Well Met Rachel Lee Rubin, 2012-11-19 Rubin deftly reveals the impact the Faire has had on style craft performance and pop culture over the past fifty years in a one of a kind study David Ossman member of the Firesign Theatre Beginning with the chaotic communal moment of the Renaissance Faire's founding and early development in the 1960s through its incorporation as a major family friendly leisure site in the 2000s Well Met tells the story of the thinkers artists clowns mimes and others performers who make the Faire Well Met approaches the Faire from the perspective of labor education aesthetics business the opposition it faced and the key figures involved Drawing upon vibrant interview material and deep archival research Rachel Lee Rubin reveals the way the faires established themselves as a pioneering and highly visible counter cultural referendum on how we live now our family and sexual arrangements our relationship to consumer goods and our corporate entertainments In order to understand the meaning of the faire to its devoted participants both workers and visitors Rubin has compiled a dazzling array of testimony from extensive conversations with Faire founder Phyllis Patterson to interviews regarding the contemporary scene with performers crafters booth workers and playtrons Well Met pays equal attention to what came out of the faire the transforming gifts bestowed by the faire's innovations and experiments upon the broader American culture the underground press of the 1960s and 1970s experimentation with ethnic musical instruments and styles in popular music the craft revival and various forms of immersive theater are all connected back to their roots in the faire Original intrepid and richly illustrated Well Met puts the Renaissance Faire back at the historical center of the American counterculture

Modern Genocide Paul R. Bartrop, Steven Leonard Jacobs, 2014-12-17 This massive four volume work provides students with a close examination of 10 modern genocides enhanced by documents and introductions that provide additional historical and contemporary context for learning about and understanding these tragic events Modern Genocide The Definitive Resource and Document Collection spans nearly 1 700 pages presented in four volumes and includes more than 120 primary source documents making it ideal for high school and beginning college students studying modern genocide as part of a larger world history curriculum The coverage for each modern genocide from Herero to Darfur begins with an introductory essay that helps students conceptualize the conflict within an international context and enables them to better understand the complex role genocide has played in the modern world There are hundreds of entries on atrocities organizations individuals and other aspects of genocide each written to serve as a springboard to meaningful discussion and further research The coverage of each genocide includes an introductory overview an explanation of the causes consequences perpetrators victims and bystanders the international reaction a timeline of events an Analyze section that poses tough questions for readers to consider and provides scholarly pro and con responses to these historical conundrums and reference entries This integrated examination of genocides occurring in the modern era not only presents an unprecedented research tool on the subject but also challenges the readers to go back and examine other events historically and consequently consider important questions about human society in the present and the future

Early Islamic Iran Edmund Herzig, Sarah Stewart, 2011-11-08 How did Iran remain distinctively Iranian in the centuries which followed the Arab Conquest How did it retain its cultural distinctiveness after the displacement of Zoroastrianism state religion of the Persian empire by Islam This latest volume in The Idea of Iran series traces that critical moment in Iranian history which followed the transformation of ancient traditions during the country's conversion and initial Islamic period Distinguished contributors who include the late Oleg Grabar Roy Mottahedeh Alan Williams and Said Amir Arjomand discuss from a variety of literary artistic religious and cultural perspectives the years around the end of the first millennium CE when the political strength of the Abbasid Caliphate was on the wane and when the eastern lands of the Islamic empire began to be taken on a fresh Persianate or Perso-Islamic character One of the paradoxes of this era is that the establishment throughout the eastern Islamic territories of new Turkish dynasties coincided with the genesis and spread into Central and South Asia of vibrant new Persian language and literatures Exploring the nature of this paradox separate chapters engage with ideas of kingship authority and identity and their fascinating expression through the written word architecture and the visual arts
