Committee on Offshore Wind Energy Turbine Structural and Operating Safety, 2011-09-02 The U S Department of the Interior's Bureau of Ocean Energy Management Regulation and Enforcement BOEMRE is responsible for the orderly safe and environmentally responsible development of offshore renewable energy on the outer continental shelf OCS The Committee on Offshore Wind Energy Turbine Structural and Operating Safety that authored this report was tasked with reviewing BOEMRE's proposed approach to overseeing the design of offshore wind turbines for structural integrity The committee was asked to review the applicability and adequacy of standards and practices that could be used for the design fabrication and installation of offshore wind turbines It was also asked to review the role of third party certified verification agents CVAs and the expertise and qualifications needed to carry out the role of a CVA The committee's findings are presented in the following chapters 1 Introduction 2 Offshore Wind Technology and Status 3 Standards and Practices 4 A Risk Informed Approach to Performance Assurance 5 Role of Third Party Oversight and Certified Verification Agents 6 Qualifications Needed by Certified Verification Agents and 7 Summary of Key Findings and Recommendations Pub desc      Structural Integrity of Offshore Wind Turbines Transportation Research Board, 2011-09-02 TRB Special Report 305 Structural Integrity of Offshore Wind Turbines Oversight of Design Fabrication and Installation explores the U S Department of the Interior's Bureau of Ocean Energy Management Regulation and Enforcement BOEMRE approach to overseeing the development and safe operation of wind turbines on the outer continental shelf with a focus on structural safety The committee that developed the report recommended that in order to facilitate the orderly development of offshore wind energy and support the stable economic development of this nascent industry the United States needs a set of clear requirements that can accommodate future design development The report recommends that BOEMRE develop a set of requirements that establish goals and objectives with regard to structural integrity environmental performance and energy generation The committee found that the risks to human life and the environment associated with offshore wind farms are substantially lower than for other industries such as offshore oil and gas because offshore wind farms are primarily unmanned and contain minimal quantities of hazardous substances This finding implies that an approach with significantly less regulatory oversight may be taken for offshore wind farms Under this approach industry would be responsible for proposing sets of standards guidelines and recommended practices that meet the performance requirements established by BOEMRE The domestic industry can build on standards guidelines and practices developed in Europe where the offshore wind energy is further developed but will have to fill gaps such as the need to address wave and wind loadings encountered in hurricanes The report also includes findings and recommendations about the role that certified verification agents third party evaluators can play in reviewing packages of standards and project specific proposals     Design in Offshore Structures ,1983     Code of Federal Regulations ,2011
