rather a dream dreamt collectively by king court image makers and nation alike Bj rnstad explores this dream through a sustained close analysis of a corpus of absolutist artifacts ranging from Charles Le Brun s famous paintings in the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles via the king s secret M moires to two little known particularly extravagant verbal and textual celebrations of the king The dream of absolutism Bj rnstad concludes lives at the intersection of politics and aesthetics It is the carrier of a force that emerges as a glorious image a participatory emotional reality that requires reality to conform to it It is a dream finally that still shapes our collective political imaginary today

Fate, Glory, and Love in Early Modern Gallery Decoration Margaretha Rossholm Lagerlof, 2017-07-05 Analysing the decorative programmes of the most opulent European palaces of the time Margaretha Rossholm Lagerl f investigates how meaning was conveyed through display and visual effects She explores the visual meaning inherent in the scheme of spatial relations in effects of scale perspective lighting figures positions and postures and in relations among image types The analysis concerns the interrelations of various kinds of images in the ensembles the relations between images and physical site and the address to the beholder Lagerl f considers the visual impact of the imagery in conjunction with readable or symbolically coded meanings thus the study does not merely subject these decorations to formalist aesthetic principles She shows the visual meaning generally to sustain the verbal or readable messages but often in subtle ways extending or elaborating the meaning Occasionally the visual meaning comes forth as an undercurrent or complication deviating from the proclaimed and symbolic meaning Fate Glory and Love in Early Modern Gallery Decoration contributes to the body of scholarship on visual rhetoric and on how images act out their messages

Antiquarianism and the Visual Histories of Louis XIV Robert Wellington, 2017-07-05 Antiquarianism and the Visual Histories of Louis XIV Artifacts for a Future Past provides a new interpretation of objects and images commissioned by Louis XIV 1638 1715 to document his reign for posterity The Sun King s image makers based their prediction of how future historians would interpret the material remains of their culture on contemporary antiquarian methods creating new works of art as artifacts for a future time The need for such items to function as historical evidence led to many pictorial developments and medals played a central role in this Coin like in form but not currency the medal was the consummate antiquarian object made in imitation of ancient coins used to study the past Yet medals are often elided from the narrative of the arts of ancient r me France their neglect wholly disproportionate to the cultural status that they once held This revisionary study uncovers a numismatic sensibility throughout the iconography of Louis XIV and in the defining monuments of his age It looks beyond the standard political reading of the works of art made to document Louis XIV s history to argue that they are the results of a creative process wedded to antiquarianism an intellectual culture that provided a model for the production of history in the grand si e

Exuberant Apotheoses: Italian Frescoes in the Holy Roman Empire Daniel Fulco, 2016-04-01 From the late seventeenth through the mid eighteenth centuries large scale Italian frescoes soared in popularity as nobles in the German principalities of the Holy Roman Empire constructed new palaces at an unprecedented rate They competed with one another to produce lavish decorative schemes that expressed their claim to princely power and political authority Whereas previous art historians have primarily focused on iconographic and stylistic issues and generally treated these programs as individual commissions of regional courts this book places the works of art within their broad cultural and historical contexts during the Enlightenment This monograph explains how rulers gradually shifted from emphasizing military heroism to stressing their cultivation of the arts and sciences and addresses how expressing membership in a specifically European civilization emerged as an integral visual theme and a key ambition of the German nobility

Political Space in Pre-industrial Europe Beat Kümin, 2016-04-22 Social and cultural studies are experiencing a spatial turn Micro sites localities empires as well as virtual or imaginary spaces attract increasing attention In most of these works space emerges as a social construct rather than a mere container This collection examines the potential and limitations of spatial approaches for the political history of pre industrial Europe Adopting a broad definition of political the volume concentrates on two key questions Where did political exchange take place How did spatial dimensions affect political life in different periods and contexts Taken together the essays demonstrate that pre modern Europeans made use of a much wider range of political sites than is usually assumed not just palaces town halls and courtrooms but common fields as well as back rooms of provincial inns and that spatial dimensions provided key variables in political life both in terms of territorial ambitions and practical governance and in the more abstract forms of patronage networks representations of power and the emerging public sphere As such this book offers a timely and critical engagement with the spatial turn from a political perspective Focusing on the distinct constitutional environments of England and the Holy Roman Empire one associated with early centralization and strong parliamentary powers the other with political fragmentation and absolutist tendencies it bridges the common gaps between late medieval and early modern studies and those between historians and scholars from other disciplines Preface commentary and a sketch of research perspectives discuss the wider implications of the essays findings and reflect upon the value of spatial approaches for political history as a whole
