My African Journey Winston Churchill, 1909 My African Journey In the evening a cooler crisper air is blowing The humid coast lands with their glories and their fevers have been left behind At an altitude of four thousand feet we begin to laugh at the Equator The jungle becomes forest not less luxuriant but distinctly different in character The olive replaces the palm The whole aspect of the land is more friendly more familiar and no less fertile After Makindu Station the forest ceases The traveller enters upon a region of grass Immense fields of green pasture withered and whitened at this season by waiting for the rains intersected by streams and watercourses densely wooded with dark fir looking trees and gorse looking scrub and relieved by bold upstanding bluffs and ridges comprise the new panorama And here is presented the wonderful and unique spectacle which the Uganda Railway offers to the European The plains are crowded with wild animals From the windows of the carriage the whole zoological gardens can be seen disporting itself Herds of antelope and gazelle troops of zebras sometimes four or five hundred together watch the train pass with placid assurance or scamper a hundred yards farther away and turn again Many are quite close to the line With field glasses one can see that it is the same everywhere and can distinguish long files of black wildebeeste and herds of red kongoni the hartebeeste of South Africa and wild ostriches walking sedately in twos and threes and every kind of small deer and gazelle The zebras come close enough for their stripes to be admired with the naked eye We have arrived at Simba The Place of Lions and there is no reason why the passengers should not see one or even half a dozen stalking across the plain respectfully observed by lesser beasts Indeed in the early days it was the custom to stop and sally out upon the royal vermin whenever met with and many the lion that has been carried back to the tender in triumph before the guard or driver or any one else could think of timetables or the block system or the other inconvenient restrictions of a regular service Farther up the line in the twilight of the evening we saw not a hundred yards away a dozen giraffes lollopping off among scattered trees and at Nakuru six yellow lions walked in leisurely mood across the rails in broad daylight Only the rhinoceros is absent or rarely seen and after one of his species had measured his strength unsuccessfully against an engine he has confined himself morosely to the river beds and to the undisturbed solitudes which at a distance of two or three miles everywhere engulf the Uganda Railway Our carriage stopped upon a siding at Simba Station for three days in order that we might more closely examine the local fauna One of the best ways of shooting game in this part of the world and certainly the easiest is to get a trolley and run up and down the line The 11 animals are so used to the passage of trains and natives along the one great highway that they do not as a rule take much notice unless the train or trolley stops when their suspicions are at once aroused The sportsmen should therefore slip off without allowing the vehicle or the rest of the party to stop even for a moment and in this way he will frequently find himself within two hundred and fifty or three hundred yards of his quarry when the result will be governed solely by his skill or want of skill with the rifle

Transcultural Realities Virginia H. Milhouse, Molefi Kete Asante, Peter O.
