scholars and writers from West Africa and the United States tease out the beginnings ecology and dynamism of a bona fide national literature They do so through a careful examination of such themes as social oppression and class distinction dystopia ethnocentricity homophobia misogyny and gender disparities anthropocentrism self discovery social transformation identity social degradation genocide and trauma while also theorizing constructs such as home migration displacement community and return Throughout contributors argue for a better appreciation of a vibrant national literature by Sierra Leoneans themselves as well as its place in and contribution to world literature more generally

West African Literatures Stephanie Newell, 2006-06-08 The Oxford Studies in Postcolonial Literatures series general editor Elleke Boehmer offers stimulating and accessible introductions to definitive topics and key genres and regions within the rapidly diversifying field of postcolonial literary studies in English This study of West African literatures interweaves the analysis of fiction drama and poetry with an exploration of the broader political cultural and intellectual contexts within which West African writers work Anglophone literatures form the central focus of the book with comparative comments on vernacular literature francophone writing and oral literatures and detailed discussion of selected francophone texts in translation e g Senghor Tadjó Beyala B Sembene Moving from a discussion of nationalist and anti colonial writing in the period before independence towards the more experimental writings of contemporary authors such as Vronique Tadjó Ivory Coast Syl Cheney Coker Sierra Leone and Kojo Laing Ghana the book constantly relates texts to the social and political history of West Africa Canonical internationally well known writers such as Chinua Achebe and Wole Soyinka are positioned in relation to the literary cultures and debates which surrounded them when they first produced their seminal texts the discussions and disagreements which have grown up around their work in subsequent decades are also considered The work of new and lesser known writers is also considered including Niyi Osundare Nigeria and Kofi Anyidoho Ghana In order to convey a sense of the rich and complex societies that are clustered beneath the umbrella term postcolonial emphasis is placed on West Africa's diverse oral and popular cultures and the ways in which local intellectuals and readers have responded to the most prominent authors through the aesthetic frameworks generated by these forms

Mediating Violence from Africa George MacLeod, 2023-10 Mediating Violence from Africa explores how African and non African Francophone authors filmmakers editors and scholars have packaged interpreted and filmed the violent histories of post Cold War Francophone Africa This violence much of which unfolded in front of Western television cameras included the use of child soldiers facilitated by the Soviet Union's castoff Kalashnikov rifles the rise of Islamist terrorism in West Africa and the horrific genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda Through close readings of fictionalized child soldier narratives cinematic representations of Islamist militants genocide survivor testimony and Western scholarship George S MacLeod analyzes the ways Francophone African authors and filmmakers as well as their editors and scholarly critics negotiate the aesthetic political cultural and ethical implications of making these traumatic stories visible MacLeod argues for the need to periodize these productions within a post Cold War framework to emphasize how shifts in post 1989 political discourse are echoed contested or subverted by contemporary Francophone authors filmmakers and Western scholars The questions raised in Mediating Violence from Africa are of vital importance today How the world engages with and responds to stories of recent violence and loss from Africa has profound implications for the affected communities and individuals More broadly in an era in which stories and images of violence from terror attacks to school shootings to police brutality are disseminated almost instantly and with minimal context these theoretical questions have implications for debates surrounding the ethics of representing trauma the politicization of memory and Africa's place in a global as opposed to a postcolonial or Euro African economic and political landscape

Postcolonial Poetics Patrick Crowley, Jane Hiddleston, 2011-01-01 Responding to calls to focus on postcolonial literature's literary qualities instead of merely its political content this volume investigates the idiosyncrasies of postcolonial poetics However rather than privileging the literary at the expense of the political the essays collected here analyze how texts use genre and form to offer multiple and distinct ways of responding to political and historical questions By probing how different kinds of literary writing can blur with other discourses the contributors offer key insights into postcolonial literature's power to imagine alternative identities and societies

Perceiving Pain in African Literature Z. Norridge, 2012-11-29 An analysis of literary accounts of suffering from sub Saharan Africa this book examines fiction and life writing in English and French over the last forty years Drawing on writers from the canonical to the less well known it uses close readings to examine the personal social and political consequences of representing pain in literature

Writing and Filming the Genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda Alexandre Dauge-Roth, 2010-04-27 Writing and Filming the Genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda Dismembering and Remembering Traumatic History is an innovative work in Francophone and African studies that examines a wide range of responses to the 1994 genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda From survivor testimonies to novels by African authors to films such as Hotel Rwanda and Sometimes in April the arts of witnessing are varied comprehensive and compelling Alexandre Dauge Roth compares the specific potential and the limits of each medium to craft unique responses to the genocide and instill in us its haunting legacy In the wake of genocide urgent questions arise How do survivors both claim their shared humanity and speaking the radically personal and violent experience of their past How do authors and filmmakers make inconceivable trauma accessible to a society that will always remain foreign to their experience How are we transformed by the genocide through these various modes of listening viewing and reading
