Troubled Waters Patrick Troy, 2008-06-01 Australian cities have traditionally relied for their water on a predict and provide philosophy that gives primacy to big engineering solutions In more recent years privatised water authorities seeking to maximise consumption and profits have reinforced the emphasis on increasing supply Now the cities must cope with the stresses these policies have imposed on the eco systems from which they harvest water into which they discharge wastes and on which they are located Residents are having to pay more for their water while the cities themselves are becoming less sustainable Must we build more dams and desalination plants or should we be managing the demand for urban water more prudently This book explores the demand for urban water and how it has changed in response to shifting social mores over the past century It explains how demand for centralised provision of water might be reshaped to enable the cities to better cope with expected changes in supply as our climate changes And it discusses the implications of property rights in water for proposals to privatise water services

Australia - Culture Smart! Barry Penney, Gina Teague, Culture Smart!, 2016-02-01 Australia is different a vast island continent with distances so great that the capital of Western Australia is closer to Singapore than it is to Sydney The landscape embraces magnificent tropical rainforests and deserts the size of several European states temperate areas that sustain a flourishing wine industry making Australia the world's fourth largest wine exporter a sixteen thousand mile coastline of breathtaking beaches and its unique fauna is testament to the country's down underness Indigenous Australians have inhabited the continent for more than fifty thousand years yet European settlement is just over two hundred years old Since the end of the Second World War the country has opened its doors to a hugely diverse immigrant population and slowly shaken off the mantle of British influence transforming what was perhaps one of the dullest nations into one of the most stimulating The Australians old settler mentality regarding themselves as battlers and embarrassed by their lack of sophistication has given way to a new national confidence The achievements of Australia's artists sportspeople entertainers scientists and businesspeople puts them on the global stage Despite the diversity of ethnicities there is a pervasive homogeneity among Australians a generosity of spirit and a forthrightness sometimes disarming for the visitor A sense of fairness and equality is valued as is the ability not to take oneself too seriously Culture Smart Australia introduces you to a young nation with one of the world's highest standards of living where people work to live in order to enjoy a lifestyle that many across the globe covet and in which Australians take great pride and don't mind telling you about

And Then My Mum Took Me to Hospital Kevin Murray, 2005 To assist my anticipated failing memory and to allow me to wallow in a little therapeutic nostalgia I recently decided to commit to paper some of my early life experiences In doing so I was struck with the number of stories that involved misadventure injury and or hospitalisation I appear to have spent a significant part of my youth with various parts of my anatomy swathed in bandages or concealed by plaster Throw in a few genuine near death experiences and you can readily understand the inspiration for the title of this collection The following stories are as true as my imperfect recollections allow apart from the occasional necessary name changes While some of these stories end with me being carted off to hospital all of them reveal a glimpse into a young life that was at times innocent at other times less so They tell of a life that was somewhat free and adventurous unfettered by the fear that comes with age or by the threats of insurance claims for damages Some tell of a child growing up in the 50's and 60's in Sydney's expanding suburbia Some also tell of a slightly older but not necessarily wiser child still seeking adventure and courting injury well into
