

FIG. 1—MURRAY C-14 AND C-15 ALTERNATION CHASSIS
ALL DIMENSIONS IN INCHES UNLESS OTHERWISE SPECIFIED

Front Axle Shaft Universal Joints Front Axle King Pin Bearings

Check the front axle shaft universal joints and the front axle king pin bearings are checked in the steering knuckle bearings. Check the lubricant level in the bearings each 1000 miles (1600 km.) or anytime it is at filler plug level.

Once each year or at each 12,000 miles (19,300 km.) remove the shafts to thoroughly check the universal joints and bearings and refill the bearings with universal joint or chassis lubricant. Use No. 2 for winter and No. 3 for summer.

For complete mechanical information covering removal and installation see Page 174.

Steering Gear

Check the lubricant level in the steering gear housing at each 1000 miles (1600 km.) to be sure that the lubricant is at filler plug opening level. Should lubricant be required fill the housing slowly with a hand compressor.

Use steering gear lubricant avoiding the use of any grease, graphite, wheel oil or heavy oil-based oil. Do not overfill replacing the filler plug.

Rear Wheel Bearings

The rear wheel bearings are equipped with hydraulic fittings with a vent cap, through the housing above each spring to allow in Fig. 104.

Use a hand compressor and wheel bearing grease, forcing the grease through each hydraulic fitting until it flows from the vent.

Do not add grease after it flows from the vent for it may be forced through the wheel bearings into the outside of the wheel and possibly onto the tread.

Note: (See Model C) 15, left bearing type rear wheel bearings (Up to Serial No. 12411) must be removed for lubrication. See Page 166.

Front Wheel Bearings

Seasonally, or at each 1000 miles (1600 km.), remove the front wheels and inspect the bearings with wheel bearing grease. Wipe the grease into the gaps holding the rollers.

For complete information covering removal, lubrication and adjustment see Page 166.

Transmission and Transfer Case

Maintain the lubricant at filler plug level in both. Maintain the lubricant at filler plug level each bearing. To insure this check the level each 1000 miles (1600 km.) and add if necessary. Drain 1000 miles (1600 km.) and add if necessary. Drain and refill annually or at each 1000 miles (1600 km.).

Over lubrication containing extreme pressure lubricants such as lead, sulphur or chlorine compounds should not be used because of their tendency to corrode bearing parts.

Heavy duty universal joints should be used through heavy duty universal joints in the frame, for added strength and full lubrication on all models except C-1 (4 before Serial No. 12411).

Hard rubbing of the gears in cold weather is a good indicator that the lubricant is too heavy.

a grade or the quality allows it to expand at the prevailing temperature. If the oil is too heavy for use during it will not properly lubricate the moving parts. Change the lubricant to a lighter grade without delay.

Front Axle Differential

Rear Axle Differential

The differential is of the hypoid type which requires an extreme pressure type lubricant.

Check the level in each axle every 1000 miles (1600 km.) to be sure that they are filled to the level of the filler plug openings. Drain and refill the bearings every 1000 miles (1600 km.) or twice yearly.

Do not use different types of hypoid lubricants. Use a light engine oil or kerosene oil to clean out the bearings. Do not use grease, grease, kerosene or gasoline for flushing. If the oil is discolored, draining is necessary.

The following units are not shown on the lubrication charts, but should be serviced as indicated:

Distributor

The distributor shaft is lubricated through an oil seal mounted on the side of the housing. When there is too large a drop of light engine oil in the oil seal, 1000 miles (1600 km.). Also place one drop of light engine oil on the seal located on the top of the shaft, which is necessary to ensure the oil seal. Springing apply oil grease to the seal at each year and place a drop of oil on the bearing and pin.

Generator

Grease is provided at each end of the generator. Place three to five drops of light engine oil in each oil hole, 1000 miles (1600 km.).

Oil Filter

Check the oil filter and replace the element at the end of the first 1000 miles (1600 km.) of highway travel. Replace the element at each 1000 miles (1600 km.) of additional travel.

Air Cleaner

Care of the air cleaner is EXTREMELY IMPORTANT especially when the vehicle is used under dusty conditions.

Clean and refill the element of moisture in the indicated level each with correct grade engine oil at each oil change. If the vehicle is used for off-highway operation, which is usually more dusty, service the air filter in more frequent conditions, twice daily.

Speedometer Cable

Remove the speedometer drive shaft from the cable every week, clean it thoroughly and coat it with a good quality light graphite grease.

Flexible Controls—Choke, Throttle, Hand Brake

Periodically oil the contact surfaces of the flexible control controls with penetrating oil. This will
