Critical Ancient World Studies Mathura Umachandran, Marchella Ward, 2023-12-27 This volume explores and elucidates critical ancient world studies CAWS a new model for the study of the ancient world operating critically setting itself against a long history of a discipline formulated to naturalise a hierarchical white supremacist origin story for an imagined modern West CAWS is a methodology for the study of antiquity that shifts away from the assumptions and approaches of the discipline known as classical studies and or classics Although it seeks to reckon with the discipline s colonial history it is not simply the application of decolonial theory or the search to uncover subaltern narratives in a subject that has special relevance to the privileged and powerful Rather it dismantles the structures of knowledge that have led to this privileging and questions the categories ideas themes narratives and epistemological structures that have been deemed objective and essential within the inherited discipline of classics The contributions in this book by an international group of researchers offer a variety of situated embodied perspectives on the question of how to imagine a more critical discipline rather than a unified single view The volume is divided into four parts Critical Epistemologies Critical Philologies Critical Time and Critical Space and Critical Approaches and uses these as spaces to propose disciplinary transformation Critical Ancient World Studies The Case for Forgetting Classics is a must read for scholars and practitioners teaching in the field of classical studies and the breadth of examples also makes it an invaluable resource for anyone working on the ancient world or on confronting Eurocentrism within other disciplines The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

Tastes We Live By Marco Bagli, 2021-10-25 Taste is considered one of the lowest sensory modalities and the most difficult to express in language Recently an increasing body of research in perception language and in Food Studies has been sparking new interest and new perspectives on the importance of this sense Merging anthropology evolutionary physiology and philosophy this book investigates the language of Taste in English and its relationship with our embodied minds In the first part of the book the author explores the semantic dimensions of Taste terms with a usage based approach With the application of experimental protocols Bagli enquires their possible organization in a radial network and calculates the Salience index of gustatory terms in both American and British English The second part of the book is an overview of the metaphorical extensions that motivate the polysemy of Taste terms with the aid of corpus analysis methods and various texts This book is the first to review systematically and in a usage based perspective the role of the sensory domain of Taste in English showing a more complicated picture and suggesting that its under representation and difficulty of encoding does not correspond to lack of importance
