Sample Book Insights 1 I had to live out some of my mother's unlived life She was a flamboyant depressive who kept a revolver in the duster drawer and the bullets in a tin of Pledge She was alive when my first novel Oranges Are Not the Only Fruit was published in 1985 2 I was trying to get away from the received idea that women always write about experience while men write about broad and bold experiments with form I was angry that writers were sex crazed bohemians who broke the rules 3 I wrote the cover story of myself being a misfit so that I could escape the pain of being alone I spent most of my school years sitting on the railings outside the school gates so I could be seen and not liked 4 I had no idea how to love or trust another person and I thought that love was loss I believed that the world was unfair and out of control and that we can only control what we can see

identity home and a mother Adopted Women and Biological Fathers Elizabeth Hughes,2017-03-01 Adopted Women and Biological Fathers offers a critical and deconstructive challenge to the dominant notions of adoptive identity The author explores adoptive women s experiences of meeting their biological fathers and reflects on personal narratives to give an authoritative overview of both the field of adoption and the specific history of adoption reunion This book takes as its focus the narratives of 14 adopted women as well as the partly fictionalised story of the author and examines their experiences of birth father reunion in an attempt to dissect the ways in which we understand adoptive female subjectivity through a psychosocial lens Opening a space for thinking about the role of the discursively neglected biological father this book exposes the enigmatic dimensions of this figure and how telling the relational story of reconciliation might be used to complicate wider categories of subjective completeness belonging and truth This book attempts to subvert the culturally normative unifying system of the mother child bond and prompts the reader to think about what the biological father might represent and how his role in relation to adoptive female subjects may be understood This book will be essential reading for those in critical psychology gender studies narrative work sociology and psychosocial studies as well as appealing to anyone interested in adoption issues and female subjectivity Why do We Write as We Write? then occurs for us This is where living higher begins Posture will change There is a certain level of insight purpose and access that is achieved when desire grows and posture changes There is a birthing It is not simply living only a mistake of thought so many make So here is the question again How The answer is not how It is desire posture and access to a higher way Let us start with desire The word desire is translated from the Greek word epithumia from epi meaning focused on Another use of this term is inordinate or excessively large It is my prayer that we have an inordinate desire to truly live higher and to focus on what this can mean for us in the same way it meant to me as I have written each chapter It is my strong desire that we focus right now When there is a lack of focus vision becomes very blurry I can recall having a blurred vision when others would ask me what living higher meant I can even recall a time when a picture was taken of me as a child with my eyes closed A relative later found this picture and asked me how I was able to sleep standing up while the camera caught my image I ask us all that my relative asked me How are we able to keep our eyes closed right now Let us have the strong inordinate desire to focus on the moment This desire to open our eyes will naturally pull the camera lens to us What happened Nothing We opened our eyes After desire comes to posture Picture posture is necessary when capturing a memory Are we willing to change our posture for the cameras in life It s interesting what happens after we open our eyes for the camera changes our position Finally we achieve access to see closer look at change more The camera gives access Access to function in life is far greater than desire or even posture believe it or not Haven t we all glanced at a picture that was taken of us before Perhaps a picture that we take with others involved These three elements are the agents for higher territory a greater way A new ground and a new look from a different angle in each situation Our camera lens must focus

Love's Promises Martha M. Ertman, 2016-05-24 Blends memoir and legal cases to show how contracts can create family relationships Most people think of love and contracts as strange bedfellows or even opposites In Love's Promises however law professor Martha Ertman shows that far from cold and calculating contracts shape and sustain families Blending memoir and law Ertman delves into the legal cases anecdotes and history of family law to show that love comes in different packages each shaped by different contracts and mini contracts she calls deals Family law should and often does recognize that variety because legal rules like relationships aren't one size fits all The most common form of family which Ertman calls Plan A come into being through different kinds of agreements than the more uncommon families that she dubs Plan B Recognizing the contractual core of all families shows that Plan B is neither unnatural nor unworthy of legal recognition just different After telling her own moving and often irreverent story about becoming part of a Plan B family of two moms and a dad raising a child Ertman shows that all kinds of people straight and gay married and single related by adoption or by genetics use contracts to shape their relationships As couples navigate marriage reproductive technologies adoption and cohabitation they encounter contracts Sometimes hidden and other times openly acknowledged these contracts ensure that the people they think of as family are legally recognized as family in the eyes of the law Family exchanges can be substantial like vows of fidelity or small like I cook and you clean But regardless of scope the agreements shape the emotional social and financial terrain of family relationships Seeing the instrumental role contracts will help readers better understand how contracts and deals work in their own families as well as those around them Both insightful and paradigm shifting Love's Promises lets readers in on the power of contracts and deals to support love in its many forms and to honor the different ways that our nearest and dearest contribute to our daily lives Radical Realism, Autofictional Narratives and the Reinvention of the Novel Fiona J. Queer Experimental Literature Teagan Bradway, 2017-05-09 This volume argues that postwar writers queer the affective relations of reading through experiments with literary form Tyler Bradway conceptualizes bad reading as an affective politics that stimulates queer relations of erotic and political belonging in the event of reading These incipiently social relations press back against legal economic and discursive forces that reduce queerness into a mode of individuality Each chapter traces the affective politics of bad reading against moments when queer relationality is prohibited obstructed or destroyed from the pre Stonewall literary obscenity debates through the AIDS crisis to the emergence of neoliberal homonormativity and the gentrification of the queer avant garde Bradway contests the common narrative that experimental writing is too formalist to engender a mode of social imagination Instead he illuminates how queer experimental literature uses form to redraw the affective and social relations that structure the heteronormative public sphere Through close readings informed by affect theory Queer Experimental Literature offers new perspectives on writers such as William S Burroughs Samuel R Delany Kathy Acker Jeanette Winterson Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick Alison Bechdel and Chuck Palahniuk Queer Experimental Literature ultimately reveals that the recent turn to affective reading in literary studies is underwritten by a para academic history of bad reading that offers new idioms for understanding the affective agencies of queer aesthetics World Almanac and Book of Facts 2014
