

The following sample essay has been prepared to help answer some of the questions and problems that you may have when writing your first term paper. It includes explanations and illustrations of format, quotations, footnotes and bibliography, using the style set out in the 7th edition of A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations by Kate Turabian, a dissertation secretary at the University of Chicago for 30 years.<sup>1</sup> (For purposes of teaching Turabian Style in this essay, most of the footnoted examples are fabricated.)

For basic information about Turabian Style, it is almost identical to Chicago Style, which is why the both styles are often referred to in combination. An important feature of Turabian style is that references can be placed either in the text of your research paper (parenthetical citing, as in MLA) or as footnotes/endnotes. Whatever style students choose, that style must be used consistently and a bibliography is always included. This use of footnotes and/or endnotes in combination with parenthetical referencing separates Turabian Style from many styles of writing formal papers. (Papers that use Chicago Style typically are more formal papers designed for publication. However, Turabian Style is flexible enough to work with almost any type of paper, including a thesis or dissertation.)

The title (or cover) page is an important page of the essay because it is the first impression that an instructor has of a student's work. Although Turabian Style requires a basic format for the title page, follow the professor's guidelines. However, all information on the title page needs to be accurate. Check for correct spelling and placement of the information that should be included on the title page. The font size and type is 14-pt Times New Roman, as or designated by the professor. Single space the lines on the title page. All words of the title of the

Turabian Style Sample Papers:

A Handbook for Preparing Graduate Papers in Music J. David Boyle, Richard K. Fiese, Nancy Zvac, 2004 The purpose of Preparing Graduate Papers in Music is to provide music students with some guidelines to assist in the preparation of these essays, dissertations, and other papers that may be written as part of their graduate program. This manual includes information and examples for preparing such papers and is designed specifically to assist students in writing about music and in documenting references to music, music notation, recordings, and other musical resources. It is intended to complement guidelines provided by a university's graduate office and the two style manuals most used by music students: A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations (Turabian, 1996) and the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA, 1994).

The International Student's Guide to Writing a Research Paper Janine Carlock, Maeva Eberhardt, Jaime Horst, Peter Kolenich, 2017-06-13 The International Student's Guide to Writing a Research Paper is a reference text for undergraduate students and those in ESL or bridge courses who are writing a research paper for the first time. This book is partly an update of Writing a Research Paper by Lionel Menasche (1998) and partly a companion to The ESL Writer's Handbook. Each section of the book includes a discrete task called a Building Block, which requires students to apply the skills learned toward the development of their own paper. This step-by-step approach allows students to construct knowledge as they become more familiar with the process, making writing a research paper a less intimidating task. Special features: This guide uses simple, direct language for those for whom writing a research paper is new. Most example writing is from international students in an ESL program or first-year writing class, including two sample papers: one in APA and one in MLA. A section on responding to instructor feedback provides students with the tools to read and understand comments and use them to improve the first draft. A subsection is dedicated to constructing clear and cohesive paragraphs and sentences. The guide includes citation and style examples in MLA 8th edition.

A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, Seventh Edition Kate L. Turabian, 2009-08-14 Dewey Bellow Strauss Friedman The University of Chicago has been the home of some of the most important thinkers of the modern age. But perhaps no name has been spoken with more respect than Turabian. The dissertation secretary at Chicago for decades, Kate Turabian literally wrote the book on the successful completion and submission of the student paper. Her Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, created from her years of experience with research projects across all fields, has sold more than seven million copies since it was first published in 1937. Now with this seventh edition, Turabian's Manual has undergone its most extensive revision, ensuring that it will remain the most valuable handbook for writers at every level, from first-year undergraduates to dissertation writers apprehensively submitting final manuscripts to senior scholars who may be old hands at research and writing but less
