Thompson, 1994 Here sixteen American teenagers from markedly different backgrounds share their thoughts on everything from their own life experiences to the most serious problems confronting American society today such as discrimination poverty violence and the economy Meet Pharoah an inner city student from Chicago who resisted joining a gang and Damion an inner city teen from South Central Los Angeles who didn't resist Meet Anitra a teen from rural Georgia who talks about integration in her school and Cynthia a deaf student who explains how the Americans with Disabilities Act has affected her life Meet Cindy a teen from a small town in Maryland who talks about coping with AIDS and Dominique an Olympic gymnast who describes the rigors of training to be a world class athlete Meet a new American a prep school student a Native American a migrant worker and many more While they disagree on which candidate they would have voted for in the last presidential election they all tend to be skeptical of political leaders While their lives greatly differ most love the United States and wouldn't live anywhere else in the world Thinking German Translation Sándor Hervey, Mr Ian Higgins, Ian Higgins, Michael Loughridge, 2003-09-02 Thinking German Translation is a comprehensive and revolutionary 20 week course in translation method offering a challenging and entertaining approach to the acquisition of translation skills It has been fully and successfully piloted at the University of St Andrews Translation is presented as a problem solving discipline Discussion examples and a full range of exercise work enable students to acquire the skills necessary for a broad range of translation problems Examples are drawn from a wide variety of material from technical and commercial texts to poetry and song Thinking German Translation is essential reading for advanced undergraduates and postgraduate students of German The book will also appeal to a wide range of languages students and tutors through the general discussion of principles purposes and practice of translation Care of the World Elena Pulcini, 2012-08-20 This book proposes a philosophy of care in a global age It discusses the distinguishing and opposing pathologies produced by globalization unlimited individualism or self obsession manifested as Promethean omnipotence and narcissistic indifference and endogamous communitarianism or an us obsession that results in conflict and violence The polarization between a lack and an excess of pathos is reflected in the distorted forms taken on by fear The book advocates a metamorphosis of fear which may restore in the subject an awareness of vulnerability and become the precondition for moral action Such awareness and the recognition of the condition of contamination caused by the other's unavoidable presence teach us to fear for rather than be afraid of Fear for the world means care of the world and care understood as concern and solicitude is a new notion of responsibility in which the stress is shifted to a relational subject capable of responding to and taking care of the other From a global perspective the proposed vision of care also compels us to explore a new paradigm of justice Kinaesthetic Empathy, Ethics and Care Christine Leroy, 2025-06-25 Kinaesthetic Empathy Ethics and Care develops a philosophy of dance that highlights the psychological aesthetic and ethical significance of dancer viewer interaction in the moment of performance Leroy draws on phenomenology psychoanalysis dance studies and care ethics to analyse kinaesthetic empathy as a form of intersubjective performance She shows how in the contagion or interweaving between corporealities of dancer and viewer each party supports or upholds the other in a process of mutual care Dance movement involves a play with gravity which alleviates the weight of repressed desire and redefines the contours of the body image facilitating psychological self repair Through projection into the body of another we can develop our independence and autonomy as subjects even in the midst of relational being Richly illustrated with theatre dance examples Leroy s argument develops a corporeal basis for ethics and reveals how a return to the moving body through dance helps lay the foundations for a more humane society This book will interest philosophers dance researchers care ethicists and care practitioners as well as advanced students in these fields and general readers curious about the aesthetic and ethical potency of theatre dance representations of the human beings at the centre of events Literary analyses capture this human component and give insights into different reactions to and protests against the health political measures addressing the crisis This book puts the notion of biopolitics first extensively theorised in the 1970s to work in the context of the Covid 19 pandemic and uses literary case studies as starting points for discussions of contemporary politics media and legal and surveillance regimes It brings together eleven scholars from six countries with the shared aim of combining literary and philosophical expertise to create a better understanding of the changes in society and political attitudes induced by the ongoing pandemic Accelerating Health Care Transformation with Lean and Innovation Paul E.
