An Infinity of Things ,2009-09-10 An Infinity of Things tells the story of one of the largest private collections ever created and the life of the man behind it Wellcome planned a great museum filled with treasures from all corners of the globe charting the history of human health from prehistory to the present day The breadth of his vision was matched only by the depth of his pockets During the opening decades of the twentieth century he acquired a collection so large that later generations of staff took to describing its contents by the ton But Wellcome s museum was never finished and his collection was still stored in vast warehouses when he died unseen and incomplete Today after decades of work by his successors artefacts from the collection can be seen in museums and libraries throughout the world Demonstrating what can happen when a collector s aspirations are left unconstrained by wealth Frances Larson explores Wellcome s life through his possessions revealing the many tensions in his character between his talents as a businessman and his desire for scholarly recognition his curiosity and his perfectionism and his philanthropic aspirations and his drive for personal glory

Evidence of Things Unseen Marianne Wiggins,2004-06-02 Falling in love during the Second World War a soldier and a glassblower s daughter eventually have a son who in adulthood finds his own love affair affected by fallout of the atomic age Reader s Guide available Reprint 50 000 first printing      The Visitors Book Sophie Hannah,2015-11-26 In this small but perfectly formed collection of supernatural short stories Sophie Hannah takes the comforting scenes of everyday life and imbues them with a frisson of fear then a gust of terror Why is a young woman so unnerved by the presence of a visitors book in her boyfriend s inner city home And whose spidery handwriting is it that fills the pages Who is the strangely courteous boy still lingering at a child s tenth birthday party when all the parents have gathered their children and left And why does the presence of a perfectly ordinary woman in a post office queue leave another customer pallid and sweating with fear Beware what you open this Christmas      The Play's the Thing Sir Pelham Grenville Wodehouse,1864-01-01 As the curtain rises a distant orchestra is heard playing Leoncavallo s Mattinata The stage is almost dark The only light comes through two large French windows at the back Through them we see the moonlit Mediterranean far below the vague outlines of the precipitous coast twinkling lights along quays and esplanades and here and there the faint glow from some lighted window A lighthouse blinks intermittently in the far distance Within the dark room three darker shadows loom against the moonlit windows the lighted ends of three cigarettes prick the blackness There is a long pause It is almost embarrassingly long Just before one wonders if anything is ever going to happen a man s voice breaks the silence THE MAN S VOICE When you stop talking Sandor for sixty consecutive seconds there s something wrong One of the shadowy forms is seen to rise and cross to the right wall We hear the click of an electric switch and instantly the stage is flooded with the warm glow of several electric sconces and candelabra lamps The light reveals a room beautifully furnished in Italian Renaissance At the back one shallow step leads up to a raised portion which runs the whole width of the room Behind it are the French windows now closed with a balcony beyond them To the right a short flight of steps leads to a landing and a door to a bedroom suite To the left one step leads up to a door to the hall and the remainder of the castle Occupying the right wall of the lower portion of the room is a great fireplace with a corbelled chimney A long table stands near it At the left is a grand piano Below the piano in the left wall is a door to another bedroom All these doors are closed Above the piano toward the center is a small stand with a telephone on it There are comfortable chairs here and there The ceiling is beamed and carved The whole room reflects wealth and beauty The speaker who has just lighted the room is a large and portly man of middle age His name is Mansky He is in a dinner jacket as are his two companions Sandor Turai seated in the center and Albert Adam near the piano Turai is also middle aged but younger looking and less portly than Mansky A glance shows him to be a man of consequence and dynamic personality He is wearing a monocle Albert Adam is a dreamy handsome boy just over the threshold of manhood The distant orchestra has stopped playing Mansky reseats himself to the right of Turai and speaks again
