Meeting the Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun,2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves. The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8. Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district. Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects. This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all. It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios, exhibitions and student learning objectives. In each case issues related to design and development, psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective. The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment. Edited by leading experts, these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field. History as Art, Art as History Dipti Desai, Jessica Hamlin, Rachel Mattson, 2009-10-16. History as Art. Art as History pioneers methods for using contemporary works of art in the social studies and art classroom to enhance an understanding of visual culture and history. The fully illustrated interdisciplinary teaching toolkit provides an invaluable pedagogical resource complete with theoretical background and practical suggestions for teaching U.S. history topics through close readings of both primary sources and provocative works of contemporary art. History as Art. Art as History is an experientially grounded, practically minded pedagogical investigation meant to push teachers and students to think critically without sacrificing their ability to succeed in a standards driven educational climate. Amid the educational debate surrounding rigid, unimaginative tests, classroom scripts and bureaucratic mandates, this innovative book insists on an alternate set of educational priorities that promotes engagement with creative and critical thinking. Features include: A thought provoking series of framing essays and interviews with contemporary artists address the pivotal questions that arise when one attempts to think about history and contemporary visual art together. An 8 page full color insert of contemporary art plus over 50 black and white illustrations throughout. A Teaching Toolkit covering major themes in U.S. history provides an archive of suggested primary documents plus discussion suggestions and activities for putting theory into practice. Teaching activities keyed to the social studies and art curricula and teaching standards. Resources include annotated bibliographies for further study and lists of arts and media organizations. This sophisticated yet accessible textbook is a must read resource for any teacher looking to draw upon visual and historical texts in their teaching and to develop innovative curriculum and meaningful student engagement.

World History Teaching in Asia Shingo Minamizuka, 2019-03-30

World History Teaching in Asia is the first broad survey of the content and approaches used to teach world history in secondary schools and colleges in Asia The collection has been crafted by scholars and educators whose goal was to shed light on the importance of history education and to foster understanding of and between Asian countries These essays show how the teaching of world history in Asian countries has developed since World War II with many interesting parallels including the issue of Eurocentrism but also distinctive national trends and considerable changes over time At a time when many Asian countries are making great strides in education this study of history education in Asia will be of real interest to educators history scholars and policy makers worldwide

More Tools for Teaching Social Skills in School Midge Odermann Mougey, Denise Pratt, Jo C. Dillon, 2008-09 Social skills include expressing empathy going to an assembly accepting defeat or loss using anger control strategies responding to inappropriate talk touch completing homework being prepared for class accepting winning appropriately and more

Teaching the Discipline of History in an Age of Standards Jennifer Clark, Adele Nye, 2018-06-08 This book discusses the discipline standards of History in Australian universities in order to help historians understand the Threshold Learning Outcomes and to assist in their practical application It is divided into two sections The first offers a scholarly exploration of contemporary issues in history teaching while the second section discusses each of the Threshold Learning Outcomes and provides real world examples of quality pedagogical practice Although the book focuses on the discipline of history in Australia other subjects and other countries are facing the same dilemmas As such it includes chapters that address the international context and bring an international perspective to the engagement with discipline standards The innovation and leadership of this scholarly community represents a new stage in the transformation and renewal of history teaching
