Ecstatic Worlds Janine Marchessault, 2023-10-31 When media translate the world to the world twentieth century utopian projects including Edward Steichen's Family of Man Jacques Cousteau's underwater films and Buckminster Fuller's geoscope Postwar artists and architects have used photography film and other media to imagine and record the world as a wonder of collaborative entanglement to translate the world for the world In this book Janine Marchessault examines a series of utopian media events that opened up and expanded the cosmos creating ecstatic collective experiences for spectators and participants

Marchessault shows that Edward Steichen's 1955 Family of Man photography exhibition for example and Jacques Cousteau's 1956 underwater film Le monde du silence The Silent World both gave viewers a sense of the earth as a shared ecology. The Festival of Britain 1951 in particular its Telekinema a combination of 3D film and television and its Live Architecture exhibition along with Expo 67's cinema experiments and media city created an awareness of multiple worlds. Toronto's alternative microcinema CineCycle Agnès Varda's 2000 film Les glaneurs et la glaneuse and Buckminster Fuller's World Game geoscope representing ecologies of images and resources encouraged planetary thinking. The transspecies communication platform the Dolphin Embassy devised by the Ant Farm architecture collaborative extends this planetary perspective toward other species and Finnish artist Erkki Kurenniemi's Death of the Planet projects a postanthropocentric future. Drawing on sources that range from the Scottish town planner Patrick Geddes to the French phenomenologist Maurice Merleau-Ponty Marchessault argues that each of these media experiments represents an engagement with connectivity and collectivity through media that will help us imagine a new form of global humanism. Maurice Blanchot Gerald L. Bruns, 2005-04-13 Ch 9 pp 207-234 Blanchot's holocaust discusses the French thinker's philosophy of the Holocaust.

Prophetic Politics Philip J. Harold, 2009-09-01 In Prophetic Politics Philip J. Harold offers an original interpretation of the political dimension of Emmanuel Levinas's thought. Harold argues that Levinas's mature position in Otherwise Than Being breaks radically with the dialogical inclinations of his earlier Totality and Infinity and that transformation manifests itself most clearly in the peculiar nature of Levinas's relationship to politics. Levinas's philosophy is concerned not with the ethical per se in either its applied or its transcendent forms but with the source of ethics. Once this source is revealed to be an anarchic interruption of our efforts to think the ethical, Levinas's political claims cannot be read as straightforward ideological positions or principles for political action. They are instead to be understood prophetically a position that Harold finds comparable to the communitarian critique of liberalism offered by such writers as Alasdair MacIntyre and Charles Taylor. In developing this interpretation which runs counter to formative influences from the phenomenological tradition, Harold traces Levinas's debt to phenomenological descriptions of such experiences as empathy and playfulness. Prophetic Politics will highlight the relevance of the phenomenological tradition to contemporary ethical and political thought, a long standing goal of the series while also making a significant and original contribution to Levinas scholarship. Adventures in Silence Herbert W. Collingwood, 2023-08-16 Reproduction of the original Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film 3-Volume Set Ian Aitken, 2013-10-18 The Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film is a fully international reference work on the history of the documentary film from the Lumière brothers' Workers Leaving the Lumière Factory 1885 to Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 9/11 2004. This Encyclopedia provides a resource that critically analyzes that history in all its aspects. Not only does this Encyclopedia examine individual films and the careers of individual film makers, it also provides overview articles of national and regional documentary film history. Taming the Sharks Christopher L. Peterson, 2004 Taming the Sharks Towards a Cure for the High Cost Credit Market chronicles the historic economic legal and political factors breeding America's feverish high cost debt industry The ideas presented are novel progressive and controversial Historians have long argued that interest rates provide a sort of economic and political health of nations If true the contemporary American market for credit shows troubling signs of distress While Federal Reserve Board monetary policy has kept commercial and prime consumer interest rates low the past two decades have seen explosive growth in an industry specializing in high cost consumer debt Payday loan outlet chains automobile title loan companies rent to own furniture stores pawnshops and sub prime and manufactured home mortgage lenders are transforming the personal finance patterns of millions of Americans Many observers have complained this industry charges excessive prices uses unfair business practices and is generally causing more harm for its borrowers than good Industry insiders retort they are merely responding to a legitimate demand for financial services that in effect consumers vote with their feet Echoing problems of past centuries today's consumers face difficulty comparing credit prices patterns of reckless lending and borrowing as well as distressing economic externalities With an idea on the future Peterson's book hopes to find ingredients of a compromise to protect working poor borrowers while simultaneously preserving economic competition

Totality and Infinity E. Levinas, 1979 Ever since the beginning of the modern phenomenological movement disciplined attention has been paid to various patterns of human experience as they are actually lived through in the concrete. This has brought forth many attempts to find a general philosophical position which can do justice to these experiences without reduction or distortion. In France the best known of these recent attempts have been made by Sartre in his Being and Nothingness and by Merleau-Ponty in his Phenomenology of Perception and certain later fragments. Sartre has a keen sense for life as it is lived and his work is marked by many penetrating descriptions. But his dualistic ontology of the en soi versus the pour soi has seemed over simple and inadequate to many critics and has been seriously qualified by the author himself in his latest Marxist work The Critique of Dialectical Reason. Merleau-Ponty's major work is a lasting contribution to the phenomenology of the pre-objective world of perception. But aside from a few brief hints and sketches he was unable before his unfortunate death in 1961 to work out carefully his ultimate philosophical point of view. This leaves us then with the German philosopher Heidegger as the only contemporary thinker who has formulated a total ontology which claims to do justice to the stable results of phenomenology and to the living existential thought of our time.
