Beyond the Five-paragraph Essay Kimberly Hill Campbell, Kristi Latimer, 2012 Love it or hate it, the five-paragraph essay is perhaps the most frequently taught form of writing in classrooms of yesterday and today. But have you ever actually seen five-paragraph essays outside of school walls? Have you ever found it in business writing, journalism, nonfiction, or any other genres that exist in the real world? Kimberly Hill Campbell and Kristi Latimer reviewed the research on the effectiveness of the form as a teaching tool and discovered that the research does not support the five-paragraph formula. In fact, research shows that the formula restricts creativity, emphasizes structure rather than content, does not improve standardized test scores, inadequately prepares students for college writing, and results in vapid writing. In Beyond the Five

Nietzsche's Earth Gary Shapiro, 2016-09-09 In this new book philosopher Gary Shapiro aims to demonstrate the extreme relevance of Nietzsche's thought to some of the contemporary world's most pertinent political issues fully acknowledging the prescience of his thinking in several areas In particular Shapiro takes up Nietzsche's environmentalism and his concern with the direction Sinn of the earth to show how Nietzsche is one of few major philosophers to have anticipated the most important and characteristic questions about modernity and to have addressed them when it first became possible to do so given Nietzsche's historical context the 19th century zenith of the nation state and the new speeds of industry transportation and communication Nietzsche Shapiro says has important things to say about topics that are very much on the agenda today globalization the character of a livable earth what he called a Menschen Erde and geopolitical categories that characterize people and places peoples and states While Nietzsche was clear in foregrounding these issues and questions there is still much to be done in making sense of them and Nietzsche's Earth offers a fresh reading informed both by Nietzsche's assessment of modernity and by contemporary philosophical discussion in the work of Deleuze and Guattari Agamben Badiou Foucault Derrida and others Humanitarian Fictions Megan Cole Paustian, 2024-01-02

Humanitarianism has a narrative problem Far too often aid to Africa is envisioned through a tale of Western heroes saving African sufferers While labeling white savior narratives has become a familiar gesture it doesn't tell us much about the story as story Humanitarian Fictions aims to understand the workings of humanitarian literature as they engage with and critique narratives of Africa Overlapping with but distinct from human rights humanitarianism centers on a relationship of assistance focusing less on rights than on needs less on legal frameworks than moral ones less on the problem than on the nonstate solution Tracing the white savior narrative back to religious missionaries of the nineteenth century Humanitarian Fictions reveals the influence of religious thought on seemingly secular institutions and uncovers a spiritual collectivist streak in the discourse of humanity Because the humanitarian model of care transcends the boundaries of the state and its networks touch much of the globe Humanitarian Fictions redraws the boundaries of literary classification based on a shared problem space rather than a shared national space The book maps a transnational vein of Anglophone literature about Africa that features missionaries humanitarians and their so called beneficiaries Putting humanitarian thought in conversation with postcolonial critique this book brings together African British and U S writers typically read within separate traditions Paustian shows how the novel with its profound sensitivity to narrative can enrich the critique of white saviorism while also imagining alternatives that give African agency its due
