Earth Science for Civil and Environmental Engineers Richard E. Jackson, 2019-01-24 Introduces the fundamental principles of applied Earth science needed for engineering practice with case studies exercises and online solutions Reconstructing Quaternary Environments J. John Lowe, Michael Walker, 2014-10-28 This third edition of Reconstructing Quaternary Environments has been completely revised and updated to provide a new account of the history and scale of environmental changes during the Quaternary. The evidence is extremely diverse ranging from landforms and sediments to fossil assemblages and geochemical data and includes new data from terrestrial marine and ice core records. Dating methods are described and evaluated while the principles and practices of Quaternary stratigraphy are also discussed. The volume concludes with a new chapter which considers some of the key questions about the nature causes and consequences of global climatic and environmental change over a range of temporal scales. This synthesis builds on the methods and approaches described earlier in the book to show how a number of exciting ideas that have emerged over the last two decades are providing new insights into the operation of the global earth-ocean-atmosphere system and are now central to many areas of contemporary Quaternary research. This comprehensive and dynamic textbook is richly illustrated throughout with full colour figures and photographs. The book will be of interest to undergraduates, postgraduates and professionals in Earth Science, Environmental Science, Physical Geography, Geology, Botany, Zoology, Ecology, Archaeology and Anthropology.

Earth Ethics Martin-Schramm, James, Stivers, Laura, Spencer, Daniel, 2015-11-01 This valuable classroom resource explores a number of issues in social and environmental ethics and provides resources for engaging in ethical reflection about them. Nine cases explore issues like population growth, material consumption and climate change, water rights and species conservation, genetic engineering and food security in Sub-Saharan Africa, hydraulic fracturing and greenhouse gas reduction options and mountaintop coal removal, mining and fossil fuel divestment. Utilizing the tried and true case method approach pioneered by the Harvard Business School, the case studies present material in a clear and relevant fashion and allow instructors to select discrete issues for study and discussion.

Future Earth Diana Dalbotten, Gillian Roehrig, Patrick Hamilton, 2014-06-23 Earth now is dominated by both biogeophysical and anthropogenic processes as represented in these two images from a simulation of aerosols. Dust (red) from the Sahara sweeps west across the Atlantic Ocean. Sea salt (blue) rises into the atmosphere from winds over the North Atlantic and from a tropical cyclone in the Indian Ocean. Organic and black carbon (green) from biomass burning is notable over the Amazon and Southeast Asia Plumes of sulfate white from fossil fuel burning are particularly prominent over northeastern North America and East Asia If present trends of dust emissions and fossil fuel burning continues in what we call the Anthropocene epoch then we could experience high atmospheric CO₂ levels leading to unusual warming rarely experienced in Earth's history This book focuses on human influences on land ocean and the atmosphere to determine if human activities are operating within or beyond the safe zones of our planet's biological chemical and physical systems Volume highlights include Assessment of civic understanding of Earth and its future Understanding the role of undergraduate geoscience research and community driven research on the Anthropocene Effective communication of science to a broader audience that would include the public the K-12 science community or populations underrepresented in the sciences Public outreach on climate education geoscience alliance and scientific reasoning Future Earth is a valuable practical guide for scientists from all disciplines including geoscientists museum curators science educators and public policy makers

A World to Live In G. M. Woodwell, 2016-02-26 A scientist makes a powerful case that preservation of the integrity of the biosphere is a necessity and an inviolable human right A century of industrial development is the briefest of moments in the half billion years of the earth's evolution And yet our current era has brought greater changes to the earth than any period in human history The biosphere the globe's life giving envelope of air and climate has been changed irreparably In A World to Live In the distinguished ecologist George Woodwell shows that the biosphere is now a global human protectorate and that its integrity of structure and function are tied closely to the human future The earth is a living system Woodwell explains and its stability is threatened by human disruption Industry dumps its waste globally and makes a profit from it invading the global commons corporate interests overpower weak or nonexistent governmental protection to plunder the planet The fossil fuels industry offers the most dramatic example of environmental destruction disseminating the heat trapping gases that are now warming the earth and changing the climate forever The assumption that we can continue to use fossil fuels and adapt to climate disruption Woodwell argues is a ticket to catastrophe But Woodwell points the way toward a solution We must respect the full range of life on earth not species alone but their natural communities of plant and animal life that have built and still maintain the biosphere We must recognize that the earth's living systems are our heritage and that the preservation of the integrity of a finite biosphere is a necessity and an inviolable human right

Paul J. Crutzen and the Anthropocene: A New Epoch in Earth's History Susanne Benner, Gregor Lax, Paul J. Crutzen, Ulrich Pöschl, Jos Lelieveld, Hans Günter Brauch, 2022-01-01 This book outlines the development and perspectives of the Anthropocene concept by Paul J Crutzen and his colleagues from its inception to its implications for the sciences humanities society and politics The main text consists primarily of articles from peer reviewed scientific journals and other scholarly sources It comprises selected articles on the Anthropocene published by Paul J Crutzen and a selection of related articles mostly but not exclusively by colleagues with whom he collaborated closely In the year 2000 Nobel Laureate Paul J Crutzen proposed the

