

Making Connections

A good reader uses their prior knowledge and experiences to connect with a text.

These connections help readers to build a stronger, deeper understanding of a text.

There are three main types of connections a reader can make with a text and:

Text to text

Text to self

Text to world

Text to Self Connections

Text to self connections are links a reader can make between the text they are reading and their own life experiences. These connections might include something you have seen or done before, something you have felt or something you plan on doing in the future.

Some questions you could ask yourself to help make text to self connections include:

- What does this story remind me of in my life?
- How are my experiences like the ones in the characters in the story?
- How is this story like ones I've read before?

Here are some useful sentence starters to help you:

- This story reminds me of...
- I can relate to the character because...
- When this character... it was just like when I...

One More Train to Ride Cliff (Oats) Williams, 2009-09-18 Drawn from intimate interviews with 14 modern day steel rail nomads One More Train to Ride provides a revealing picture of today's American hobo. Interspersed with their stories are original poems and songs echoing the ancient lyricism and loneliness of life on the road. Their connections with the past make the experiences of these hoboes even more striking as they ride freight trains and jungle up in hobo camps light years away from the 21st century cyberworld yet touching the very core of American freedom and individualism. Cliff Williams skillfully elicits details of family background, motives and clear insights into the daily life and philosophy of the modern hobo. With its evocative link to the past One More Train to Ride continues a long tradition of books on hobo oral history including Nels Anderson's The Hobo 1923 and Thomas Minehan's Boy and Girl Tramps of America 1934.

Super Spellers Starter Sets Mark Weakland, 2019 Because spelling is for reading it is important to teach spelling not merely assign it. With Super Spellers Starter Sets you have everything you need to bring to life the wisdom of Super Spellers: Seven Steps to Transforming Your Spelling Instruction. Building on his research-based approach, Mark Weakland provides practical hands-on tools to create spelling centers, teach spelling strategies that help children solve spelling challenges, and introduce everything from short vowel patterns to multi-syllable Greek and Latin-based words. This teacher resource provides a wealth of material all adaptable to match the needs of your students. Seven spelling strategy lessons every student needs to know. More than 20 lessons for different grade levels. Pointers, differentiated word lists, sorting masters, and correlating word ladders. Six must-have spelling centers for nurturing independent practice. A resource-rich appendix. With these resources, your students will notice and remember spelling patterns and words and most importantly, make connections between spelling and their reading and writing lives.

Science Education Through Multiple Literacies Joseph Krajcik, Barbara Schneider, 2022-10-18 Science Education Through Multiple Literacies explores how the use of project-based learning in elementary science education fosters a lifelong scientific mindset in students. The book provides educators with the teaching practices to help students develop an overall science literacy that aligns with Next Generation Science Standards. Editors Joseph Krajcik and Barbara Schneider and the book's contributors offer a comprehensive overview of the multifaceted approach to science learning. Multiple Literacies in Project-Based Learning. ML-PBL interweaves scientific ideas and practices, language literacy, and mathematical thinking. ML-PBL supports the teaching of science by paralleling what scientists do: it engages students and their teachers in investigating real-world questions, constructing models, and using evidence to evaluate claims. The book presents compelling case studies of ML-PBL how teachers use this approach and how the ML PBL transforms the classroom into an environment that builds and supports academic and student social emotional learning Representing both urban and suburban schools the case studies include classroom observations student and teacher interviews and student artifacts to illustrate how to make science relevant in students lives Krajcik and Schneider note that application of ML PBL requires intentional instructional practices and new ways of thinking about what it means to learn Easing this challenge the editors equip elementary science teachers with curricular resources including high quality instructional materials professional learning exercises and formative assessments Science Education Through Multiple Literacies provides the necessary elements to transform science teaching and learning so that students learn the skills to navigate with confidence through our complex world Boys' Life ,1989-08 Boys Life is the official youth magazine for the Boy Scouts of America Published since 1911 it contains a proven mix of news nature sports history fiction science comics and Scouting What to Do When You're Sad & Lonely (EasyRead Super Large 18pt Edition) , Radio News ,1926 Some issues 1943 July 1948 include separately paged and numbered section called Radio electronic engineering edition called Radionics edition in 1943 Integrating Curricula With Multiple Intelligences Robin J.
