Languages of Belief and Early Sociology in Nineteenth-Century France Michiel Van Dam, 2024-09-27 This book presents a new reading of the history of French social science and religion through an investigation of early sociology's techniques for narrating the category of belief The author argues that by looking at the history of social sciences in this manner we gain a deeper understanding of both our present debates on post-secularity as well as our modernist past both of which were thoroughly shaped by their reflections and critiques on the notion of belief yet failed to enter into any sort of meaningful communication with each other This book seeks to rectify this failure by introducing the concept of belief languages an anthropological framework designed to historicize different discussions on belief and allow for their comparative description and analysis

Japanese New Religions in Global Perspective Peter B. Clarke, Peter B. Clarke, 2013-11-05 Since the 1960s virtually every part of the world has seen the arrival and establishment of Japanese new religious movements a process that has followed quickly on the heels of the most active period of Japanese economic expansion overseas This book examines the nature and extent of this religious expansion outside Japan

Alfred Loisy and the Making of History of Religions Annelies Lannoy, 2020-08-10 This monograph studies the professionalization of History of religions as an academic discipline in late 19th and early 20th century France and Europe Its common thread is the work of the French Modernist priest and later Professor of History of religions at the Collège de France Alfred Loisy 1857-1940 who participated in many of the most topical debates among French and international historians of religions Unlike his well-studied Modernist theology Loisy's writings on comparative religion and his rich interactions with famous scholars like F. Cumont, M. Mauss or J. G. Frazer remain largely unknown This monograph is the first to paint a comprehensive picture of his career as a historian of religions before and after his excommunication in 1908 Through a contextual analysis of publications by Loisy and contemporaries and a large corpus of private correspondence it illuminates the scientification of the discipline between 1890 1920 and its deep entanglement with religion politics and society Particular attention is also given to the role of national and transnational scholarly networks and the way they controlled the theoretical and institutional frameworks for studying the history of religions
