Indian Air Force in India's National Defence 2032 ,2014-06-15 The Indian Air Force IAF from a humble beginning in 1932 with four Wapiti aircraft six Indian officers and 22 hawaii sepoys has traversed a long journey and crossed noteworthy milestones to become the fourth largest air force in the world In the past 81 years while facing several limitations challenges the IAF has met all the national defence requirements and made several strategic contributions The 1948 Kashmir airlift Tangail paradrop heli bridging in East Pakistan and many other achievements are historic examples of its sterling performance The only war independent India has lost was the one in which the IAF was not employed in a combat role With growing economic interests and national aspirations expanding interests well beyond our territorial boundaries and prevailing internal security challenges India s national defence requirements are also increasing Reliance of sovereign nation states on aerospace power is essentially growing The first Gulf War was a monumental turning point in the war time employment of aerospace power Ever since the significance of aerospace power in war crisis and peace time has been gaining ascendancy Kosovo and Libya are the two pertinent examples of the allies virtually relying on aerospace power without committing any soldiers on the ground Scrutiny of the emerging global and national trends suggests that employment of aerospace assets as well as the nation's expectation from the IAF will continue to rise Alongside there is an unplanned fall in flying platforms weapon systems and pilot strength of the IAF This study is an attempt to analyse the history of the IAF in war as well as other than war operations to appreciate the emerging trends in geopolitics aerospace technology and doctrine and to identify the likely challenges the IAF would be facing in the next two decades and beyond A roadmap for transformation of the national security framework the indigenous aerospace industry and the IAF has also been suggested

On the Edge of Earth Steven Lambakis, 2013-12-06 For millennia the rituals of death and remembrance have been fixed by time and location but in the twenty first century grieving has become a virtual phenomenon Today the dead live on through social media profiles memorial websites and saved voicemails that can be accessed at any time This dramatic cultural shift has made the physical presence of death secondary to the psychological experience of mourning Virtual Afterlives investigates emerging popular bereavement traditions Author Candi K Cann examines new forms of grieving and evaluates how religion and the funeral industry have both contributed to mourning rituals despite their limited ability to remedy grief As grieving traditions and locations shift people are discovering new ways to memorialize their loved ones Bodiless and spontaneous memorials like those at the sites of the shootings in Aurora and Newtown and the Boston Marathon bombing as well as roadside memorials car decals and tattoos are contributing to a new bereavement language that crosses national boundaries and culture specific perceptions of death Examining mourning practices in the United States in comparison to the broader background of practices in Asia and Latin America Virtual Afterlives seeks to resituate death as a part of life and mourning as a unifying process that helps to create identities and narratives for communities As technology changes the ways in which we experience death this engaging study explores the culture of bereavement and the ways in which it too is being significantly transformed
