This book's findings are rich and intriguing. In his death, Jesus, the chief architect in the production of space in the Christian realm, founds an alternative community that reorders space and creates a new reality for believers. This new community, which dwells in this radical new space, successfully resists the domination of oppressive regimes and mindsets such as the Roman Empire. Suffering is transformed here. Many recent biblical studies have utilized various methodologies and historical critical viewpoints which have been helpful. However, drawing on theories of space and postcolonial approaches, Dr. Ajer breaks new ground in Johannine studies, a new terrain that will yield much fruit. The new understandings of space provide a key with which we may unlock more of the mysteries of the Fourth Gospel, as Ajer here demonstrates with powerful new discoveries and insights into John's Passion narrative. Studying and Learning in a High-Stakes World Rona F. Flippo, 2014-12-11. Designed to help middle and high school teachers as well as students new to the rigor of college, Studying and Learning in a High Stakes World incorporates test preparation into classrooms without asking teachers to teach to the test. Instead, it enables teachers to focus on course content while simultaneously providing high-quality scaffolded study strategies. Whether they are facing a high-stakes exam or merely preparing students for a chapter quiz, the strategies modeled in this book allow teachers to use tests as platforms for students' learning. This book is divided into three parts that address how to get students organized and in the right frame of mind to study, learn, and take tests: Study for essay and objective tests; Answer essay and objective questions and take tests; Studying and Learning features close learning strategies, ESL Best Practices, and alignment to the Common Core State Standards in order to help teachers make tests work for them.