Anthropocene concept as a new epoch in Earth's history Comprehensive collection of articles on the Anthropocene by Paul J Crutzen and his colleagues Unique primary research literature and Crutzen's comprehensive bibliography Paul Crutzen's scientific investigations into human influences on atmospheric chemistry and physics the climate and the Earth system leading to the conception of the Anthropocene Reflections on the Anthropocene and its implications Bibliometric review of the spread of the use of the Anthropocene concept in the Natural and Social Sciences Humanities and Law The Semantic Web in Earth and Space Science. Current Status and Future Directions T. Narock, P. Fox, 2015-07-14 The geosciences are one of the fields leading the way in advancing semantic technologies This book continues the dialogue and feedback between the geoscience and semantic web communities Increasing data volumes within the geosciences makes it no longer practical to copy data and perform local analysis Hypotheses are now being tested through online tools that combine and mine pools of data This evolution in the way research is conducted is commonly referred to as e Science As e Science has flourished the barriers to free and open access to data have been lowered and the need for semantics has been heightened As the volume complexity and heterogeneity of data resources grow geoscientists are creating new capabilities that rely on semantic approaches Geoscience researchers are actively working toward a research environment of software tools and interfaces to data archives and services with the goals of full scale semantic integration beginning to take shape The members of this emerging semantic e Science community are increasingly in need of semantic based methodologies tools and infrastructure A feedback system between the geo and computational sciences is forming Advances in knowledge modeling logic based hypothesis checking semantic data integration and knowledge discovery are leading to advances in scientific domains which in turn are validating semantic approaches and pointing to new research directions We present mature semantic applications within the geosciences and stimulate discussion on emerging challenges and new research directions

Knight, 2016-04-14 For decades experts and the public have been at odds over the nature and magnitude of risks and how they should be mitigated through policy Experts argue that the fears of the public are irrational and that public policy should be based on sound science The public on the other hand is skeptical of experts and believe policy should represent their interests How do policy analysts make sense of these competing views Science Risk and Policy answers this question by examining how people evaluate evidence how science is conducted and how a multi disciplinary framework to risk can inform policy by bridging the gap between experts and the public This framework is then applied to four case studies pesticides genetically engineered foods climate change and nuclear power By tracing the history of the science policies and regulations and evaluating arguments made about these risks Andrew J Knight provides a guide to understand how experts and the public view risks The employment on Offshore Drilling Rigs COMPLETE eBook Petrogav International Oil & Gas Training Center,2020-07-02 This course covers aspects like HSE Process Mechanical Electrical and Instrumentation Control that will enable you to apply for any position in the Oil and Gas Industry The job interview is probably the most important step you will take in your job search journey Because it s always important to be prepared to respond effectively to the questions that employers typically ask at a job interview Petrogav International has prepared this eBooks that will help you to get a job in oil and gas industry As a BONUS this eBook contains web addresses to 304 video movies for a better understanding of the technological process and 187 web addresses to recruitment companies where you may apply for a job

Supercontinent Cycles Through Earth History Z.X. Li,D.A.D. Evans,J.B. Murphy,2016-05-20 The supercontinent cycle hypothesis attributes planetary scale episodic tectonic events to an intrinsic self organizing mode of mantle convection governed by the buoyancy of continental lithosphere that resists subduction during the closure of old ocean basins and the consequent reorganization of mantle convection cells leading to the opening of new ocean basins Characteristic timescales of the cycle are typically 500 to 700 million years Proposed spatial patterns of cyclicity range from hemispheric introversion to antipodal extroversion to precisely between those end members orthoversion Advances in our understanding can arise from theoretical or numerical modelling primary data acquisition relevant to continental reconstructions and spatiotemporal correlations between plate kinematics geodynamic events and palaeoenvironmental history The palaeogeographic record of supercontinental tectonics on Earth is still under development The contributions in this Special Publication provide snapshots in time of these investigations and indicate that Earth s palaeogeographic record incorporates elements of all three end member spatial patterns Atlas of Submarine Glacial Landforms J.A. Dowdeswell,M. Canals,M. Jakobsson,B.J.

Todd,E.K. Dowdeswell,K. Hogan ,2016-12-16 New geophysical techniques multibeam echo sounding and 3D seismics have revolutionized high resolution imaging of the modern seafloor and palaeo shelf surfaces in Arctic and Antarctic waters generating vast quantities of data and novel insights into sedimentary architecture and past environmental conditions The Atlas of Submarine Glacial Landforms is a comprehensive and timely summary of the current state of knowledge of these high latitude glacier influenced systems The Atlas presents over 180 contributions describing illustrating and discussing the full variability of landforms found on the high latitude glacier influenced seafloor from fjords and continental shelves to the continental slope rise and deep sea basins beyond The distribution and geometry of these submarine landforms provide key information on past ice sheet extent and the direction and nature of ice flow and dynamics The papers discuss individual seafloor landforms landform assemblages and entire landsystems from relatively mild to extreme glacial marine climatic settings and on timescales from the modern margins of tidewater glaciers through Quaternary examples to ancient glaciations in the Late Ordovician
