The Ritual Process Structure And Anti Structure:

The Ritual Process Victor W. Turner, 2011-12-31 In The Ritual Process Structure and Anti Structure Victor Turner examines rituals of the Ndembu in Zambia and develops his now famous concept of Communitas. He characterizes it as an absolute inter human relation beyond any form of structure. The Ritual Process has acquired the status of a small classic since these lectures were first published in 1969. Turner demonstrates how the analysis of ritual behavior and symbolism may be used as a key to understanding social structure and processes. He extends Van Gennep's notion of the liminal phase of rites of passage to a more general level and applies it to gain understanding of a wide range of social phenomena. Once thought to be the vestigial organs of social conservatism, rituals are now seen as arenas in which social change may emerge and be absorbed into social practice. As Roger Abrahams writes in his foreword to the revised edition, Turner argued from specific field data. His special eloquence resided in his ability to lay open a sub-Saharan African system of belief and practice in terms that took the reader beyond the exotic features of the group among whom he carried out his fieldwork, translating his experience into the terms of contemporary Western perceptions. Reflecting Turner's range of intellectual interests, the book emerged as exceptional and eccentric in many ways yet it achieved its place within the intellectual world because it so successfully synthesized continental theory with the practices of ethnographic reports. The Ritual Process Victor Witter relationship between culture and society Architecture, Ritual and Cosmology in China Xuemei Li, 2023-05-31

Drawing on the author's extensive fieldwork in the Dong areas in southwest China this book presents a detailed picture of the Dong's buildings and techniques with new insights into the Dong's cosmology and rituals of everyday life meshed with the architecture and the symbolic meanings. It examines how the buildings and techniques of the Dong are ordered and influenced by the local culture and context. The timber bridges and drum towers are the Dong's most prominent architectural monuments. Usually built elaborately with multiple roofs these bridges and drum towers were designed and maintained by the local carpenters who also built the village suspended houses in an oral tradition carried down from father to son or to apprentice. They were funded entirely by the local people and the bridges tend to be built in places without great pressure of traffic or another bridge already existing close by. Why does such great expense go into the Dong's buildings with elaboration? How were they built? And what do they mean to their users and builders? This book is an anthropological study on the Dong's architecture and technique and it aims to contribute a discourse on the interdisciplinary research area. It is suitable for graduate and postgraduate readers.

STRUCTURE AND CHOICE Chen Binggong, 2021-04-05 This book employs the methods of philosophical anthropology to examine the question of what the noumenon of human life is which has been debated for thousands of years. This work elaborates upon the noumenon of human life that is man's structure and choice. The noumenon of human life differs essentially from the animals in bringing about the unity of structure and choice. The noumenon of human life or rather man's structure and choice provides the motive force for the survival and development of individuals and groups, families, organizations and states as well as the basic ways in which human values can be possible of realization. It is only through the instrumentality of man's structure and choice that humans can attain their goals and grasp the laws of development and change of things. In passing criticism upon structuralism and existentialism the author tries to reconstruct the ontology of human life whereby his theory provides an ontological foundation for the humanities and social sciences, a theoretical framework for an idealistic anthropological commitment to self-transcendence, a scientific philosophy of life for us and a good deal of enlightenment about many theoretical prerequisites.

Liminality and Critical Event Studies Ian R. Lamond, Jonathan Moss, 2020-03-28 This book explores and challenges the concept and experience of liminality as applied to critical perspectives in the study of events. It will be of interest to researchers in event studies, social and discursive psychology, cultural and political sociology and social movement studies. In addition, it will provide interested general readers with new ways of thinking and reflecting on events. Contributing authors undertake a discussion of the borders, boundaries and areas of contestation between the established social anthropological concept of liminality and the emerging field of critical event studies. By drawing these two perspectives closer together the collection considers tensions and resonances between them and uses those connections to enhance our understanding of both cultural and sporting events and offer fresh insight into events of activism, protest and dissent.
